LIEUTENANT GENERAL

Secretary Lamont Opposed to Reviving the Office.

HIS REASONS CLEARLY STATED.

The Grade Has Been Conferred on Only Six Generals, and Always to Reward Dis-Not Advisable in Time of Peace.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The letter of Secretary Lamont to General Hawley, chalrman of the senate committee on milchairman of the senate committee on mil-liary affairs, disapproving the bill to re-vive the rank of fleutenant general of the army, is made public. The bill was known as intended to confer the rank on General Miles, now commanding the army, though his name is not mentioned in the corre-spondence. Accompanying the letter are extracts from the military records of Scott, Grant, Skerman, Sheridan and Schoffeld, who became limitenant generat; also of who became lightenant general; also of Generals Miles, Ruger and Merritt, who under the bill would be eligible to the

The secretary says that in no instance has an officer attained this rank until be has successfully commanded the whole or has successfully communiced the whole or a separate army in battle and active cam-paign. He proceeds:

"The grade has been revived always with the object of conferring complimen-tary rank upon generals who had rendered 'eminent and distinguished service,' or those most distinguished for courage, skill and skiller be well to be idea. Weah and ability in war. Five besides Washington were thus honored, of whom four had received the thanks of congress by name for most distinguished military service, while the fifth had commanded a separate army during the late war, had at tained the highest regular grade thirty years before his promotion, had held the chief rommand of the whole regular army for seven years, and had successfully dis-charged most delicate and responsible civil duties."

Secretary Lamont refers to the reorgan ization act of 1993, fixing the strength of the army at sixty regiments, and to the fact that four years later this force was re-duced to forty regiments, and says: "At the time of the enactment of this active duty several officers who had suc-cessfully commanded the whole army, separate armies or army corps during the civil war, and as such had rendered most distinguished service, but the power to reward by further promotion such men as Halleck, Meade, Hancock and others was deliberately taken away when it was enacted in 1870 during the administration of President Grant, that the offices then held by Sherman and Sheridan, when next vacant, should not be filled.

"The present major generals of our army attained brilliant reputations for gallantry while commanding sub-divisions of army corps during the late conflict, and have added to their laurels since by efficient performance of arduous service upon the Indian frontiers, but it is no reflection upon these excellent officers to say that the services they have so far tendered are not of that character that has hitherto been regarded as prerequisite to the ad-vancement now proposed.

"Noting that the grade of lieutenant general has been regarded as a permanent office necessary to our army organization, and has been conferred on a few of those officers who have rendered marked services in war, that the complimentary rank, when bestowed, has often been withheld until long after the demonstration of this until long after the demonstration of this superior ability, and has only been voted as a reward of great military genius and most conspicuous leadership, the conclus-ion is reached that whatever the merits and promise of any officers of our peace establishment, who as yet has had no opportunity to demonstrate their genius and capacity as commanders of large armies, by the measure heretofore required the existing conditions do not demand its re vival at this time."

M. Berthelot's Successor,

PARIS, March 31 .- M. Sarrien has been appointed minister of the interior. He occupled the same position in the Freycinet cabinet of 1886, and in the Tirard cabinet of 1887. One newspaper insists that the resignation of M. Berthelot was due to Ill health and family affliction. Contrary to general expectation, the foreign policy of the government, concerning which notice of interpollations had been given, was not discussed in the chamber of deputies or senate yesterday. The chamber of deputies unanimously decided to postpone the discussion until tomorrow. coming debate in the chamber and senate is expected to result in profit to the gov-

Schnefer Defeats Garnier. NEW YORK, March 31.—Prominent bli-liard players from all over the country gathered at Madison Square Garden con-cert hall yesterday to witness the opening of the tournament in which Frank Ives, Jake Schaefer and Albert Garnier, the Belgian billiardist, are to contest for a purse of $5,000 offered by Maurice Daly. This is the first of a series of tournaments which will be played here, in Boston and by a score of 600 to 197.

Another "Unconstitutional" Law. OTTAWA, Ills., March 31.—The supreme court yesterday declared the law unconstitutional which was passed by the last legislature, requiring all coal mine owners shipping coal by rail or water to keep a check weighman at the mouth of the shaft. The court held that the law forhade contracts between employers and employes, and discriminated between mines shipping coal by rail or water and those not so doing.

Killed in a Trolley Collision.

CHICAGO, March IL.—By a collision be-ween a car on the Evanston electric line and a heavy express wagon last evening, near Homan avenue, James E. Gengler was instantly killed and five persons were injured. James E. Michaels had his face and armed wrenched; Miss Bertha March, face bruised and cut by broken glass; C. A. Pritchard, motorman, brulsed; George Seigel and Horace Mariow, slightly hurt.

Maryland's Legislature Adjourns. Annapolis, Md., March 31.—The Maryland legislature, which has been in session for the past ninety days, and one branch of which was Republican for the first time in thirty years, adjourned sine die at midnight. One of the last things it did was to pass a reassessment bill in accord-ance with the later recommendations of Governor Lowndes, which that official will doubtless sign.
