THE BURIAL OF HOLMES!

The Murderer's Body Encased in a Solid Wall of Cement.

AVERTED A SCENE AT THE END

The Condemned Man Insisted That His Lawyer, Mr. Rotan, Should Walk With Him to the Scaffold, and the Prison Officers Were Forced to Yield.

PHILADELPHIA, May 9.—In the presence of his attorney, Lawyer Samuel P. Rotan, Undertaker John J. O'Rourke, Father McPake and the employes of the Holy Cross cemetery, at Yeadon, the body of Holmes was, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, lowered into a grave dug ten feet deep. He was accorded a Christian burial, and the grave—or rather the two graves—selected for his cement filled box is located in the western part of the cemetery, where single graves are sold in consecrated ground.

Holmes' own wishes regarding his burial have been carried out, and his body is probably now as safe from the ghouls as it would be if locked within the vaults of a safe deposit company. The box which contains the body imbedded in cement that has already hardened weighs over a ton and was too wide to be lowered into an ordinary grave. After the body was lowered into the grave, the grave diggers, aided by a mason, and under the supervision of Lawyer Rotan, piled upon the box a layer of cement two feet thick. The material was packed in about the sides and ends of the novel sarcophagus, and when the job was finished the remains of Holmes were pronounced safe for all time. His tomb will be a solid wall of rock.

It has been developed that a scene was narrowly averted at Holmes' execution. Just as Holmes was preparing to leave his cell to join the march to the gallows he turned to Mr. Perkins, superintendent of the prison, and asked that Mr. Rotan be permitted to accompany him to the scaffold and stand beside him on the gallows. The superintendent told the murderer that he could not allow Mr. Rotan on the scaffold with him.

"Then," said Holmes, with emphasis, "I will not leave this cell. I refuse to go to the scaffold."

Superintendent Perkins argued with the murderer, telling him that such a proceeding was irregular, and that his request could not possibly be granted.

Holmes insisted that his demand be complied with. He would not listen to the objections advanced by Mr. Perkins, and finally stepped across the floor of his cell and stood with his back against the wall. The superintendent begged him to leave his cell quietly, but Holmes was obstinate. He told Mr. Perkins that unless Mr. Rotan was allowed to stand by his side he positively would not move on any terms. "Unless you do as I ask," he said, "I will not leave this cell. You will have to use force to get me to the gallows. You had better do it, or there will be a scene on the scaffold."

Knowing the nature of the man he had to deal with, Superintendent Perkins thought it preferable to give in to him rather than to precipitate a most harrowing and disgraceful scene. So he finally consented, and Holmes walked from his cell down the corridor to the scaffold as docile as a child with Mr. Rotan near him.

Layman Want More Power.

CLEVELAND, May 9.—The Methodist general conference is now well started in the consideration of the mass of important business before it. The lay delegates are showing their purpose to outtalk, if possible, the powers vested in the ministers, and make the conduct of church affairs more democratic. The general committee are in session every afternoon, and yesterday was begun the consideration of the proposition to increase the number of bishops. The colored Methodists want a bishop of their own, and so does Japan and China. It is also proposed to lighten the labors of the four older bishops who were appointed in 1873. The four women delegates have declined not to resume their seats in the conference, though they are entitled to them. The advocates of women delegates feel that they have made a long stride toward their goal in securing the vote in favor of the constitutional amendment.

Big Mining Suit in Denver.

DENVER, May 9.—A suit involving Leadville mining property, known as the Archer Consolidation, said to be worth $90,000,000, was filed in the United States circuit court yesterday. Leonard M. Balou of New York and Alexis M. Lay of Kalamazoo, are the plaintiffs. The defendants are the Ibox Mining company and twenty-five well known mining men, chief of whom is John F. Champion. The complainant alleges that through fraud and deceit the defendants acquired the property now in possession of the Ibox company, and that the plaintiffs were defrauded of their valuable interests therein.

Too Ready with His Revolver.

LEBANON, Pa., May 9.—Policeman Hain, who on Thursday night shot John Smith, of Pleasant Hill, was yesterday committed to prison to await the result of Smith's injuries. The shooting was the result of the gathering of an orderly crowd after a parade, which Hain attempted to disperse. Hain attempted to club Smith, and the latter resisted. The shooting followed. Had it not been for addresses to the angry crowd by Mayor Wetmer, C. R. Lantz and General Gobin it is believed that Hain would have been killed. Smith's condition is critical.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

No Truth in the Report That It Will be Taken from Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 9.—Chairman Harry, of the Democratic national committee, with S. P. Sherman of Indiana; J. G. Praetner of Missouri; T. H. Sherman of Kentucky, and Ben T. Cable of Illinois, all members of the sub-committee of the national committee, came to Chicago yesterday and went into session at the Wellington hotel. They were joined by Joseph Donnersberger and A. A. Goodrich, of the local committee. Mr. Donnersberger handed a check to Mr. Harry for $15,000, which, with the $10,000 already paid, makes $25,000, leaving only $15,000 yet to be paid. "When you visit us next," said Mr. Donnersberger, "the account will be cleared."

An agreement was made by which another meeting of the sub-committee will be held in this city toward the end of the month, when Mr. Donnersberger will hand over the final check.

After all this had been satisfactorily arranged Mr. Harry said: "All talk about the national convention being held in some other city than Chicago is bosh. There was not a syllable in the letter I wrote to the members of the local committee a few days ago on which such a rumor could possibly have been based."

Dealing with the telegraphic and seating arrangements, Chairman Harry appointed Mr. Praetner and Mr. Sherman as a committee to accompany the representatives of the telegraph companies and Mr. Canada and Mr. Martin to the Coliseum, with a view to coming to an understanding.

Hamilton Diston's Last Insurance.

PITTSBURGH, May 9.—Hamilton Diston, of Philadelphia, a few weeks before his sudden death, had increased the amount of his life insurance $900,000. A representative of the company that loses by the transaction was in this city yesterday, and confirms this statement. While apparently in the prime of health, he made the necessary application for the additional insurance. The application was formally accepted by the executive officers and referred to the officials at Philadelphia. Mr. Diston in the meanwhile underwent the customary physical examination, and the application was granted. The insurance of the Diston family reaches $2,500,000.

A Serenade.

The Grant Band tendered a serenade to Mrs. Jane Grant last evening, at her residence on West Oak street, and rendered a lengthy program of choice selections. On account of a previous announcement a large attendance of people was attracted and they evidently enjoyed the concert as much as the honored lady and her family. The cement pavement in front of the property, from Chestnut to Gilbert streets, was filled with dancers during the concert. The band was named after Mrs. Grant's husband and in memory of the substantial encouragement he and his sons have given the organization the widow is serenaded once a year.

PLOPPERT HAS RETURNED!

It Considerably Modifies the Appearance of His Case.

WAS A SMOULDERING SENSATION

The Young Man Stopped Business at His Bakery and Suddenly Left Town. This, Followed by a Warrant, Caused Considerable Talk.

The bakery and confectionery which was conducted by John F. Ploppert, on East Centre street, has been closed for three days and this in the absence of an announcement, caused considerable talk, which grew into a smoldering sensation yesterday when it became known that Ploppert had disappeared and that a warrant had been issued for his arrest. The developments to-day, however, showed that while on the surface the circumstances were of a very sensational character, the real facts were comparatively unimportant and, although a warrant has been served in the matter and Mr. Ploppert is under bail, the whole affair springs more from a family disagreement than anything else.

The facts appear to be that some time ago Ploppert was sold out at Sheriff's sale on a judgment note given to protect his father, who claims to have furnished the capital for the business. The bakery and confectionery was re-opened and conducted until last Thursday, when George P. Ploppert, the father, the son alleges, stopped the business. The cause for this act, it is claimed, was a family disagreement. The bins of the store were pulled down and yesterday morning John, the son, left town. Immediately after the father caused a warrant to be issued charging larceny as bailie. The specific charge was that John had had a horse in his possession as bailie for the father. The animal was injured on account of a defective highway in West Mahanoy township, and a few days ago John collected $100 damages and kept the money. Last night John returned of his own volition and was arrested by Constable Phillips this morning. John said that as his father stopped the business he went to Mahanoy City and Hazleton to look for work, and that was all there was to his sudden departure. He furnished $300 bail for trial on the charge brought by his father. It is generally believed that all parties will cool down in a few days and an amicable settlement will be made. The bakery is still idle and the store closed.
