THE TIME FOR COMPROMISES.

A Sincere Dedre In England to Arrive at a Friendly Agreement with Ven-zuela and Thus Remove Cause for Friction with the

Loydon, Jan. 24.-A dispatch to The Times from Washington with reference to the so called jingo argument that the Venezuelans will never consent to the re-peal of the statute which forbids the resening of negotiations with Great Britain

It will never be necessary to put it so bluntly as that. The advice has been given and will, if necessary, be repeated and pro-sed. America's will will pravail, or Venezuela must seek a champion elsewhere. I am not speaking from empeture or hearing as to the pres-ence of that determination in Washing-ton. The Washington government sets more store by a suggestion of a direct settlement, but if that is barred by any unforcest ob-stacle it is held that England may now since it is half that England may now lignore the previous controversy and make a fresh and original proposal for arbitration, as if nothing had ever happened. In an editorial commenting on the foregoing The Times says: "There is a sincere desire here to arrive at a friendly agree-ment with Venezuela so as to remove all cause of controversy with the United States. Obviously England is unable to make any direct proposals to Venezuela till the obstacle of the Caracas statute has been removed. But, though no formal communications have been exchanged, the attitude of our government is perfectly well known, and a basis for negotiation is provided in our willingness to discard the Schomburgk line as a limit and only to ex-clude the settled districts from considera-

The Daily News says in an editorial:
"There could not be a more favorable opportunity for settling a dangerous dispute. Whether it is true or not that Lord Sallsbury has notified Sir Julian Paumeefote of his desire to resume provided as a set of the desire to of his desire to resume negotiations with Venezuela, it is certainly true that men of high position and great influence here are earnestly laboring for peace. Nobody can say that the overtures emanate from one side of the Atlantic alone. Putting aside a few reckless speeches and foolish arti-cles, the whole controversy has been a model of what a dispute between two great, self respecting communities should

Cleveland Denounces Davis' Resolution. Washington, Jan. 24.—President Cleveland has authorized Senator Smith, of New Jersey, to make public his opinion of New Jersey, to make public his opinion of the Davis resolution reported by the senate committee on foreign relations. The president's opinion is this: "I regard the Davis resolution as mischlevous, inopportune and unfortunate." Mr. Cloveland believes that the pulicy adopted by the senate committee strikes at the heart of the principal of arbitration. Senator Smith has prepared a resolution declaring that the United States does not intend to establish a protectorate in South America, nor to become responsible in any degree for the conduct of other American nations.
