TO ADJOURN MAY 18.

The House So Decided by Resolution—Then Passed Liberal Pension Bills. WASHINGTON, May 7.—The house yesterday adjourned on the senate and the country that it had transacted its business and was ready for the final adjournment by passing, without division, a resolution for final adjournment on Monday, May 18.

Mr. Pickler, of South Dakota, chairman of the committee on invalid pensions, desired to keep the house in continuous session in order to go ahead passing bills all night, but the committee on rules protested, stating that the special order did not contemplate prolonging the session beyond the regular hour for adjournment.

The final vote on the resolution for an investigation of recent bond issues will be taken in the senate at 4 o'clock this afternoon. An agreement to this effect was reached late yesterday after several lost votes had been taken, which clearly disclosed the sentiment of the senate on the resolutions.

THE KENTUCKY DERBY.

Ben Brush Captures the Great Equine Prize, BUT BEN EDER SHOULD HAVE WON.

The Bad Riding of the latter's Jockey Alone Prevented the Fonso Colt from Coming in First—As It Was He Was a Very Close Second.

LOUISVILLE, May 7.—To Willie Simms, rather than Ben Brush, belongs the credit of victory in the twenty-second Kentucky derby. The great son of Bramble was not fit for a bruising race, such as he had, but under the careful guidance of Simms he landed the coveted prize and the first Kentucky derby ever run at the shortened distance of a mile and a quarter.

When the flag went down Starter Chin had the horses well in hand, with Ben Eder having the advantage of a neck. The Winner second, First Mate third, The Dragon fourth, Parson fifth, Ulysses sixth, Ben Brush seventh and Semper Ego last.

Simms began riding on the last turn, and when they were straightened for the final run he was leading by a neck from Ben Eder, whom Tabor had brought up from next to last in a half a furlong of the journey.

But there was another horse in the race who, despite the poor riding of his jockey, promised the son of Bramble the race of his life. Ben Brush did not have much left, but Simms was getting what little that did remain out of him, while Ben Eder, with even, steady stride, was gaining on the colt.

A Democratic Sensation. CHICAGO, May 7.—The sensation of the hour in local Democratic circles is a editorial in yesterday's Chronicle, a Democratic paper, to the effect that the real purpose of the meeting here next Friday of the sub-committee of the Democratic national committee is to determine whether or not the national convention shall be held in Chicago at all.
