Distinguished Americans Urging Permanent Arbitration,

THE EXPENSE OF ARMED MILLIONS.

The Day Rapidly Approaching When the Masses of the People Willigtefuse to Support Armies of Professional Murderers. "Blessed Are the Peacemakers."

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Three hundred distinguished looking men met in Metzer-ett's Hall yesterday afternoon for a conott's Hall yesterday afternoon for a con-ference to promote the propaganda for in-ternational arbitration which has been supported by many religious and secutar organizations since the Venezuelan bound-ary dispute first inspired talk of war be-tween Great Britain and the United States. There were several prominent publicists and business men conspicuous in the proceedings, but the rank and file of the delegates, who came from most of the states and territories, were educators and elergymen. There was also a notable and dergymen. There was also a notable absence of government officials.

Among those present were Edward Atkinson of Beston, President Angell of the University of Michigan, Judge W. H. Brawley of South Carolina, ex-Governor Bartram of Vermont, President Black of Marshall, Mo.; General Brooke, U. S. A.; President Capen of Tuft's college, Beston: J. L. M. Curry, ex-minister to Spain; Sen-ator Cannon of Utah, Judge C. P. Daly of New York, Paul du Chaillu, the Afrion explorer; ex-Congressman Everett of Massachusetts, Prasident Ellot, Harvard; General O. O. Howard, U. S. A.; Dr. E. E. Hale of Boston, John A. Kasson, exminister to Austria; President Patton, Princeton; Charles Dudley Warner, ex-minister to Venezuela, and ex-Secretary of State John W. Foster.

No utterances were made which might tend to embarrass the administration in the conduct of pending diplomatic negothe conduct of pending diplomatic nego-tiations with England and Spain. Before the meeting Secretary Olney was visited by a committee, consisting of Judge Daly, Mr. Curry and Mr. Dodge, who outlined the plans for the conference and submitted for his approval the resolutions which will be presented to the conference. The secretary of state found nothing to criticize in the resolutions, and expressed sympathy with the objects of the meeting. Although no references were made to pres-ent international questions, the whole tenor of the speeches was toward an agree-ment for arbitration between the two English speaking nations.

Ex-Secretary Foster was the temporary chairman, and made a brief speech, in the ourse of which he said:

"It seems a utopian idea to auticipate a general disarmament of nations in our generation, and until barbarism and the spirit of conquest and oppression shall be banished from the earth governments will be forced to maintain armies and navies But certainly among people who profess to be governed by the principles of a common Christianity, and especially between nations kindred in lineage, language and institutions, a better method of adjusting the differences which must arise between them may be found than by the bloody arbitrament of war."

Next Judge Daly, of the committee on Next Judge Daly, of the communes of permanent reorganization, reported the election of Hon George F. Edmunds as president and a list of vice presidents representation in the union. Mr. resenting every state in the union. Mr. Edmunds was escorted to the platform. and in the course of a graceful speech he said it was a pitiful thought that in this time of peace over nearly all of the world more than a million men capable of tak-ing part in the progress of civilization were kept under arms and a billion dol-lars diverted to their support. That time must come when the armies of the world, like that of the United States, would be a mere police body. The force of public opinion must be as constant as the law of gravitation for solving the difficult probgravitation for solving the difficult prob-lem of ending war.

A letter from Chief Justico Fuller was read, conveying regret that his health and public duties would prevent him from tea-tifying by his presence his approval of the great cause of the convention. A letter was also received from Andrew Carnegle, who referred to the movement as "the no-blest cause of this generation," and in a postscript mentioned the inclosure of a check for $1,000 to help defray the expenses of the meeting. Rev. L. T. Chamberiain, D. D., of New York, made an address on the history and purpose of the conference.

In the course of the general business Mr. John Domphon, of St. Louis, Mo., created no little stir by moving that Mr. Carnegie's gift be returned to him, be-cause Mr. Carnegie had made his wealth through contracts to furnish the govern-ment with munitions of war. "And," he continued, "the press charges him, whether justly or unjustly, with making large profits by stinting the employes in his works." He declared that it would be a humiliation to accept Mr. Carnegie's gift. The motion was opposed by Delegate Weeks, of Pittsburg, editor of The Iron Manufacturer, and was buried under a large majority.

The night session of the conference attracted a large audience. The speakers were Hon. Carl Schurz of New York, President Angell of Michigan University and Edward Atkinson of Boston.

President Angell took issue with most of the speakers in a ringing declaration that the United States should stand ready to fight for her bonor and her territory. Each of the speakers at the night session touched upon current questions.

Mr. Schurz held arbitration to be practical because eighty disputes had be tled by that method in this century, and all had stayed settled, while the results of great wars had not stayed settled, but had great wars had not stayed settled, but had been subject to the shifting of power.

In the movement for arbitration this republic was a natural leader, stronger than any nation of Europe in the number, intelligence, vigor and patriotism of its people, and standing aloof from the feuds of the old world. In the minds of some men rival powers were watching every chance to humiliate us, yet there was really no power or combination of powers that could wish or afford a serious quarrel with the United States, for in repurces and endurance the United States was strongest of all.

Arguing against a large mavy Mr. Schurz quoted statistics to show that when the commerce of the United States was greatest its navy was comparatively small. He denied that there were disputes which in their nature could not be submitted to arbitration.

PRINCE OF WALES' INDEBTEDNESS

It Is Asserted That the Heir Apparent to A Separate Cure for Each Disease the Throne of Great Britain Had Borrowed Seven and a Half Millions from the Baron, Which Is Still Unsettled.

LONDON, April 23.—The newspapers here LONDON, April 23.—The newspapers here are full of accounts of the life and death of Baron de Hirsch, the distinguished Hebrew philanthropist, teiling of the loss which his death will be to charities, the turf and especially to royalty, to members of which, it has been common gossip, he loaned vast sums of money, matters which are much discussed in the clubs, etc.

The Chronicle applicate a members are first terms of the country of the co

The Chronicle publishes a memoir writ-ten by some one who was evidently intimate with Haron de Hirsch and who is be-lieved to be his secretary. This writer says that the death of the baron may make complications in at least one European court, if the executors are obdurate in collecting money lent. It appears that the baron received some 400 begging letters daily, many of them from English people, who will shrink to see them published.

The question which everybody in the London clubs asked when the news of the baron's death was received was: "What will become of the Prince of Wales?" this was meant what will be done about the enormous indebtedness which, com mon rumor long has had it, is due from the prince to the wealthy baron. Current rumor puts the amount at the incredible figure of $7,500,000. This must be a great exaggeration, but the sum probably is very large.

The Dally News publishes a dispatch from Paris saying that the death of Baron de Hirsch is a severe loss to the Orleans princes, especially to Prince Henry. The baron paid a gambling debt of $140,000 for one Orleans prince.

Nobody knows the amount of the baron's fortune, but it is probably second only to that of the Rothschilds in Europe. Most of it was derived from those sources of fabulous wealth-railway and other co sions in Turkey, eastern Europe and Asia

Baron Hirsch's will is probably in Paris.
It is believed that it will leave a million to his brothers. According to his marriage settlement, the survivor should inherit one-half, but it is understood that the baroness agreed with her husband that a number of foundations should be made in the name of both after the decease of either, so that only about £4,000,000 will remain at her free disposal. The two boys were not legally adopted, but they will be provided for.

Both Sides Claim Louislana,

New ORLEANS, April 28,-The latest returns cause the Foster Democrats to claim that they have carried the state by from 20,000 to 25,000 majority, although Pharr's managers in this city claim the state by a small majority. The great Democratic loss from 70,000 majority in 1832 to a very small majority, even if they are not defeated in the state, is attributed largely to the or-ganization of the national Republican party by the sugar planters and the com-bination entered into between Republicans and Populists. Congressman Buck, who was the regular Democratic candidate for mayor, takes his defeat philosophically, and says that it was the strong sentiment against the old city ring that carried the day for the Citizens' league.
