County Auditors at Work.
The County Auditors got down to business yesterday afternoon. The first matter taken up was that of allowing the Sheriff traveling expenses. The Auditors question the right of the county to allow such charges and the matter was argued by C. E. Breckons, attorney for Sheriff Scott, County Solicitor Ulrich and William Wilhelm, Esq., counsel for the Commissioners and Auditors respectively. The latter claim that the Sheriff's salary of $6,500 per year must cover all expenses attached to the office, and that the county must not pay for the traveling expenses of his deputies or himself while serving writs and other papers. The Auditors will render an opinion in a few days. Auditor John E. Doyle was not present at the meeting, although he had been notified.

We clip the following from the "Shenandoah" correspondence to the "Miners' Journal": "There are rumors of a change in the newspaper line here. College Reception April 6th.

Wood's Business College will be open for visitors April 2nd, 3rd and 4th. Registration of students begins at 9 o'clock a. m., April 6th. In the evening a grand reception will be held in the College Hall, Opera House building. Prof. O. F. Williams, a graduate of Cornell University, now President of Wood's College at Scranton, who was Consul to France during President Harrison's administration, will be the speaker of the evening, assisted by other professional speakers of Shenandoah. The evening's entertainment will be interspersed with selections by the orchestra. Invitations to the public in general will be distributed this week. All persons presenting this card of invitation on Easter Monday night will receive a handsome souvenir as a memorial of the launching out of a first-class business college in Shenandoah.

The time is fast approaching when this most worthy institution will begin its work; and if you wish to become a charter-member now is the time to secure a scholarship.

Prof. S. I. Wood, president of Shenandoah College, has been prevailed upon by public opinion of Shenandoah to continue the sale of charter memberships, and he has responded very liberally. Nothing will be left undone that will add to the comforts of students.
See Prof. Thomas Martin, special organizer, at the Ferguson House, if you desire to become a charter member, and save seventy-five dollars.

Mr. Conry's Laurels.
Frank Conry, of the Kutztown State Normal school, is visiting his parents on Emerick street. While at the school he distinguished himself and won the esteem of his Keystone Society friends at their anniversary, celebrated last Friday evening. His declamation, "The Convict's Christmas Eve" and the duet, "The Doubtful Lover," rendered by Mr. Conry and Miss Lynch, of Gordon, were the features of the entertainment. Mr. Conry is also the newly elected editor of "The Keystone Society." His many town friends are pleased to hear of his success and wish him still greater honors.

Ready to Revolt.
It has been observed that during its recent street parade the local corps of the Salvation Army has not carried the colors of the Army. This led to a report that the corps had seceded from the ranks, under General Booth and joined God's American Volunteers under Ballington Booth, but it appears to be premature. Lieutenant Rusk, of the corps, stated yesterday that such is the intention, but there are a few obstacles in the way. A canvass of the membership shows that only three out of about sixty oppose the step. The rest look upon Ballington Booth's action as a repetition of the spirit of '76 and are ready to stand by him in building the new organization that has been christened God's American Volunteers, and for that reason the blue standard with the blood-red square in the center has been put aside, but the formal revolt is delayed until Ballington Booth gets his affairs definitely settled and the local corps can liquidate a small indebtedness, which will be necessary before the old organization will relieve the corps of its obligations, and secure new barracks.

Famous Malcolm-Love Pianos.
O'Neill Bros., the progressive furniture and music dealers, are again to the front with another announcement of the arrival of a large consignment of pianos of the famous Malcolm-Love make. Their success in the sale of these pianos during the holiday season was so marked and elicited so much praise from the general public they feel assured of a hearty endorsement from prospective customers, who put off the purchase of a piano until spring. The price on these world-renowned pianos do not vary, but are sold on merit. Reliability, superiority of construction, excellent tone, quality and exquisite case designs are prominent characteristics of the Malcolm-Love pianos. 24

Two Fine Opera Houses.
With the opening of the theatrical season next fall Mahanoy City will have two of the finest opera houses in the county. Charles D. Kaiser, who is always catering to the wants of the patrons of his play house, has purchased a lot in the rear of the present opera house. It is his intention to tear down the old building and build in its stead an opera house which when finished will surpass any in the state. Work will be started within a week. The work on the Hersker opera house, on East Centre street, is also being rapidly pushed, the excavating is nearly finished and the work of tearing down the old building will be started soon. With two opera houses our sister borough will not be afflicted with barn-stormers.

The First Defenders.
The First Defenders' Association, of Pottsville, which has among its members many prominent Grand Army men of this county, are making preparations to go over the same route to Washington that they did in 1861, when President Lincoln issued his call for volunteers to suppress the rebellion. The date of that memorable march was April 18th and Schuylkill county was the first to respond to the call. The association has issued a circular asking for contributions to defray the expense of making the same trip to Washington this year and on the same date.

Scored a Big Hit.
Messrs. Vallee and Wibur, high class vocalists and musical artists, who are entertaining the patrons at Bickert's cafe every evening this week, scored a big hit last night. The place was constantly crowded by admirers and Mr. Bickert was highly complimentary for securing this attraction.

A fine program of classic music has been arranged for to-morrow evening when these gentlemen will entertain the ladies in the large dining rooms on the second floor.

The Lyon-Dunn Contest.
Judges Craig, Keeler and Ehrhard, the special court appointed by the Governor to conduct the Lyon-Dunn contest for the Orphan's Court Judgeship, will reconvene on Thursday, at Pottsville, and will give their decision on the motion to quash the proceedings, raised by counsel for Judge Dunn. If the decision is adverse the contest will continue, and the court will be organized by the appointment of commissioners to take testimony, stenographers, typewriters, etc. It is thought by some that the contest, if not quashed, will consume fully two years. The decision of the court is awaited with much interest.

A Kind Hearted Drummer.
At noon to-day a little girl walked along East Centre street, on her way home from a grocery. Ahead of her trotted a large Newfoundland dog carrying with a firm grip of his jaws a basket containing the four pounds of sugar that had been purchased at the store. At Faber's butcher shop two large dogs pounced upon the Newfoundland and the usual snapping, biting and wrestling followed, to the detriment of the sugar, which went flying into the gutter, and great distress of the little girl. After the dogs got tired fighting the little messenger dog viewing the remains of the sugar and crying as if her heart was about to break. A drummer happened along and, upon learning the facts, replaced the sugar with a purchase at Councilman Maguire's store and sent the little girl on her way home rejoicing.

Waiting For a Test.
Members of the theatrical profession are reputed as being the most superstitious of people. As a troupe crossed Main street to reach the Ferguson House this morning the members became divided by a funeral cortege that passed upon the street. One of the actors remarked, "Not many minutes in the town and running smack up against a hearse. Something is going to drop." Some actors say that an incident of that kind fore-shadows a big house, while others maintain that it means box office receipts to the amount of the gas bill.
