THE TRANSVAAL BOW.

A Less Warlike Feeling in England and Germany.

STATEMENT FROM CECIL RHODES.

He Declares That England Is Entitled to American Sympathy in the Present Crisis. Dr. Jameson and His Followers Will Probably be Deported.

LONDON, Jan. 13 -Interest in the Transvaal question in its immediate bearings has revived to an appreciable extent, while the incidental straining of relations be-tween Great Britain and Germany, which so completely placed the Boers in the back ground of the picture for a time, has in its turn receded, but by no means disappeared. There is little apprehension of war with Germany, over the present complication at least, and the British public has a reassuring sense that if there is to be a war England is right ready for it. The prompt and efficient measures of the naval authorities, and the formidable show of strength that is the result, gives John Bull a feeling of confidence.

There are no further explicit announce ments of a movement looking to an alliance of the powers against England. Nevertheless it is keenly perceived by the public that the sentiment displayed by the German government has a far whiler bea-Ing than the present di-pute in the Trausplications on questions of conflicting in-

Saturday's cabinet councils remains largely a subject of speculation, and whatever decisions may have been taken are sedulously guarded as state secrets, and the greatest care taken to avoid publicity.

Mr. William H. Mercer, private secre-tary to Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, said last night to a representative of the Associated Press that the secretary had no further telegrams to communicate to the public which had been received from South Africa. The visit of the Prince of Wales to the colonial office on Saturday, he said, just when several of the directors of the Chartered South Africa company were there, was purely an accidental coincidence. His royal highness called, he said, to show his interest, and had made some kind remarks in recognition of Secretary Chamberlain's labors

This explanation is hardly likely to satisfy the public, in view of the repeated statements published that the directorship of the Duke of Fife, husband of Prin-cess Louise of Wales, in the Chartered South Africa company, is a subject of con-cern to the royal family, and especially to

It is understood that the difficulty over the manner of disposal of Dr. Jameson's followers was settled on Saturday, the Transvaal government simply stipulating that the rank and file of the Jameson ex-pedition should be deported from South According to the Transvaal law, the punishment for treason is banishment and a large fine. It is now believed here that President Kruger has demanded the abrogation of the London convention, which provides for the suzerainty of Great Britain over the Transvaul, as the price of sparing Dr. Jameson's life. A dispatch received from sources sympathetic with the Transvaul government in Johannesburg asserts that the plot for Dr. Jameson's raid and the coincident upris-ing of the subsequent uprising of the Uitlanders was the most shameful in history. The blackest part of the plot, the dispatch asserts, was the intention of the agents of the Chartered South Africa company to set loose the savages to invade the Transvaal from all points and to kill every white man. It had been arranged that all over South Africa provision stations should be erected on the lines of the route, and the points had been fixed. The object was to destroy Pretoris and to present England with a fait accompli before any interference could reach them. of Pretoris and of the Rand made by military men have, it is said, been seized.

A dispatch received by the Chartered meeting of the English colony, bankers and merchants, there was the declaration of a unanimous desire to obey the imperial government. The public, it was asserted, was fully under control.

A dispatch to The Times from Johannesburg says that the correspondent there believes that the number of arms is overrated. "Had there been 20,000, as was be-lieved," the dispatch continues, "it is impossible to suppose that Johannesburg would have capitulated. It is more probable that concessions will be granted to the Uitlanders by spontaneous act of the government than by formal agreement." A Pretoria dispatch to The Times also declares the real fact to be that there are only 2,100 rifles and three Maxim guns at Johannesburg.

A Pretoria dispatch says: The rank and file of the prisoners who composed Dr. Jameson's raiding party have started for Natal. Dr. Jameson and his officers re-main here, but it is expected that they will leave shortly for deportation to Eng-

A review was held on Saturday at Krugersdorp of 6,000 burghers who have been in the field. They were shown to be a fine force, well mounted and armed, and in an inimated state of mind.
