MAY DAY IN EUROPE.

Riots in the Austrian Capital, in Spain and in Hungary.

NO FATALITIES YET REPORTED.

In a Conflict with the Police in Vienna One of the Rioters Had His Head Cut Off Elsewhere Throughout Europe the Day Passed Without Violence.

LONDON, May 2.—Adverse received here from cities and towns throughout the continent of Europe show that there have been small socialist and labor meetings incident to May day, but there has been little suspension of work. In spite of the apprehensions which have been felt that the day would be characterized by widespread labor disturbances. There has been no disorder whatever, except at Vienna at Bilbao and in Hungary.

In Vienna all work was entirely suspended, and meetings of laborers were held in every quarter of the city and were very largely attended. These meetings adopted resolutions in favor of universal suffrage.

At 9 o'clock in the afternoon enormous crowds proceeded along the Ringstrasse to the Prater, where the cafes and restaurants were crammed full of people. The numbers were estimated at over 90,000 people.

Notwithstanding this vast concourse all was quiet until a dispute arose in the evening between some Bohemian workmen and the landlord of the big Svoboda restaurant. The workmen became infuriated and smashed everything in the restaurant. A fierce fight ensued with the mounted and foot police. Numbers of persons, including women and children, were seriously wounded by snipers, and the hand of one person was cut off.

Many of the police were also badly injured, including three inspectors, by stones, beer jugs and whatever else the rioters could lay hold of for use as missiles. The military was summoned by telephone and two squadrons of lancers, with drawn sabers, galloped to the Prater, followed by four battalions of infantry, who hastened to the scene at a double quick with fixed bayonets.

Intense excitement was caused throughout the city by the rioting and by vague fears of a widespread outbreak. Fifty arrests were made, and ninety persons injured were taken to the hospital, while large numbers of those who were hurt were carried to their homes by friends. Order was restored in the city by 8 o'clock in the evening.

At Bilbao, in Spain, 1,500 miners from the Gallarta and Arboleda districts struck and became riotous, so that the gendarmes were obliged to fire upon them to suppress the disturbance.

A May day riot occurred at Chatelet, in the province of Hainaut, Belgium. At that place 3,000 socialists came into collision with the police, and blows were exchanged. In this contingency the police drew their swords and used them freely, but they were compelled to retreat before the riotous mob. Several shots were fired, but no one was hit. Finally the gendarmes were summoned, and they quelled the riot.

TILLMAN AND HILL.
The North Carolina Senator Again Assails the Administration, AND THE NEW YORKER RESPONDS.

Mr. Tillman Denounces That He Will Desert the Democratic Party if Solver is Ignored—Senator Gorman Succeeds in Cutting Down the Naval Appropriation.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The debate in the senate yesterday was of a dramatic and sensational character, recalling the famous Ingalls-Voorhees contest of some years ago. Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, again brought his unique personality into the debate, his speech being the first of any length since his memorable maiden effort attacking public officials, high and low. While he spoke the silver pitfork presented to him in the west was conspicuously displayed on his scarf. The senator used the blunt words characteristic of his utterance, arraigning the president and cabinet officers with unsparring criticism and personal invective. He also addressed himself personally to Mr. Hill and Mr. Sherman, and drew from the former several sharp rejoinders, while Mr. Sherman declined to be brought into a controversy with the South Carolina senator.

Mr. Tillman charged Senator Hill with being a representative of the bankers rather than of the people, and after sharply criticizing bond issues exclaimed: "If you force this thing much further there will be a repudiation of bonds and interest, too."

"And if you can't have that," coolly suggested Mr. Hill, "I suppose you'll have bloodshed?"

"Yes, and the blood will be on your hands," responded Mr. Tillman, his words ringing through the chamber.

"I tell you we are desperate," Mr. Tillman went on. "I have been through the west and I know how the people feel."

Speaking of the president Mr. Tillman declared that "he stands as the tool of the classes, representing only money, the almighty dollar. Grover Cleveland, John Sherman and John Carlisle are affiliates."

Proceeding he argued with vehemence that the taxes to pay for the bonds would be wrung from the hands of the toiling masses. Nothing would be paid by the plutocrats who sat in their offices and clipped coupons.

The senator added that the Democracy could not win in the coming election. If the farmers could be fooled into voting that ticket any longer let them do it. "And what will I do?" the senator asked of himself, and then answered: "I expect to go to Chicago as a delegate. I expect to get my party to throw off its rottenness. If we have to bid good-by to New York and Tammany I may shed a few tears. But if they succeed in buying a few more delegates—as I understand they did in Michigan the other day—so as to be able to endorse Grover Cleveland and 'sound money,' then I am going to take my hat and bid the senator from New York and all like him a long farewell. Where I'll go I don't know. I can't go to Populism. Populism is only an explosion of wrath. The Populists tried too much and scattered themselves on the wall."

The senator declared that the Democracy was on its final trial. If it did not progess for free silver at Chicago it was gone forever.

Mr. Tillman next took up Secretary Herbert, who, said the senator, had been making a speech at Cleveland to some bond owners and coupon clippers, and made running comments while he read the secretary's speech. He spoke of the slylocks ruling the people, and denouncing them. It would be better, he commented, if they absorbed the people once instead of spreading it over years.

"But I tell you I can see the end coming," said Mr. Tillman. "There is a God in Heaven, and a reckoning must come. We need a purification of public life. We need a new constitutional convention to declare the people's rights and to tie the hands of the thieves who are robbing them."

Mr. Hill followed Mr. Tillman, answering the latter point by point. The New York senator referred to the coming Democratic national convention, declaring that there would be no split, but that true Democracy would recognize the rule of the majority and keep the party intact, despite the threats of the South Carolina senator to leave the party. Mr. Hill spoke freely and frankly of his differences with the officers of the administration, and in particular referred to the grievous mistake, as he regarded it, of Secretary Carlisle in not supporting Senator Blackburn when the latter was the nominee of a Democratic caucus. The senator discussed internal party affairs, urging harmony and the termination of venomous assaults of Democrats on a Democratic president. He spoke for two hours, and was accorded the closest attention.

Mr. Hill turned his attention to Mr. Tillman's statement as to quitting the Democratic party. The New York senator said the essential principle of the Democratic party was its recognition of the rule of the majority. The South Carolina senator declares he will go to the Chicago convention. Mr. Hill supposed, he said, that the senator like a true Democrat would abide by the decision of the convention. "If he goes there with any other intention," exclaimed Mr. Hill, with ringing vehemence, "he ought not to be admitted and he will not be admitted."

The debate attracted a great crowd to the senate wing of the Capitol—the greatest since congress assembled, filling the senate galleries and overflowing into the corridors, where long lines of people struggled for admission.

During the early part of the day Mr. Gorman's amendment reducing the number of battleships from four, as reported, to two, was adopted by a vote 31 to 27. Another amendment by Mr. Allen, striking out all battleships, was defeated. Before adjournment it was decided to take a final vote on the naval bill today.

The house again devoted the major portion of the day to debate on the bankruptcy bill. Several amendments were offered, but none were adopted. In the course of debate Mr. Henderson read a letter from ex-President Harrison in support of the measure. A bill to provide for a delegate in congress from the Territory of Alaska was defeated by a vote 41 to 60. A bill was passed to authorize the free importation of foreign exhibits to the Tennessee exposition, and the report in the contested election case of Wilson vs. McLaurin, from the Sixth South Carolina district, confirming the title of the sitting member to his seat was adopted.

THE TRIUMPH OF LOVE
IS HAPPY, FRUITFUL MARRIAGE.
Every Man Who Would Know the Grand Truths, the Plain Facts, the New Discoveries of Medical Science as Applied to Married Life, Who Would Atone for Past Errors and Avoid Future Pitfalls, Should Secure the Wonderful Little Book called "Complete Manhood, and How to Attain It."

Here at last is information from a high medical source that must work wonders with this generation of men.

The book fully describes a method by which to attain full vigor and manly power. A method by which to end all unnatural drains on the system.

To cure nervousness, lack of self-control, dependency, etc.

To exchange a faded and worn nature for one of brightness, buoyancy and power.

To cure forever effects of excesses, overwork, worry, etc.

To give full strength, development and tone to every portion and organ of the body.

Age no barrier. Failure impossible. Two thousand references.

The book is purely medical and scientific, useless to curiosity seekers, invaluable to men who only need it.

A despairing man, who had applied to me, soon after wrote:

"Well, I tell you that first day is one I'll never forget. I just bubbled with joy. I wanted to hug everybody and tell them my old self had died yesterday, and my new self was born to-day. Why didn't you tell me when I first wrote that I would end it this way?"

And another thus:

"If you dumped a cart load of gold at my feet it would not bring such pleasure to my life as your method has done."

Write to the ERBE MEDICAL COMPANY, Buffalo, N. Y., and ask for the little book called "COMPLETE MANHOOD." Refer to this paper, and the company promises to send the book, in sealed envelope, without any name, and entirely free, until it is well introduced.
