STARTLING EVIDENCE

Against the Alleged Murderers of Miss Pearl Bryan.

A NEGRO COACHMAN'S STATEMENT.

He is the Man Who Drove the Murderers and Their Victim to Newport on the Night of the Tragedy, but Became Frightened and Ran Away.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 17.—The strongest link to the chain of evidence against the two murderers of Pearl Bryan made its appearance Saturday afternoon. George H. Jackson, private coachman for Major Widdiefield, on McGregor avenue, Mt.
Auburn, revealed the story. He called on Police Officer Swain, who was passing by where he was working, and asked him if he had heard of that dead girl who had been found. He then asked the officer if he had found the cabman and was told no.
Again he asked if they should find the cabman whether he would be held as a participant in the crime along with the murderers. He was told very likely not, that it depended upon circumstances.
Jackson then said he would like to see the chief of police.

Officer Swain told him to report at the headquarters of the police in Mt. Auburn at 8 o'clock in the evening, which he did. Meantime he told his story to Officer Swain, and also to Lieutenant Thornton, of the Mt. Auburn police. He was brought before the mayor, and there told the same story.

George H. Jackson is drill master and commander of the Caldwell Guards, a colored company in this city. On Friday night, Jan. 31, he was drilling them until midnight. He went out afterwards and was standing a moment at the corner of George and Elm streets, in the tenderloin district of this city, when a tall, dark haired man wearing a corduroy cap came up and said to the company of bystanders:
"Do any of you fellows want to make $5 for driving a carriage tonight?"

Jackson accepted the offer. He had been a carriage driver all his life. Presently a square bodied surrey was driven down to where he was, and he was told that the carriage. He was invited to the seat and a man with a corduroy cap and dark mustache took a seat beside him and directed him. He told him that there was a doctor and a sick lady in the carriage, and that they were going to take them over to Newport, and he would show him how to drive. The horse was a gray one, and moved very rapidly. After driving through Newport he became alarmed and wanted to jump off. This was after midnight, and no one was on the street, so that he could make an alarm, but he was very much frightened. The man on the seat beside him put a revolver to his head and said: "You drive that horse or I'll make an end of you very quickly."

"I had never driven out on that road before that I know of. The man on the seat directed me how to go. It was a very crooked road. We came out at last where they told me to stop. There were some thickets nearby. They said the house where the woman was to go was not very far away. They would take her across the field and whistle when they were ready to come back. They told me to turn the horse around and wait for them. The man in the surrey got out first and helped the woman. She leaned on him heavily and as she walked along dragged her feet."
"It was too dark for me to see anything.
The man who got out of the surrey was not as tall as the man who sat by me. That man got off the seat and assisted in taking the woman away in the darkness. I looked for a hitching block and expected to find a round one. Instead of that I found a piece of railway rail about a foot long, with two holes in it. I hitched the horse to that and waited a little while. I heard very queer noise, something like shuffling in the leaves, along with a noise that I can't describe that I think was made by a woman. It sounded like a woman's cry in distress. I remembered strange noises that the woman had been making all the way out. The noise that I heard in the thicket frightened me, and I ran away as hard as I could run. I got home on foot about 4:30 o'clock in the morning.
"When I heard of this murder I thought it must be the same case. I was afraid to talk on account of the threats made. At last I thought I ought to tell all I knew."

Saturday midnight George H. Jackson was taken to the jail and picked out Jackson and Walling among thirty other prisoners. Here they went to Walling, looked up and down from head to foot in front and all around him, then stepped out in front of him and said: "I am sure this is the man that sat on the seat with me." Then he added, "If I could hear his voice I could tell better." Walling was told to speak and repeat the threat that he is alleged to have made to the negro. The negro said: "That's his voice, only it is a little stronger." As to Jackson he went around and selected several men that seemed to be about Jackson's size. He said: "I did not see this man except when he got out of the carriage in the darkness, and I only know about his size. Bring him up to this other man."

Jackson was brought up by Walling.
The negro said: "This looks like the other man. It like to hear his voice." The negro then said: "I can't be sure about the man. That sounds very much like the voice of the man who told me to turn the horse around and who helped the woman out, only it was a great deal harsher."

After telling his story at the jail George H. Jackson led the detectives over the route he had taken on the night of the murder. His evidence is considered convincing. A special circumstance that gives weight to his testimony is the high name he bears among his employers. Mr. Rob-stock, a livery man for whom he worked four years, says: "He is the best and truest all round negro I ever knew. I would trust him with anything." Others who have employed him bear similar testimony.

Another circumstance in his favor is that there is an offer of a reward of $500 for the discovery of the cab driver. George H. Jackson has not made any claim for this reward, nor has he even spoken of it.
In his statement he said that he found in the surrey, instead of a round hitching weight, a piece of railroad rail with two holes through it. A leather strap was fastened to one of these holes. That he used for a hitching weight and then ran away. It was just precisely such a piece of railroad iron that was wrapped up in Jackson's bloody coat when it was fished out of a sewer catch basin at the corner of John and Richmond streets several days ago. What emphasizes this evidence is the fact that this coat, being wrapped around a piece of railroad iron, has never been mentioned in the newspapers.

THE WEEK IN CONGRESS.

The Cuban Recognition Question
May Be Brought Up.

SENATORS EXPECT A BUSY WEEK.

If They Are Unable To Agree on Tariff Bill Action, However, the Upper Body May Adjourn by the First of June—The Contested Election Cases.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Most of the time of the house this week will be taken up with the consideration of appropriation bills. The agricultural bill should be disposed of today unless a prolonged debate should be precipitated on the question of seed distribution by the agricultural department. The Indian and army appropriation bills are ready and the appropriations committee expects to have the executive, legislative and judicial bill reported by Wednesday.

The foreign affairs committee will call up the resolution to censure Ambassador Bayard as soon as those in charge of the appropriation bills afford an opportunity to do so. The foreign affairs committee is also working on a Cuban resolution, and it may possibly be reported to the house this week. The trend of opinion in the committee favors a resolution expressing its sense of congress that a state of war exists in Cuba, and requesting the president to issue his proclamation recognizing the insurgents as belligerents.

The report of the contested election case of Van Horn vs. Tarsney from the Fifth Missouri district can be called up at any time. The report is in favor of the contestant, but a minority report will be filed tomorrow recommending that the case be recommitted and the testimony reopened.

The prospects are for a busy week in the senate, but outside of the fact that Senator Davis speaks today in support of the Monroe doctrine and that the appropriation bills which have been reported will be taken up and probably disposed of, no definite forecast of the proceedings can be given.

There continues to be more or less discussion of a private nature among senators as to the probabilities of getting up the tariff bill in some form, but this depends almost wholly upon whether the friends of the bill can obtain assurance of success in whatever move they make.

The reports of both the majority and the minority of the committee on privileges and elections on the Dupont case, the former favoring the seating of Mr.
Dupont as senator from Delaware and the latter opposing that course, will be made to the senate this afternoon, but the debate which is sure to occur on this question will be postponed until later in the session.

There is beginning to be a great deal of talk in the senate of an early adjournment.
If it is made evident that there will be no tariff legislation many senators think that an adjournment by the first of June will be possible.

THE CRISIS IN FRANCE.

It May Lead to a Dissolution of Premier Bourgeois' Cabinet.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—The special dispatches from Paris this morning all agree as to the gravity of the French crisis. According to a semi-official statement M. Bourgeois, the premier, had an interview with President Faure yesterday afternoon and explained that the conflict of the senate with the chamber had assumed such a character that a resignation of the ministry would not solve the crisis. The cabinet had, therefore, decided to await the further expression of the opinion of the chambers regarding that they can no more yield to the senate than they can disregard the confidence of the chamber.

The origin of the crisis is the determination of the senate to overthrow the Radical ministry or to die in the attempt. Not since "mal seize" has France been on the brink of so extensive an upheaval. President Faure's position is shaken, and he is severely blamed by all moderate politicians for suffering the experiment of a Radical ministry, failing to foresee the coun-less difficulties that were bound to follow.

The most noticeable feature of the crisis is the apathy of the public and the belief that all will come right somehow. The chamber is unlikely to yield, and already dissolution is in the air.

Paris, Feb. 17.—The cabinet has decided to ignore the vote taken in the senate on Saturday, which was a repitition of a vote of that body on Feb. 11, deprecating the irregularities disclosed in connection with the Southern railway scandal, and demanding a searching inquiry. The newspapers here express the belief that no issue from the cabinet crisis is possible, except through the resignation of M.
Ricard, minister of justice.

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 17.—A mysterious double murder occurred near Augusta Wednesday and Thursday morning.
Mrs. Robert Laughlin and her niece, Mary Jones, were killed, and their bodies crumpled in their house near Augusta. Mr.
Laughlin's throat was gashed and he was stabbed several times, but he got away from his assailants and ran to a neighbor's, where he gave the alarm. Mr.
Laughlin believes that all had been chloroformed. Although two tramps are under arrest, the people do not believe the story of Laughlin. The popular belief is that Laughlin assaulted Mary Jones and was outraged by his wife, when a struggle ensued, resulting in Laughlin killing his wife and his 13-year-old niece and then burning his house to hide the crime.

Kruger Resents English Interference.
LONDON, Feb. 17.—The Berlin correspondent of the Chronicle sends a dispatch, apparently inspired by De Lays, the secretary of state of the Transvaal, which says: "The Transvaal government considers Secretary Chamberlain's proposed workable scheme. It may almost be accepted as certain that President Kruger will not visit England, because his presence there would be a virtual recognition of England's right to interfere in the internal affairs of the Transvaal."

Gomez's Warning to Weyler.
TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 17.—One hundred and forty passengers arrived on the steamer Olivares from Cuba last night. They say that the rumors prevalent in Havana that the resistance in Moro Castle are being shaken as the firing can be heard in the city. Gomez has notified General Weyler that should he attempt to repeat his atrocities of the former revolution that he will be shot by Cuban assassins. A Spanish secret service detective named Garcia will arrive on the next steamer commissioned to remain here and spy upon expeditions.

Let The Whole World
Know The Good
Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Does

HART DISEASE, has its victim at a disadvantage. Always taught that heart disease is incurable, when the symptoms become well defined, the patient becomes alarmed and a nervous panic takes place. But when a sure remedy is found and a cure effected, after years of suffering, there is great rejoicing and desire to "let the whole world know." Mrs. Laura Wininger, of Selkirk, Kansas, writes: "I desire to let the whole world know that Dr. Miles' Heart Cure has done for me. For ten years I had pain in my heart, shortness of breath, palpitation, pain in my left side, oppression, chest, weak and hungry spells, bad dreams, could not lie on either side, was numb and suffered terribly. I took Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and before I finished the second bottle I felt its good effects, I feel now that I am fully recovered, and that Dr.
Miles' Heart Cure saved my life."

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold on guarantee that first bottle benefits, or money refunded.
