REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION. The Republican electors of Pennsylvania: The Republicans of Pennsylvania, by their duly chosen representatives, will meet in State convention Thursday, April 23, 1896, at 10 o'clock a. m., in the opera house, city of Harrisburg, for the purpose of nominating two candidates for representative-at-large in Congress and thirty-two candidates for Presidential electors, the selection of eight delegates-at-large to the Republican National convention, and for the transaction of such other business as may be presented. By order of the State Committee.

M. S. QUAY, Chairman. ALBERT—JESSE B. REE, W. R. ANDERSON, Secretaries.

SENATOR CHAMBERLAIN declares that the field candidates are as devoted to high protection as the favorite. He intimates that the manufacturers' money should be distributed among the holders.

Most Democrats and a few Republicans, says the Chicago Inter-Ocean, favor protective measures as revenue raisers. Most Republicans and a few Democrats favor protective measures because they protect American industries. They are in favor of a tariff for protection. This is the difference between the parties.

It has been estimated, by careful men that it costs two dollars and thirty cents every time a railroad train is stopped and started. Notwithstanding this heavy expense citizen John Kelly, because his two-dollar hat blew out of the window, pulled the bell cord and stopped the Boston express three times between New Rochelle and New York.

This report that the American Railway Union is rapidly gathering in the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's men, if true, will add greatly to the strength of that organization. To make it a really strong organization they will need to repudiate Debs and the other holdovers who have had control of it or it will not be long before it will be precipitated into another unequal conflict like that of two years ago.

The Commissioners of Berks county have wisely concluded to play the mandates of the compulsory education law and will strictly enforce every provision. The registry assessors of the different election districts will make an enumeration of all the children in their territory between the ages of 5 and 14 years, and return the list to the Commissioners' office. This work will be done in May. Ten days will be occupied at the work, and the assessors will receive $2 per day for each day required.

FACTS and figures are not wanting to demonstrate that the evening paper has a hold upon the people that no other journal can obtain. Especially is this true of the coal region, where the majority of the people are employed in and around the mines. They want the latest news when their day's labor is over, and it is to the afternoon papers they turn to obtain the latest happenings. Advertisers who are debating in what papers to place their advertisements can profitably consider such facts before making a selection. Incidentally, it may be added that the EVENING HERALD is one of the best mediums in the county.

GOVERNOR HASTINGS has set apart April 10th and 11th as Arbor Days, and the subject of tree planting is one of much importance. There is scarcely any work from which such enormous benefits would eventually accrue to the country, that could be achieved with so trifling an outlay of time and money. A single hour devoted to the planting of a tree or trees would, if devoted to such a purpose by every farmer of the land, in the course of forty or fifty years result in the addition of millions of dollars of value in the timber alone, not to speak of the increased value of the property on which the planting is done, the comfort its owner would derive from the shade, or the fruit, and the beneficial effects upon the climate. Arbor days will be observed by the children of the public schools. If the young are taught the value of tree planting only beneficent results can follow. No one has ever planted a tree who has not felt an interest in its growth and development, and there is not a boy or a girl in the schools of Shenandoah who assists in planting a tree on the 10th or the 11th of April who will not in after years recur to the fact and watch its growth with a feeling of interest.

Writing letters will sometimes get people into serious trouble. Attorney Wilhelm, of Pottsville, in his zeal for his clients has nullified the dignity of Judge Craig, of Carbon county, to a great degree by a letter to the Judge suggesting that some other Justice should preside in the Lehigh Navigation Company's appeal from the Commissioners' valuation of their lands, because the Judge was the company's attorney for many years prior to his elevation to the bench and his wife is now a stockholder in the company. While Mr. Wilhelm distinctly disclaimed any intention to reflect upon Judge Craig's integrity, and the letter was a private one to the Judge himself, the latter chose to read it in court and expressed considerable resentment to what he considered an unwarranted assumption. As a result Mr. Wilhelm is debarred from practicing at the Carbon county bar. Two laymen it looks as though Mr. Wilhelm's suggestion was not an unreasonable one and the fact that the learned Justice expressed himself as having some hesitation in presiding over the case makes it appear rather odd that an attorney should be rebuffed for suggesting what the court had itself been considering the advisability of doing.

MAIL ROBBER NABBED. Stole Valuable Packages While Employed as a Postoffice Clerk. NEW YORK, April 8.—Becoming emboldened by the successful theft of a bushel of foreign stamps from the packages which in the course of his duties he handled as a clerk in the second division of the foreign mail department in the general postoffice of this city, Timothy C. Mahoney developed into a crafty rogue of more valuable things. The contents of the packages which came into his hands he soon discovered paid him better, and he was appropriated with as much ease as the stamps on the outside which had carried them from all parts of the world.

Full Details Gladly Given. A Railroad Official's Experience. M. R. EDWARD EDMONDS, long connected with railroad construction in Nebraska, writes: "My heart troubled and pained me for 19 years. Shortness of breath was the constant and most common symptom. Intense, excruciating pain, generally followed by severe vomiting, faintness, hunger without any appetite, fluttering that made me clutch my breast, and palpitation that often staggered me as if I would fall, were frequent attacks. Again, everything would turn black if I arose from a stooping posture quickly. Sleepless nights with their prostrating unrest were numerous and I could get no rest day or night. I consulted leading physicians and tried advertised remedies. They gave me no relief. One of Dr. Miles' circulars described my case so exactly that I took Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and I am now a well man. I hope every one troubled with heart disease will try Dr. Miles' remedies. If they will write me personally, I will gladly give them full details of my experience." EDW. EDMONDS, P. O. Box 65, David City, Nebraska.
