CAMPOS LEAVES HAVANA

The Unsuccessful Spanish General Going Back to Spain.

IMPORTANT BATTLE REPORTED.

How Two Thousand Insurgents Were Defeated by Less Than Half Their Number, According to Spanish Reports—President Cleveland Ready to Recognize Cuba.

HAVANA, Jan. 21.—According to the advices from the front Antonio Maceo has passed eastward south of Alquízar, in the province of Havana, pushing on for Guira Melena and Quivican, while Maximino Gomez is said to have pushed on eastward to the borders of the province of Havana and Matanzas, apparently going in the direction of the swamp land of the Gran Ciénaga, Occidental de Zapata.

Colonel Molania has notified the authorities here that the insurgent bands commanded by Nunez, Campote, Alvarez and Gollazo, numbering about 1,500 men, are marching in the direction of Guines. The colonel left Bolondron in the direction of Alfonso XII and had a skirmish with the insurgents, who left ten killed on the field and retired with their wounded. The troops captured three prisoners and six Remington rifles, and the enemy retreated into the swamp land south of Alfonso XII, where it is believed, from the present outlook and movements eastward of the insurgents, the enemy intends to await the arrival of the reinforcements coming west under Jose Maceo and Rabi. If all these reports are correct the vicinity of Havana should now be pretty well clear of any large force of insurgents, and the latter must be mustering in force south of Matanzas.

A dispatch from Manzanillo, in the province of Santiago de Cuba, says that Colonel Sandoval, operating along the coast with a Spanish column, has destroyed the salt mines in that vicinity, which served as a depot for the insurgents.

General Martinez Campos was accorded a splendid and effective farewell demonstration upon the occasion of his departure from Havana for Spain yesterday afternoon. His palace was filled with a throng of dignitaries, including members of the civil corporation, officers of the army and of the volunteers and the political friends of the retiring general.

At 3 o'clock he proceeded to the wharf, surrounded by a vast crowd. The troops formed an escort, and the Spanish national hymn was taken up by the multitude, who varied it with acclamations for Campos. The general went on board a yacht, which took him to the Spanish warship Alfonso Doce, lying in the harbor.

The harbor presented a scene of great animation, being crowded with all manner of craft with gay colors flying, the yellow flag of Spain giving the predominant tinge to the effect. General Martin and five members of his family were on one of the yachts which escorted the Alfonso Doce down the harbor.

Sylvester Scovel, the staff correspondent of the Pittsburgh Dispatch, who was ordered to leave Cuba by the Spanish authorities, has left Havana, but not the island. Eluding the vigilance of the Spanish and of the Spanish spies who were deputed to carry out the edict of the deportation, Mr. Scovel made a dash through the lines, and is now once more with the army of General Maximino Gomez, where, for the time being, at least, he is safe from the orders of arrest and banishment issued by the officials of Castle Mores.

The military authorities were greatly incensed by the escape of Scovel, and made every effort to prevent any information of the deed of daring leaving Havana. A brief message from another correspondent was slipped over to Florida and telegraphed from there. It reads:

"The disappearance of Sylvester Scovel from the Cuban capital is a sensation second only to the recall of General Campos. The authorities were making preparations to carry out the order of banishment when they suddenly discovered that their victim was not to be found. He had not been locked up, but was under military surveillance, and it never entered the heads of the haughty Spaniards that he would again attempt to break through the lines, which are supposed to be tightly inclose Havana. Nothing definite is known here as to the exact manner of his escape."

A battle of importance is reported to have occurred yesterday at Fairguies, only five miles south of Pinar del Rio. The column of troops commanded by Major Sanchez, numbering 800, was attacked by 2,000 insurgents under Maceo. Lieutenant Colonel San Martin, at the head of 300, came to the assistance of Sanchez, and a fierce combat was precipitated. The official account received says that the insurgents were forced to retreat, leaving thirty killed behind and carrying off 300 wounded.

It is known that Maximino Gomez and his force were last evening at San Jose de las Lajas, about the center of Havana province, so that it is evident that he has made another of his characteristic counter-marches.

Antonio Quesada, mayor of Havana, has been dismissed.

The Proclamation Ready. WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—It is learned from a trustworthy source that the United States is about to recognize the belligerence of the Cuban insurgents. There is high authority for the statement that President Cleveland was ready on Saturday to issue a proclamation recognizing the belligerence of the revolutionists, and that it was withheld on account of the announcement of the recall of General Campos. It was felt by the president that to issue a proclamation immediately on the heels of this action would be an affront to the Spanish government, and a delay of a few days was accordingly decided upon.

The Senate on Cuban Recognition. WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Senators Sherman, Morgan and Lodge, who constitute the sub-committee on Cuban affairs of the committee on foreign relations, met yesterday for consultation. There is reason for believing that the sub-committee has virtually agreed upon a resolution commending the recognition of the belligerence of the Cubans and that a report to this effect will be made to the full committee at its meeting tomorrow. It is possible that the resolution may only go to the extent of expressing sympathy for the Cuban cause, and the sub-committee is trying to keep its proceedings a close secret.

Dr. Jameson Off for Natal. LONDON, Jan. 21.—A dispatch from Capetown to The Times says: Dr. Jameson and his officers have started for the Natal border under escort. The majority of the political prisoners have been released, and in £2,000 each, but Colonel Rhodes and the other leaders remain in custody.

"I AM GLAD I AM ALIVE."

It Rings and Throbs from the Heart and Soul.

How Even a Great Scientist May be Mistaken.

This Will Possibly Throw Some Light on the Subject.

Dr. William James writing on the question, "Is life worth living," in the Journal of Ethics, says: "Suffering and hardship as a rule, do not abate the love of life. The sovereign source of melancholy is repetition."

This is not true. Suffering does abate the love of life, and the sovereign source of melancholy is nervous weakness and disease.

How many thousands of people there are to-day who can hardly bear out these facts! How many of earth's scattered millions can truly say that life is worth living! How many are there in whom the touch of melancholy is not the outgrowth of nerve or physical weakness!

Did you ever greet a man whose whole-souled smile, ruddy, beaming face and warm, pulsing hand-grasp thrilled you as he cried joyously in answer to your salutation: "I feel first-rate, I am glad I am alive!"

Did you ever greet a pale, nervous, weak individual and mark the dull, languid eyes, the lined face, the slow responding wane which scarcely came ere it disappeared, the cold, clammy hand lying like a dead thing in your grasp, while the feeble, quavering voice answers, echoing the hollow depths of melancholy within his soul: "I am feeling about the same—no use to myself or anyone else."

The first is the personification of good health, perfect digestion and sound sleep, the system aglow with buoyant spirits, the bounding pulse, the throbbing energies, the keen zest of living and of being alive.

The second is the incarnation of ill health, brain-tired, nerve weary, weak of body and enervated of mind, melancholy and dispirited with power, energies and ambition all gone.

Ill health, from whatever cause, is the breeder of weakness, melancholy and despair. Good health means love of life and enjoyment of its every pleasure. If you are a sufferer, if you are not in perfect health, if you do not thoroughly enjoy life, the first thing for you to do is to recover your health by using that great restorer and restorative, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

Mr. Andrew H. Olney, of Gilson, N. Y., speaking on this subject, says: "I was broken down with nervous and physical prostration before using Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and life was a burden. Now life is a joy and sleep is a luxury compared to it before taking Nervura. I relish my food, my nervousness has left me and so has the numbness. I wish I could shout loud enough so all the world could hear, and tell them the good this wonderful medicine has done for me."

"It has made me from a weak, trembling, nervous, irritable man, to one who feels he is on the highway to long years of health and happiness through Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and the blessing of God."

Do not fail to use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and get back your health. This is not a so-called patent medicine, but the prescription of the most successful living specialist in nervous and chronic diseases. Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th St., New York City, who can be consulted without charge, personally or by letter.

Not a few who read what Mr. Robert Bowls, of Hollands, Va., has to say below, will remember their own experience under like circumstances. "Last winter I had a gripe which left me in a low state of health. I tried numerous remedies, none of which did me any good, until I was induced to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The first bottle of it so far relieved me that I was enabled to attend to my work, and the second bottle effected a cure." For sale at 25 and 50 cents per bottle by Grockler Bros., druggists.

Dykeman, Druggist, Gatekill, N. Y., says: "Discovery is undoubtedly the best cough remedy; that he has used it in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. INVITATIONS EXTENDED

To England and Venezuela by the Venezuelan Commission.

THEIR EVIDENCE IS SOLICITED.

Should the Governments Send Representatives to Present Their Claims to the Disputed Territory Our Commissioners Will be "Grateful for Such Evidence of Good Will."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The Venezuelan commission has invited the governments of Great Britain and of Venezuela to submit to it all of the evidence in their possession to further the work of the commission, and to be represented before it by attorneys, and all of this with the reservation that such representation and appearance shall not be deemed an abandonment of any rights or position heretofore assumed. It has done this in order that the proceedings of the commission may not be said to be ex parte, that the truth may appear, and that time may be saved in the inquiry with which the commission is charged.

The invitation goes in the shape of a letter to Secretary Olney, who has made response, saying that he has transmitted a copy of the commission's views to the two governments concerned. The letter to Secretary Olney, which is signed by President Bower, was drawn up at the meeting held on Wednesday, Jan. 15, and in part as follows:

"It must have suggested itself to you, as it no doubt has to the president, that this commission bears only a remote resemblance to those tribunals of an international character of which we have had several examples in the past. They were constituted by or with the consent of the disputants themselves, and were authorized by the parties immediately concerned to pronounce a final judgment. Their functions were, therefore, confined to the exercise of judicial powers, and they might fairly expect to reach a result satisfactory to their own consciences, while it commanded the respect of those whose interests were directly involved.

"The present commission, neither by the mode of its appointment nor by the nature of its duties, may be said to be left untrammelled by this character. Whatever may be the conclusion reached, no territorial aggrandizement, nor material gain in any form, can accrue to the United States. The sole concern of our government is the peaceful solution of a controversy between two friendly powers, for the just and honorable settlement of the title to disputed territory, and the protection of the United States against any fresh acquisitions in our hemisphere on the part of any European state.

"It has seemed proper to the commission, under these circumstances, to suggest to you the expediency of calling the attention of the governments of Great Britain and Venezuela to the appointment of the commission, and explaining both its nature and object. It may be that they will see a way, entirely consistent with their own sense of international propriety, to give the commission the aid that it is no doubt in their power to furnish in the way of documentary proof. If either should deem it appropriate to designate an agent or attorney, whose duty it would be to see that no such proofs were omitted or overlooked, the commission would be grateful for such evidence of good will, and for the valuable results which would be likely to follow therefrom.

"Any act of either government in the direction here suggested might be accompanied by an express reservation as to her claims, and should not be deemed to be an abandonment, or impairment, of any position heretofore expressed. The purposes of the pending investigation are certainly hostile to none, nor can it be of advantage to any that the machinery devised by the government of the United States to secure the desired information should fail in its purpose."

The secretary's reply was short and formal, merely an acknowledgment of the receipt of the letter and a statement that he had caused copies of it to be sent to the British and Venezuelan governments. It was not said that the commission is confident of a favorable response from both parties to the boundary controversy, although the courteous terms in which the suggestion is couched, and the wide latitude of reservation permitted each party, leads to the natural hope that it will be accepted.

Meanwhile the commission will proceed on the original line of inquiry, which promises to be a slow and difficult task, trusting to the abridgement of the proceedings later on by the production of evidence by both parties, and the appearance of attorneys, when the proceedings may at once take on the form of a judicial trial, and the attainment of a conclusion be correspondingly hastened.

The first business at yesterday's meeting was the selection of officers, and first of these chosen was S. Malet-Provost, secretary of the commission. Mr. Whitmore, of Ithaca, N. Y., was selected as one of the stenographers, and Walter Moulthrop, of the District of Columbia, was appointed a messenger. A few other appointments will be made hereafter as the need for further help appears.

Seventh Victim Recovered. ST. LOUIS, Jan. 21.—Workmen searching the ruins of the Excelsior Wire and Iron company for the remains of Charles Erickson, came upon his body yesterday afternoon. He was standing upright against the north wall, pinioned down by an elevator drum. He was burned beyond recognition and his skull was crushed in. Deceased was killed in the explosion of fireworks several weeks ago. He is the seventh victim of the disaster recovered.

Cardinal Meignan Dead. TOURS, France, Jan. 21.—Cardinal Guillaume Henri Meignan, archbishop of Tours, was found dead in bed yesterday. Cardinal Meignan was born in 1817 and was created a cardinal in 1863. Of recent years he distinguished himself in his attitude towards the republic by following the conciliatory policy of Pope Leo XIII.

Almost? Distracted?

Did you EVER suffer from real nervousness? When every nerve seemed to quiver with a peculiar, creepy feeling, first in one place, and then another and all seemed finally to concentrate in a writhing jumble in the brain, and you became irritable, fretful and peevish; to be followed by an impotent, weakened condition of the nerve centers, ringing in the ears, and sleepless, miserable nights?

Dr. Miles' Nervine Restores Health..... Mrs. Estelle Searles, 110 Stoughton St., Elkhart, Ind., says: "Nervous troubles had made me nearly insane and physicians were unable to help me. My memory was almost gone and every little thing worried me until I was almost distracted. I really feared I was becoming a maniac. I imagined all sorts of evil things and would cry over nothing. I commenced taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and four bottles of this wonderful remedy completely cured me, and I am as well now as I ever was."

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold on guarantee, first bottle will benefit or money refunded.
