ANNIVERSARY BANQUET.

It Was Given by The Emanon Club Last Evening.

The first anniversary banquet of the Emanon Club was celebrated at Bickert's cafe last evening. Covers for twenty-six guests were spread and the apartments afforded ample accommodations for those present. The event last evening was the most important one in the history of the organization and among its guests were some of the foremost citizens of the region. A very interesting musical program was furnished by the Amphion Mandolin and Guitar club, under the leadership of Prof. E. W. Wilde, at the rendition of "Amphion," a beautiful waltz composed by Prof. E. W. Wilde, was highly appreciated and brought forth rounds of applause. At about 11 o'clock all guests repaired to the dining room where the following bill of fare was served:

- Blue Points Half Shell.
- Soups.
- Consumme of Chicken.
- Fish.
- Planked Shad.
- Misselle.
- Roast Turkey.
- Spring Lamb.
- Vegetables.
- French Peas.
- Tomatoes.
- 44 Port Wine.
- Salads.
- Mayonnaise of Lobster.
- Olives.
- Mayonnaise.
- Assorted Fruits.
- Lady Fingers.
- Kisses.
- Chocolate.
- Nuts.
- Cigars.

After the wants of the inner man had been thoroughly supplied a series of toasts were responded to by the following persons: Harry Wasley, "History of the Emanon Club;" G. W. Neiman, of Philadelphia, C. N. Beddall, J. S. Beddall, E. B. Brumm, and Arch. Derby, who spoke in the interest of the visitors. The series of toasts came to a close by a response in behalf of the club by W. J. Morgan. Following is a list of those present: Messrs. W. J. Lewis, Saylor Longsdorf, C. D. Fricke, Theodore Bedford, John Lewis, G. W. Neiman, of Philadelphia, George and Frank Portz, J. S. Beddall, James M. Leckie, Elwood J. Jacoby, C. N. Beddall, Harry Wasley, E. B. Brumm, W. J. Morgan, of the Republican, and J. G. Thumm, of the Herald, and the following members of the Amphion Mandolin and Guitar Club: Prof. E. W. Wilde, Thomas Dawson, George and William Aston, Charles Arthur and Howard Collins and Arch. Derby. Miss Host Bickert was complimented highly for the manner in which he catered to the wants of those present.

IT IS GOOD TO LAUGH.

The Chance of a Lifetime to Please the Whole Family.

Ha! ha! ha! You'll laugh when you see the unique souvenir, "Little Boy Pansies," which will be given free with next Sunday's Philadelphia Press. It's an odd conceit—ten little "Johnny-jump-ups" playing see-saw. The coloring is splendid. The idea is comical and the whole effect is mirth provoking to the last degree. It's just the thing to hang up where the children can see it. Order next Sunday's Press in advance.

Whistle in Use.

The residents of the northeastern part of the town were surprised this morning by hearing the blasts of a large whistle at the Kehley Run colliery. For 29 years a bell has performed the same service at this colliery that whistles do at nearly all the other collieries of this region, and it is still in service, but if the whistle tried for the first time this morning continues satisfactory it is likely that the bell will be given its well earned rest in the near future. A fact worthy of special mention in connection with the matter is that the whistle was made entirely by hand by William Gregory, one of the pumpmen employed at the colliery, and was presented by him to the Thomas Coal Company. It is a very ingenious and complete device and in sound very much resembles the whistle used at the Kohinoor colliery. It was used for the 6 o'clock call this morning and the blasts were prolonged to give it good tests. The bell was used during the balance of the day, as those who have listened to its peals for so many years, are loath to put it aside suddenly.

Killed on the Railroad.

H. F. Eisenhuth, of Orwigsburg, was struck by a Lehigh Valley engine yesterday afternoon, near Hansch's station, and received injuries from which he died shortly after. The unfortunate man left his home to visit his son at New Ringgold. Both his legs were horribly mangled, one being crushed near the hip, and the other below the knee, where it hung by a few shreds. There were several people standing around the station, who saw the old man's peril, but an instant too late, and they were thrilled with horror at the sight. He was on his way to the Miners' hospital when he expired in the Reading station at Ashland. The deceased was 50 years of age and leaves three sons, A. C. and John, of Orwigsburg, the latter being station agent at that place, and Harry, of New Ringgold.

Sporting Events.

Tamaqua will have a base ball team this season, and will also have a new park.

The Journal this morning contained an excellent likeness of Manager Alfred W. Lawson, of the Pottsville base ball club. The county seat has bright prospects for the season, and they can pride themselves upon having secured so able a manager.

Anson is satisfied with third place this season.

Pottsville is again in the base ball business, and from the blow and bluster already put forth it would seem that they are going to sweep the earth.—Hazelton Standard.

Literary Notes.

The April McClure's will contain what is about the first really authoritative and direct account yet given of Professor Rontgen and his discovery of the cathode rays. Immediately on the announcement of the discovery, the editors of the magazine called Mr. H. J. W. Dan, of London, to hasten to Wurzburg, and talk with Professor Rontgen in his laboratory, and learn all there was to be learned of the new marvel in photography. The paper will be illustrated with numerous photographs by the new process. A supplementary article by Cleveland Moffett will tell what has been done in America with the cathode rays.

Jig House Indefinitely Suspended.

St. Nicholas Jig house shut down at noon Tuesday, for an indefinite period. The cause is ascribed by some to small profits. The foreman, Charles E. Frenk, has been transferred to Maple Hill, where he will take the place of Foreman Tom Williams, until he is able to resume employment. Mr. Williams is very ill.

Well Known Here.

John J. Beisterling, a traveling salesman for Halpin, Green & Co., of Philadelphia, was a passenger on the P. & R. train yesterday, on his way to this county. He stepped from one car to another at Phoenixville and the jolting of the car threw him off. His head was crushed by the fall, and he died five minutes after being picked up. The unfortunate man was well known among our business men.

Seek is a little mining village of less than 300 people between Tamaqua and Lansford. The bicycle craze has struck there in earnest. Last Saturday two agents stormed the little town and in a few hours sold 17 wheels of a first-class make.

The Streets Flooded.

The fall of rain has killed the excellent sleighing which the people enjoyed the past few days and the indications are that the backbone of winter is now broken. The streets were in a terrible condition from an overflow of water and slush this morning and high topped boots and stiffs were in great demand. Most of the trouble was due to a failure of people to clean the gutters in front of their properties. The water and slush flooded many pavements to a depth of several inches. Cries of distress were heard all morning from the First ward. Supervisor Llewellyn had men at work and succeeded in opening all public culverts except one, which is located at the northeast corner of Centre and Emerick streets, and could not be opened on account of an accumulation of ice and snow in it. The Supervisor thinks it will take considerable work to put the culvert in order. The culvert on the east side of the crossing was filled all day by the rushing waters. Residents on the north side of Centre street, between Emerick and Union, complained bitterly of the flooding of their cellars, but the Supervisor said that trouble would have been avoided if the gutters had been opened in good time. He says he has no authority to open gutters on private properties and will not do it. He knows from experience that if he does it for one it will be used as a precedent by others. Michael Graham, of the First ward, declares he will prosecute the Chief Burgess for neglect of duty. He says two cellars of his properties on East Centre street were flooded this morning by reason of a neighbor leaving two large dry goods boxes in the gutter. This afternoon a dense fog settled in the town and made it impossible to discern an object in the streets a third of a square distant from a given point.
