REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

FOR CONGRESSMAN-AT-LARGE,
GALUSHA A. GROW,
OF Susquehanna.

SAMUEL A. DAVENPORT, OF Erie.

The combination that will defeat McKinley is a strong one—the political leaders and the sound money advocates.

If some one doesn't bridle "Obediah," Charley Brumm will likely be nominated. Such warfare will never win in Schuylkill county.

The Government expenditures exceeded the revenues by nearly five millions of dollars last month. That shows how the Democratic tariff law is operating as a revenue raiser.

Every day that Mr. McKinley remains silent on the money question his chances are proportionately sadder. If McKinley's tongue has not yet to the roof of his mouth he should put it to some use.

Our Democratic friends are in a quandary. They are without a Moses in the hour of their greatest need. Even the Pattison boom has apparently taken flat, and the third-term movement had a quietus placed upon it at an early date.

DAVE MARTIN again has the floor. His claim that McKinley would receive 27 votes from Pennsylvania having been refuted by the delegates themselves, it is now in order for himself, Magee, Flynn and "Mc-too" Hackett to express their preference.

STATE SENATOR ANDREWS said the other day that he was so certain of Senator Quay's nomination at St. Louis that he wouldn't shave his whiskers or cut his hair until the "old man" was elected President. He also added that he didn't expect to go into the hair raising business, either.

The political announcement of Emanuel Jenkyn will be found in another column. Mr. Jenkyn is no stranger to the voters of the county, the handsome majority he received for County Auditor attesting his popularity. He is seeking the nomination for County Recorder on the Republican ticket and his host of friends are confident of success. Mr. Jenkyn would certainly add strength to the ticket.

THERE is no reason why the business man of this country, says the Patterson Press, should not at once proceed to act upon the assumption that a Republican administration will be elected a few months from now, ensuring the return to power of the only party which understands the genius of this Republic and knows how to govern it. We shall then enter upon an era of prosperity such as we have not known before. There is nothing sadder than this and people who are wise will at once begin to discount that certainty. We have four years of leeway to make up.

MUCH complaint is made, especially among the innocent victims and their friends, because of the lax enforcement of the law against gambling in this town. There is said to be a gang of card "sharpers" plying their trade in town unimpeded, and their victims are becoming numerous. Their game is an old one, but old is it is they appear to reap a rich harvest, and from people who can ill afford the loss. The sharpers are known, and if any further complaints are made to this office we shall be compelled to let the public know who the guilty parties are. The warning should be heeded by those interested in order to avoid trouble for themselves.

EXPERIENCE has shown that Shenandoah merchants can compete with any in the county, both as to the quality of goods and the display. So far as prices are concerned the home merchants have demonstrated very forcibly that prospective buyers can do no better than by dealing at home, and especially with those who speak to the people through the columns of the HERALD. It is bad policy to buy goods out of town that you can secure at home. It not only weakens the mercantile strength of the town, but sets a bad example for others. Our merchants pay taxes, license, rents and distribute their money in labor and investments, and without the patronage of home buyers they cannot do this. It is pleasant to note, however, that the tendency to deal with foreign merchants does not obtain to the extent it formerly did, and we hope to see it done away with entirely.

In an address at St. Louis, in which he disparages the movement for the creation of a permanent court of international arbitration, Archbishop Ireland advanced the theory that "war is a great indicator of patriotism, and that if we come to a stage where everything in dispute is to be peacefully settled we will lose interest in the affairs of our country in its relations with other nations." The eloquent prelate then went on to assert that the Rebellion was the "great object lesson to the nations of the earth of the stability of a democratic form of government, and the victory of the Union Army was a stunning blow to money-bag and despotism everywhere." It is refreshing to hear such sentiments from the lips of a distinguished Christian clergyman. Most of the members of the mercantile profession who have spoken in this theme have emphatically taken the opposite view. Notably was this the case with Leo XIII and Cardinal Gibbons, both of the same religious household as the Archbishop of St. Paul. Nevertheless there is force in what Archbishop Ireland avers. While there are subjects which no country can afford to submit to arbitration, yet humanity and civilization demand that disagreements between nations be referred to disinterested and impartial arbitrators.

THE CLOSING SESSION.

The Business of the Primitive Methodist Conference Concluded.

SPECIAL TO EVENING HERALD.
SHEMOSH, May 13.—The devotional exercises at the opening of the Primitive Methodist conference yesterday were conducted by William Gething, layman from Nanticoke.

Rev. W. H. Bentley was granted permission to take a two months' vacation in Europe, his church having given consent and provision having been made for the pulpit in his absence.

The pastor of the St. Clair church was made the custodian of all conference documents that must be preserved.

The reclamation fund report was read by Rev. W. E. Nicholls and showed very gratifying results.

Rev. H. G. Russell was elected to preach the conference sermon next conference.

The report of the Connectional Trustees was read. The Trustees were informed that several parcels of land required conserving to the conference. The real estate in the state of Missouri bequeathed to the Benevolent Association by Rev. Parker, now deceased, and held by the Trustees was transferred to the above association with all profits, &c.

Rev. C. Prosser, the General Missionary secretary, having so ably served the conference in that capacity, was unanimously re-elected.

Rev. T. C. Bachs was re-elected General Missionary Traveling Agent.

At 2 p. m. devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. W. J. Richards. A good part of the afternoon was devoted to expression of opinion as to the feasibility of a traveling evangelist with a tent during the summer months. It is believed that great good could be done in certain places. It was deemed practicable and steps will be taken to that end.

The stationing of ministers followed and all the ministers, probationers, candidates and supplies were assigned charges.

Rev. James Moore having received a call from the Shenandoah church and accepted, the conference confirmed the appointment. Rev. John Bath having received a call from the Plymouth First church, the conference confirmed it.

Several applicants for the ministry could not be considered, there being no places for them. This is usually a time of anxiety, but whatever amount might have been felt it was not manifested. All accepted defeat, or victory, gracefully.

At 7:30 p. m. "Forward Movement" was the subject. Rev. G. J. Jeffries was the chairman. Two very able discourses were delivered by Rev. G. Lees, Tamaqua, and Rev. J. B. Taylor, Youngstown, Ohio.

In order to get through with business a late session was held. A great deal of business was transacted.

Rev. J. Bath was made one of the conference trustees, and also the general secretary of the conference. At midnight the presiding officer pronounced the benediction and the delegates hurried away to their quarters and, after a few hours rest, to their various fields of labor and families. It was thought by all to be the most pleasant and most profitable conference held for many years and grand results are predicted from this year's labors.

Hip Disease

Results from a scrofulous and impure condition of the blood, and it is cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla the great blood purifier. The father of a Philadelphia girl writes this: "We gave Hood's Sarsaparilla to our little girl, who had symptoms of hip disease. She could not put her foot down on the floor when we commenced giving her the medicine, but in a short time she was able to get off the couch and to reach her playthings. Since then she has steadily improved, thanks to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and her general health is all that could be desired. When any of the other children are not well we give them Hood's Sarsaparilla and we earnestly recommend it to others." E. BREYER, 263 Richmond St., Philadelphia.

Hood's Pills easy to buy, easy to take and easy to effect. 25 cents.

COTTOLENE.

COTTOLENE.

COTTOLENE.

COTTOLENE.

COTTOLENE is sold everywhere in one, three and five pound tins. Beware of imitations. Genuine has trade-marks—"Cottolene," and steer's head in cotton-plant wreath—on every tin. Made only by THE N. K. FAIRBANK COMPANY, Chicago, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh.

This Is It!

This is COTTOLENE—that is fast banishing lard from the kitchens of the world. This is the new shortening that housekeepers say is so much more economical and delicious than lard. This is the product that physicians say is destined to make dyspepsia a disease of the past. It's the greatest step of modern science toward pure food, better cooking, perfect health. Judge for yourself whether it's time you let lard go the way of the candle and the spinning-wheel.

IN SENATE AND HOUSE.

A Compromise Effected Over California's Deep Water Harbor Dispute.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The animated contest which has proceeded for the last four days in the senate over a deep water harbor on the southern coast of California was brought to a close yesterday by a compromise between the conflicting interests.

The issue has been between the points of Santa Monica, the terminus of the Southern Pacific, and San Pedro, the locality urged by the California senators. Senator Fry, chairman of the commerce committee, finally harmonized the difference by referring the determination between them to a commission to consist of three civil engineers, a naval officer and an officer of the coast survey. The compromise was accepted by the California senators, and was unanimously passed. An amendment urged by Mr. Gosman, limiting the expenditures under the contract authorization to $10,000,000 annually, led to a lengthy debate. A motion by Mr. Vest to table the amendment failed. Yeas, 20; nays, 31. An agreement was then reached to dispose of the amendment to the river and harbor bill by 5 o'clock this afternoon.

The house entered upon the contested election case of Reinker vs. Downing, from the Sixteenth Illinois district. The debate was very spirited. Mr. Moody, of Massachusetts, joined with the Democratic majority in asking the adoption of a resolution for an official recount of the ballots in dispute, and supported his position with a vigorous speech, in which he declared that the unseating of Downing would be an outrage upon the people of the Sixteenth Illinois district and a stain upon the Fifty-fourth congress. Before the case was brought up Mr. Wheeler, of Alabama, was taken to task for abusing the privilege of printing in The Record and some interpolations in a recent speech of his were expunged from the permanent record.
