PENNS., Feb. 20.—Three Indians on the Winnebago reservation secured a jug of whisky, and in imbibing stripped for an old-fashioned war dance. When they had exhausted themselves they sank into a drunken stupor and were found dead in the morning.

Suicide by Freezing.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Feb. 20.—The frozen body of a negro was found on Cranberry turnpike. His clothes were discovered near by, and there were evidences that the man had stripped and purposely permitted himself to be frozen to death.

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed in the spring, when the languid, exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid, and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison, headache, indigestion, constipation, dizziness, dryness to Electric Bitters. Only fifty cents per bottle at A. Wadley's drug store.

SPOILED A MARRIAGE.

Miss Lukus and Her Friends in an Embarrassing Position.
The Lithuanian church on South Jardin street was the scene of a remarkable occurrence Monday night. The illustrated newspapers frequently publish accounts of sensational occurrences at church altars, depicting the sudden appearance of some interested party in the nick of time to prevent a marriage and therefore the subject, to the world at large, is not a new one, but it is a novelty in this town. There is no previous case on the local records in which a bride and bridegroom have met with contention at the altar.

In this case the principal characters are Miss Ella Lukus, her step-father, George Sokolosky, the saloonkeeper of West Coal street, and Joseph Antinowicz, the bridegroom. The facts of the case, briefly, are that when the couple stood at the altar, ready to be made man and wife, the step-father appeared and sprang the matrimonial wheel with the claim that the intended bride was not of age and the priest refused to perform the ceremony. The wedding arrangements are still in statu quo.

It appears that Miss Lukus and Antinowicz procured a marriage license from Justice Shoemaker on an affidavit that the young woman attained her 22nd year this month. Sokolosky and his wife were bitterly opposed to the proposed marriage and the former, upon hearing of the proceedings before Justice Shoemaker, obtained a duplicate of the affidavit and went to Rev. Lenarkawicz, the priest of the Polish Catholic church, and from him procured a copy of the certificate showing that the young woman was baptized in October, 1876, and was not of age. Armed with both papers Sokolosky hurried to the residence of Rev. Abramaitis, the Lithuanian priest, and got there just as the marriage ceremony was about to start. The church was filled with friends of the contracting parties and the interruption caused a sensation. Sokolosky was accompanied by his lawyer and protested against the marriage. Rev. Abramaitis was as much surprised as anybody by sudden turn of affairs. He read the duplicate affidavit and certificate carefully and listened to the statements of the lawyer, and then retired to the parsonage, declaring that under the circumstances, he could not proceed with the ceremony. A number of friends of the contracting parties went to the parsonage and made urgent appeals to the priest to proceed with the ceremony, but their action only added fuel to the already intensified state of the step-father's mind. Meanwhile the bridegroom, the intended groomsmen and Policeman Walaitis hurried to the Sokolosky domicile on West Coal street and soon returned with a document in the Lithuanian language purporting to be the consent in writing of Mrs. Sokolosky to the wedding and signed by her mark. Amin Sokolosky and his lawyer protested. The former declared that his wife had been imposed upon and that the writing was a fraud and a forgery. Rev. Abramaitis respected the protest and declined to perform the ceremony and all parties left the parsonage and mingled with the bride and the great crowd of people who had heard of the affair and crowded into the church. The next move in the matter is anxiously awaited by people who delight in sensations.

The Public Be—

There appears to be a wish on the part of stockholders of the Lehigh Valley railroad that the public reports of earnings should be more frequent, but the utterance of people connected with the company do not encourage the belief that it will be gratified, at any rate, for the present. Holders of the stock, upon application at headquarters, are advised of the operations as to the general public, its interest is not regarded as vital. Pending the resumption of dividends on the stock, monthly statements of earnings will not be made public.

The National Club Project.

As expected, the project of the National Club has struck a popular vein and its first exhibition, which is to be given at Ferguson's theatre next Monday evening, will undoubtedly be liberally patronized. Until the announcement was made yesterday very few people knew that the club's gymnasium was open to the public and its generosity in that respect has made many new friends. Besides this a course of athletic exhibitions of a clean, wholesome and bona fide character will be a novelty in the town the people will appreciate and if the club does not soon swell its building fund we will be very much surprised.

TURKISH METHODS IN FLORIDA.

OCALA, Feb. 20.—After ten days of torture at a convict camp eleven young men were yesterday released on writs of habeas corpus issued by Circuit Judge Hoeker. The young men gave their names as George Saunders and Charles Smith of Kentucky, Jack Ingram of Ohio, Oscar Wagner of Missouri, Thomas Cummings and John Davis of New York, Thomas Forbes of Pennsylvania, Jack Ryan of Louisiana, Don Grant of Illinois, John Sopria of Texas and Joseph Stone of Massachusetts.

Two weeks ago the party reached Ocala.

They were well dressed, and said they were walking to see the country better and to hunt and fish at will. They had a lot of novelties for sale. They did not ask aid, but the day after their arrival they were arrested, and Justice Clary sent them to the convict farm as tramps. At the ranch they were barbarously treated. They were chained to negroes and given impossible tasks. Every night, upon reporting the tasks unperformed, they were stripped, tied across logs and whipped with rawhides till the blood gushed. Tuesday night, the coldest of winter, the guards drove them into a pond, shouting: "You have been wanting a bath; now get it." Twice a day they were given bread, but no meat. At Judge Hoeker's request they bared their backs, which were found raw and quivering. In discharging the young men Judge Hoeker said their arrest, sentence and treatment was a disgrace to civilization.

Literary Notes.

McClure's Magazine for March will contain interesting passages from a speech made by Abraham Lincoln, in the Illinois legislature in January, 1857—undoubtedly the earliest speech of Lincoln's of which any record remains, and one hitherto unnoticed by any of his biographers. It is in his most attractive vein—that mingling of genial candor with perfectly clinching argument for which he afterwards became so noted. Along with these passages will be presented some entirely new anecdotes and reminiscences of Lincoln's service in the legislature and of his humble beginning as a lawyer at Springfield. And there will be a full quota of Lincoln pictures: among them four portraits of Lincoln, two of which have never been published, and a view of his first law office.

FIRE COMPANY MATTERS.

A movement is on foot to induce the Borough Council to give the old hose carriage the Columbia Company, now has to the Defender Company at Turkey Run. The carriage broke down on Monday night and is in need of general repairs, which will cost almost as much as a new carriage. It is also stated that even if repaired the carriage will not be suitable for the Columbia Company, which is now obliged to carry so much hose to fires that a stronger and more modern vehicle is required. The present one has been in service about 25 years. The Defender Company, it is understood, would very likely be willing to defray the expense of repairing the carriage and could make good use of it. The vehicle would not be called into operation as often as Turkey Run as it is in town and as the town is built on a flat it would not be subject to the wear and tear caused by hills and ditches. In view of this the repairs required would not be as extensive as in the event of the carriage being continued in town service. The carriage is the property of the borough.

Another subject under agitation in connection with the Defender Company is the improvement of the water supply at Turkey Run. This could be done by giving some responsible resident of the place a key with which the supply could be cut off from the Furnace colliery in case of fire. This would give the Defender Company good force to work with and danger could be avoided at the colliery by keeping tanks filled for use at any time the water should be cut off.

William H. Iams Fatally Shot.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 20.—William H. Iams was shot and probably fatally injured in a quarrel with Charles Arndt at an early hour yesterday morning. Iams is the man who was hung up by the thumbs, had his head shaved and was drummed out of camp while serving in a Pennsylvania regiment of militia during the riots at Homestead. Arndt is a musician, 55 years old, and the shooting was done at the boarding house of the men during an altercation which grew out of Iams' alleged habit of coming in late and making a noise. It is said that Iams' chances of recovery are very slender.

The Vulcan Mine Disaster.

NEW CASTLE, Colo., Feb. 20.—When the work of rescue at Vulcan mine was temporarily suspended yesterday the mine had yielded up, all told, four of its dead, which was the work of exactly twenty-four hours. How many more bodies remain within is still somewhat a matter of conjecture, although the most reliable figures make the number forty-seven. Probably it will be found that there are four or five more, but without any apparent question the number of victims will not exceed fifty.

Two Killed in a Drunken Fight.

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 20.—News has reached here of a double murder at Harlan Court House, Ky., in which Milford and Felix Fee were instantly killed and John Fee dangerously injured. The two Fee boys, brothers, were drunk, and became involved in a fight. Before John Fee could separate them they fired simultaneously and both fell dead. John Fee may die from the injuries he received, as two bullets hit him.
