EVENING HERALD

THURSDAY, APRIL 20, 1890.

YOU WILL APPRECIATE THIS.

Novel and Attractive Souvenir Free—Everybody Will Want It.

A souvenir that you will appreciate will be given free with every copy of "The Philadelphia Sunday Press" of May 3. It is an exact reproduction of the Philadelphia Base Ball Park, showing the finest grand stand in the world, the diamond and all the players. The latter can be cut out and placed in their proper positions in the field, thus giving an accurate representation of the team at work.

This is one of the most novel and attractive souvenirs ever given away by any newspaper. It will make the "rooters" howl with delight. It will tickle the fancy of the children, teach them the national game and acquaint them with the Quaker City players. It will prove invaluable as a chart to instruct your sister or some other person's sister how the game is played, and thus make her an intelligent observer of the popular game.

If you miss this splendid souvenir you'll regret it. The little ones at home will never forgive you. Consequently it behooves you to be in time. There will be a rush for next Sunday's Press that will startle some people. Don't be one of the startled. Start now and order next Sunday's Press of your newsdealer to-day.

NECROLOGY.

Work of the Grim Reaper to Town and Wm. Penn.

Among the deaths recorded to-day was one which occasioned a sensation on account of its sudden character. The victim was Mrs. Catherine Brennan, wife of Nicholas Brennan, a miner who resides on West Coal street, and close to the western limits of the borough. Mr. Brennan was on the night shift in the mine and arrived at his home at about one o'clock this morning. His wife arose from bed and prepared his wash water and the customary cup of tea, and then returned to her bedroom. She made no complaint of feeling ill and there was nothing unusual in her manner. About 20 minutes later Mr. Brennan prepared to retire. The wife was apparently asleep, but uttered a low moan as Mr. Brennan entered the room. He tried to arouse her, and falling in this man up to the parrot to awaken his son. Both returned to the bedroom and found Mrs. Brennan sinking fast. A messenger was sent for Dr. D. J. Langton and he responded promptly, but the woman had died before he reached the house. Dr. Langton says death was due to heart disease. The deceased was 44 years of age and leaves six children ranging from 7 to 22 years of age.

Frank Bondorf, step-father of Louis Bondorf, the hotel keeper of Wm. Penn, died at that place this morning from dropsy. He was 70 years of age and had been ill for some time. The deceased is survived by his wife and two children in addition to Mr. Bondorf. They are Mrs. Joseph Mauer, of Pottsville, and Mrs. Joseph Knight, of Scranton. Mr. Bondorf was a member of the German Lutheran church of town.

Mrs. Martin Grennan died at her home in Wm. Penn this morning from a complication of diseases. She was sixty years of age and is survived by her husband, a son and two daughters.

Miss Kate McAndrew died at the residence of her uncle, John Barrett, on West Cherry street, this morning. She suffered from catarrh of the stomach, but was not seriously attacked until about a year ago. The deceased was about 23 years of age and about 10 months ago came from Ireland, where her parents reside.

Wedding Last Evening.

There was a large gathering in St. George's Lithuanian Catholic church, on South Jardin street, last evening to witness the marriage of Miss Margaret A. Bierstein and William Strolls, both of town. The bride is a sister of Justice P. W. Bierstein. The wedding took place at 6 o'clock and was witnessed by many friends from Mt. Carmel, Shamokin, Mahanoy City, Gilberton and other places. Miss Maggie Sockaloskie was the bridesmaid and John Meluskey the groomsmen. Rev. P. Abronaitis officiated at the ceremony. There were receptions at the residence of the bride's mother, 222 Mayberry alley, and at the home of the bridegroom's parents, on East Centre street. The Lithuanian band, of which the bridegroom is a member, serenaded the couple at the latter place last evening.

Influx of Medicants.

There is a general complaint about the great number of beggars of various shades and degrees that infest the town at present. The business people complain the most and say the doors of their places are almost swung off their hinges by the frequency of visits by alms-seekers. The complaints are certainly justified, as it seems that there are at present more cripples (some more or less bogus, too) dependent upon public charity than the county almshouse can accommodate.

TROLLEYMEN ON STRIKE.

Philadelphia Street Car Employees Again Dissatisfied.

PHILADELPHIA, April 19.—A general strike on all the street railway lines of the Union Traction company was ordered into effect yesterday afternoon, and went into effect at 4 o'clock this morning, when the first day cars were due to begin their runs. With the exception of two comparatively short cross town lines not controlled by this company, every railway line in the city is affected by the order. The company employs nearly 6,000 men, but how many will join the strike is a matter of conjecture at this time.

The order to strike emanated from the central board of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees, after an all day secret session. It was the direct result of correspondence between a committee of employes and J. Lowther Welsh, president of the Union Traction company, when a proposition offered by the men to submit their grievances to arbitration was summarily rejected by President Welsh.

The railway men have proceeded with the utmost caution and secrecy, and although it had been clear for the past three days that a crisis was impending the strike order came rather unexpectedly to the general public. To insure support by the national board of the association such an order must receive the sanction of that body, and so far as could be learned no communication had been received from the board up to last evening. It appears, however, that such sanction was given as early as last Friday night, to be used only in the event of failure of the overtures for settlement.

The movements of William D. Mahon, president of the association, have been guarded with the utmost secrecy, but it is authoritatively asserted that he is in this city guiding the movements of the men, but that he is in hiding to avoid possible arrest.

The principal question at issue is the demand of the men for $2 for a ten hour day. The company has positively declared that such a demand cannot for a moment be considered. Other grievances are alleged discrimination in favor of new employes since the strike of December last, and the dismissal of old employes for trivial reasons.

The officials of the company declare that the men who desert the company now will never again be employed under any circumstances. This threat has had the effect of preventing many dissatisfied ones from joining in the strike. A number of cars have been running this morning, though far from the regular quota. It is feared that there will be violence before the day has passed, as the few cars that have been running this morning have been loudly hoisted by citizens. That the condition of the workers is deplorable is admitted on all sides, while there is general denunciation of the overbearing brutality of the railroad managers.

The temper of the railway men has been demonstrated during the past few days by a number of vicious assaults on non-union men, but the police authorities are determined to prevent a recurrence of the riotous disturbances of the last strike at any cost.
