SPECIAL COTTON DYES.

IMPOSSIBLE FOR WOOL DYE-STUFFS TO COLOR COTTON GOODS.

Beautiful and Brilliant Colors in Diamond Dyes That Will Not Fade—Simple and Easy for Home Use—Absolutely Fast.

It is an absolute impossibility to find dyes that will make fast colors on both cotton and wool goods, as the former is a vegetable product, while wool comes from an animal, and hence the two are so different that it demands a different kind of dye for each. The truth of this has been found to their sorrow by women who have tried to dye cotton with package dyes that claim to color both cotton and wool, for they make only a dingy color that soon fades.

The special fast cotton colors of Diamond Dyes, such as turkey red, brown, pink, purple, yellow, and half a dozen others, are prepared specially for cotton goods, and give colors that even washing in strong soaps and exposure to the sunlight will not fade.

It is an easy matter to dye with Diamond Dyes, as thousands of women know from practical experience, and in this way, one can make the old clothing look like new and save a great many dollars in the course of the year.

Do not risk your goods with the ordinary dyes that some dealers may urge you to buy, simply because they make more profit in selling them. There is nothing that equals the Diamond.

THE SHENANDOAH CASES.

The Court Yesterday Heard Applicants for New Licenses.

The court yesterday afternoon heard applicants for new licenses in this town. There have already been granted 138 licenses for Shenandoah, and if the ones now under consideration are granted it will make the total licensed houses 194.

John Wells wants a license in the First ward, near the factory of the Shenandoah Hat and Cap Manufacturing Co., and the company offered objections because its proximity to the factory would be injurious to the 300 boys and girls employed. The applicant's witnesses were Squire Toomey and Constable Giblin.

The School Board objected to the application of Frank Brazinski, in the First ward. Other applicants from this ward were Mrs. Catharine King, Anthony Markovitch, Mrs. Mary Mellet, Michael Conley, Mrs. Rosanna Bradley.

Max Rabinowitz, the first of his nationality, wants a license. His witnesses were Jacob Bamberger and Thomas J. Higgins. Patrick McHale, Peter White and John Wasser were also applicants. Policeman Thomas Lee applied for a license at the corner of Coal and White streets, and his witnesses were T. F. Beddall, Esq., and James Smith. Even the opposition had a good word for the applicant.

Timothy T. Lynch wants a license on South Main street, near the Lehigh Valley railroad, and J. J. Franey was an applicant for his new hotel at the corner of Jardin and Coal streets. He stated that he would put a man in charge, but will act as proprietor himself the first year.

Joseph Bendus applied for a license near the West Centre street school house; James Egan for a house at Gilbert and Cherry; Thomas J. Mahan for a wholesale liquor; John T. Snell for a house on West Coal street; Henry Appell, now living at Hoisting Creek, wants a license for the Bell property on West Coal street; and Thomas McAllister has a property at the corner of Centre and Gilbert streets erected for hotel purposes which he wants licensed.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

Proceedings at an Adjourned Meeting Held Last Evening.

The Board of Health held an adjourned meeting last evening at Maurice Morrison's hotel. It was attended by all the members, Messrs. Spalding, Miles, McHale, Malone and Morrison, Secretary Curdin and Health Officer Conry.

The Epidemic Committee reported 15 cases of contagious disease during January—6 scarlatina, 5 diphtheria and 4 of measles. There were 25 burial permits issued during the month. Nine of them were issued in non-resident cases—6 from Wm. Penn, and one each from Girardville, Lost Creek and Yatesville.

President S. C. Spalding made a lengthy and very interesting report of the State Sanitary Convention at Harrisburg, which he attended as a delegate from the local Board.

In his monthly report to the Board, Health Officer Conry called special attention to the case of the Gibsons, a Polish family residing on West Strawberry alley. He said that two children died in the house within a short time from diphtheria and he was obliged to place a watchman on duty to enforce the health laws. He found it very difficult to make the family comprehend the object and requirements of the health laws. Superintendent Whitaker suspended from the public schools several children who persisted in visiting the house. The quarantine has since been raised.

The Health Officer called special attention to the borough lockup owing to water pipes being frozen, steam pipes bursting and general neglect of the place. He says it is in a filthy condition, as well, and the borough runs risks of suits for damages. The Board referred the matter to the Sanitary Committee of Council and the Chief Burgess with request to put the place in proper condition.

THE CAGE CAUGHT.

Five Men Injured at Maple Hill Colliery This Morning.

Five Poles, all residents of this town, were injured while descending on a cage in the Maple Hill shaft early this morning to reach their working places. The men were John Rowlin, John Bablowki, Peter Simenewski, Andrew Palutawicz and Anthony Wislosky. Fortunately none of them were dangerously injured.

Ten men got on the cage at the top of the shaft and were lowered to a depth of about six feet from the bottom when the cage caught on the guides. The stoppage was but momentary, but sufficient in duration to allow an accumulation of loose hoisting rope and the cage suddenly dropped the six feet to bottom of the shaft, severely shocking five of the men and causing one of them, John Bablowki, to sustain a fracture of the left leg below the knee. Bablowki and Rowlin were sent to the Miners' hospital. The latter claimed there was paralysis in his legs below the knees, but he was able to walk with assistance. The other men were removed to their homes.

The accident is supposed to have been caused by ice which had accumulated on the shaft guides during the night catching the cage and then giving away under its weight.

Short in His Accounts.

Charles M. Lawler, general manager of the Philadelphia, Reading & New England Railroad, is short in his accounts to the amount of about $30,000. On Monday Mr. Lawler was at the office of the company at Hartford, Conn., and when confronted with the evidence of his shortage, said that he alone was responsible. The methods by which the company was milked were by Lawler drawing money for men who had been discharged and for supplies that were not bought. The railroad company is protected from loss by the bondsmen of the agents who permitted Lawler to have the money. He is now delirious and it is feared that he cannot recover from the effects of his exposure. Mr. Lawler is well known here as superintendent of the Mahanoy division of the Reading until a year or so ago.

Paul Summa Dead.

A despatch from Wilkesbarre states that Paul Summa, who formerly conducted a saloon on South Main street, in this town, died at Jersey City while his wife was giving her testimony in a suit for a divorce on the plea of cruelty and desertion. The woman completely broke down when handed the telegram and wept like a child. She was removed to the house of a friend nearby. Our readers will remember how Summa disappeared from this town so suddenly, leaving behind him a number of debts, and the subsequent legal battle indulged in over the transfer of his license. After leaving Shenandoah Summa conducted a saloon in Kingston, but soon showed signs of aberration of mind, and he was removed to an asylum.

Langour.

Langour and depression are the first symptoms of a cold or the grippe. When active persons are disinclined to exertion, and know not what is the matter, it is safe to predict that they have taken cold or that the grip's coming on. This is the most preventable time, and "77" is the remedy; its prompt application will make you "bold proof." Carry it: "77" cures colds, coughs, sore throats, influenza and catarrh. "77" will "break up" a cold that "hangs on." Dr. Humphreys puts up a specific for every disease. They are described in his manual, which is sent free.
