

ARSENE HOUSSAYE DEAD.

The Venerable French Literateur and Noted Art Critic.

PARIS, Feb. 27.—Arsene Houssaye died at his home here last night. Arsene Houssaye, French literateur, was born at Buryeres in 1813, and came at an early age to Paris to seek fame.

M. HOUSSAYE.

At this time and subsequently. In the revolution of 1848 M. Houssaye was a candidate of the Democratic party in his department, but was defeated. In 1849, at the request of Mile. Rachel, he became administrator of the Comedie Francaise, which he released from debt and put on a prosperous footing.

Baltimore Garment Workers on Strike. BALTIMORE, Feb. 27.—The garment workers of this city who are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor decided at midnight to order a general strike of all the members in this city, and all went out today. There are 5,000 to 6,000 operatives and twenty-five firms of manufacturers affected. The strike was indirectly the result of one which has been on for a week, in which the employees of one firm took part. In an endeavor to settle this General President Charles F. Reichers demanded that the employers agree to employ no new men unless they are members of the garment workers' organization. This the employers refused to do, although Mr. Reichers agreed to put up $25,000 as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the union. Operatives who are members of the Knights of Labor will not join the strike.

Wants All Sunday Labor Abolished. OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 27.—Mr. John Charlton, Liberal, introduced a Sabbath observance bill in the house of commons yesterday which provides for the closing of all canals, the total stoppage of railway traffic and of the publication and sale of newspapers on Sunday. Mr. Charlton said that the Sunday newspaper was the primary cause of the disregard of Sabbath observance in the United States. The average newspaper life of a reporter on one of the big dailies was less than seven years. The death statistics of cities, he asserted, showed this to be a fact.

Boy Train Wreckers Indicted. UTICA, N. Y., Feb. 27.—The grand jury yesterday reported thirty-one indictments, eighteen of which were sealed. Two indictments for murder in the first degree were brought in against each of the four Rome boy train wreckers, J. W. Hildreth, Herbert Plato, Theodore Hibbard and Frederick Bristol, who wrecked the fast mail on the New York Central railroad recently, killing Engineer Hager and Robert Bond, who was stealing a ride. Their cases will come up for trial at Rome next week.

Quick Work of Railroad Men. Railroad men are greatly interested as to how the Central Railroad of New Jersey succeeded in getting its trains running so soon after the flood was at its height, about two weeks ago, and before the water had entirely receded.

Every official connected with the operating department of the road, from the general superintendent to the chief clerk, is a telegraph operator, and the house of every official is connected with the main offices by a private telegraph wire. When anything happens the officials get the news almost as quickly as if they were in their own offices instead of in their beds.

The night of the Bound Brook flood General Superintendent Olhausen at his home in Elizabeth, knew what had happened within three minutes after the first train had been stopped. When the news came that the trains could not run he telegraphed for an engine to meet him. He dressed himself and made for the railroad tracks. The engine was waiting. He had a couple of flat cars hooked on and started for Bound Brook, gathering help as he went.

He had five engines and leaders with him and a car load of experienced workmen. As soon as the water receded sufficiently he had his train run over the flooded track. Every inch of it was examined. Weak parts were strengthened so far as it was possible under the water, and in a couple of hours the order was sent for trains to proceed.—N. Y. Sun. The above will interest many people in Schuylkill county where Mr. Olhausen won his spurs in the railroad business and is well and favorably known.

A New Memorial to Lincoln. All the founders of McClure's Magazine have undertaken to assist Knox college in establishing "The Abraham Lincoln School of Science and Practical Arts," as a worthy memorial to Abraham Lincoln. The publishers of McClure's Magazine have established 100 scholarships in this new school. Each scholarship entitles the holder to all the privileges of Knox College, and can be earned by securing 500 subscribers to McClure's Magazine. A scholarship pays the board, room rent and tuition of any young man or woman for a year. The publishers of McClure's Magazine have also undertaken to raise an endowment fund of a quarter of a million dollars for this new department of Knox College.

Dr. Marshall Seriously Ill. Dr. D. S. Marshall, the well known physician of Ashland and Coroner of this county, is lying at his residence seriously ill with blood poisoning, and while there is an improvement in his condition to-day, he cannot be said to be out of danger. The doctor's illness dates from last Monday when he pricked the top of his left thumb with an operating instrument while holding a post mortem examination on the body of Thomas Fallon, at Byrnesville, who died from a stab wound. The puncture was so slight that the doctor did not notice it at the time, and it was not until Tuesday morning that he felt the effects. His arm became greatly swollen to the shoulder, and he was taken very sick at the stomach.

Do You Wear Shoes? If so, you can save money by buying them at the Factory Shoe Store. We are offering big bargains in shoes. For example, we are selling a boy's calf congress for $1.25 that can't be bought anywhere for less than $2.00. In fact, all our prices are about 20 per cent. less than at other places, because they are factory prices. 2-22-14 J. A. MOYER, Mgr.

He Did the Act. From Pottsville Republican. SENATOR PORTER RETIRES.

The Combine Leader is Permanently Out of Politics.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 27.—State Senator Charles A. Porter has permanently retired from active participation in politics. He made this announcement yesterday afternoon. The announcement caused no great surprise among the leaders here, as such a course on the part of Mr. Porter has been anticipated any time since the defeat of the Combine, of which he was a prominent figure.

Mr. Porter gives as his reason for retiring from politics because of business and domestic affairs, to which, he says, he will devote his attention.

Wait for the opening. 2-24-14

Mechanics Organize. About fifty carpenters, builders and other mechanics in the building line assembled in Schmidt's hall, on West Coal street, last evening and effected a permanent organization with the following officers: B. G. Hess, president; J. B. Davis, secretary; Thomas Conville, treasurer. Capt. George W. Johnson spoke some time and very earnestly in behalf of both the mechanics and public. He said the object of the organization was not to create a disturbance, or raise prices, but to bring all concerned together with a more harmonious and mutual spirit. Several members made addresses, after which a committee was appointed to prepare by-laws and procure permanent quarters for meetings. The next meeting will be held in Schmidt's hall next Wednesday, at 7 p. m.

TELL THE CHILDREN.

A Beautiful Toy Theatre With Movable Figures Free to Every Boy and Girl.

Have the children heard the news? If they haven't, tell them now. "The Philadelphia Press," which has been considering their pleasure, will next Sunday, March 1, give to every reader a beautiful toy theatre, with back and side scenery all complete, and with movable figures for the production of the ever-popular pantomime, "Humpty Dumpty."

Think of it, movable figures—movable actors—so that the little ones may have the pantomime performed right under their eyes.

The theatre itself is substantially constructed, and may be preserved for permanent amusement. It may be carried or dropped or thrown about without injury. It cost "The Press" a great amount of money to get enough theatres for all its readers.

But, no matter. The children will be made happy.

Their elders will also be delighted with "The Philadelphia Sunday Press" of March 1. It will, in addition to all the news, contain more interesting special articles than any magazine published. These will cover a wide range of subjects and introduce the most prominent writers.

Order "The Philadelphia Sunday Press" of March 1 from your newsdealer in advance to save disappointment.

A Chicago Tough Killed. CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Edward, well known in police circles as "Bull," Hickey, lost his life in an attempt to hold up F. Haas, proprietor of a meat market on Oakley avenue. Hickey entered Haas' place of business, and while the latter's back was turned seized him by the throat and threw him to the floor. A terrific struggle ensued, during which the butcher managed to grasp a long bladed knife, which he plunged into the desperado's side. Two pals who accompanied him escaped.

Mrs. Bartlette Again Defeated. CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 27.—The jury in the famous Bartlette-Bigelow breach of promise case yesterday returned a verdict for the defendant. A previous trial of the case resulted in a similar verdict. The second trial has been going on since last Wednesday. Mrs. Mary E. Bartlette, of Boston, the plaintiff, brought suit to recover $200,000 from the estate of the late Professor Henry J. Bigelow, of Harvard.

Two Children Burned to Death. BROOKLYN, Feb. 27.—Fire in a Prospect street tenement occupied by twenty families resulted in the death of 5-year-old Flora Hotchkiss and her 3-year-old sister. The mother had gone to work, leaving the children alone. The police believe that the children set fire to the apartments while playing with matches. Their charred bodies were found in the kitchen after the fire was subdued.

Shot His Brother's Slayer. STANFORD, Ky., Feb. 27.—Marshal Frank Ellis, who was to be tried here yesterday afternoon for the killing of Young Murphy, at Junction City, a year ago, was shot and probably fatally wounded by John Murphy, a brother of the dead man. Ellis was being brought from the jail to the court house for trial. Murphy was arrested.
