METHODIST BISHOPS CHOSEN

Chaplain McCabe and Rev. Earl Cranston the Winners.

DR. McCABE THE FIRST SELECTED

"The Fighting Parson" Chosen on the Fifteenth Ballot, and on the Sixteenth Another Veteran of the War Was Elected, the Contest Ending.

CLEVELAND, May 20.—The deadlock in the Methodist Episcopal general conference over the selection of two bishops was broken yesterday by the selection of Dr. Charles C. McCabe, of New York, and Dr. Earl Cranston, of Cincinnati. It was apparent when the delegates assembled in the morning that they were tired of the balloting, and were determined to bring matters to an issue. The ball was set rolling by Rev. C. L. Stafford, of Iowa, who moved that the election of bishops be indefinitely postponed. This precipitated a lively discussion, and the motion was defeated. Then Dr. A. B. Leonard, of Cincinnati, moved that in future ballots the name of no candidate be announced who received less than 25 votes. The motion carried, and it was then the deadlock.

From the first the conference had been voting for two candidates on each ballot; that is, each delegate had two votes on each ballot. On every ballot from one to two hundred votes were scattered among a score or more candidates who had no chance of election. As soon as it was decided that candidates must receive more than ten votes to be counted the delegates said that the time to do something had arrived, and a combination was quickly formed.

On the fourteenth ballot Dr. McCabe's vote jumped to 258 from 190, what he had received on the ballot taken Monday night, and Dr. Cranston's from 215 to 251. That indicated clearly who the leaders were, and on the fifteenth ballot Dr. McCabe's vote rose to 314, or eight more than were needed to elect, while Dr. Cranston polled 228, or eight less than were needed. The next ballot gave the victory to Dr. Cranston, and the west and east had both elected their candidates.

The vote on the fifteenth ballot was as follows: C. C. McCabe, 314; Cranston, 228; Buttz, 112; Hamilton, 109; Neely, 70; Bowen, 50; scattering, 35.

On the sixteenth ballot 504 votes were cast, making 800 necessary for a choice. Of these Cranston received 395, thus electing him by thirty. Buttz received 82, Hamilton 35, Neely 11 and scattering 10.

Bishop Walden, speaking of the result, said it was an Ohio day. Both of the bishops elected are natives of the Buckeye state, and six of the sixteen bishops now on the board were born in Ohio. They are Stephen M. Merrill, John M. Walden, Isaac W. Joyce, Charles C. McCabe, Earl Cranston and James M. Thornburn. Bishop Foster, who was retired, is also an Ohio man.

"Chaplain McCabe," the "fighting parson," is the most picturesque personage in the Methodist Episcopal denomination. He derives his special sobriquet from having served as chaplain of an Ohio regiment during the war. When advising soldiers to praise God he always added the injunction to the men to "keep their powder dry." At the battle of Winchester he was taken prisoner and sent to Libby prison. His experience as a prisoner has been given to the world in his popular lecture, "The Bright Side of Life in Libby Prison." As a member of the board of church extension since the war he has done heroic service for the denomination. Bishop McCabe will be 60 years old in October.

Rev. Dr. Earl Cranston is also an army veteran. At the age of 21 years he graduated from the Ohio university and enlisted in the army of the Union. He fought superbly throughout the contest and won a captain's commission. After the contest he prepared himself for the ministry, and became a popular exhorter and preacher. He is an able financier and business man, and has for years been a member of the firm of Cranston & Stover, book publishers, of Cincinnati. He has for some years been agent of the Methodist Book Concern. Dr. Cranston will be 50 years old in June.

Some of the delegates are working to have the staff of the church extension society decreased. This cropped out at a meeting of the committee on church extension yesterday. The committee recommended that a work on state and national law as it applies to the holdings of churches be included in the course of reading of theological students. It was voted that where a church asks aid in building, and accepts it, the building must conform with plans approved by the church extension board.

There was a hot discussion before the committee on missions on the proposition that persons may specify the purpose for which special gifts to the church shall be used. Bishop Thornburn is exceedingly anxious that this be done. A few days ago he said that if better support was not given the mission work in India one out of every six missionaries there would be compelled to return home. Yesterday he said that while that might not be the result, a continuation of present conditions might prevent his returning to India. The charge pressed most with the opposition of Dr. McCabe and Dr. Leonard. The matter was held over.

A PRESIDENTIAL VETO

Disapproves Renewal of a Pension Under Peculiar Circumstances.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The president has vetoed the bill granting a pension to Captain H. Mowatt. It appears from the president's message that she was married in 1858 to Alfred B. Soule, who served as major of a Maine regiment of volunteers in the late war for less than a year. He died in February, 1864, and in 1895 a pension was granted to the widow at $8 per month, dating from her husband's death. The widow continued to receive the pension until June 17, 1899, when she was married to Henry T. Mowatt, which under the law terminated her pensionable right.

In 1878 Mowatt died. The president then continues: "Though twenty-seven years have passed since the beneficiary ceased to be the widow of the deceased soldier, and though she has been the widow of Henry T. Mowatt for eighteen years, it is proposed by the bill under consideration to again place her name upon the pension roll as the widow of Alfred B. Soule. Late major of the Twenty-third regiment Maine volunteers. Of course, the propriety of the law which terminates the pension of a soldier's widow upon her remarriage will not be questioned. I suppose no one would suggest the renewal of such pension during the lifetime of her second husband. Her pensionable relation to the government as the widow of her deceased soldier husband under any reasonable pension theory absolutely terminated with her remarriage.

"If she is to be again pensioned because her second husband does not survive her, the transaction has more the complexion of an adjustment of a governmental insurance on the life of the second husband than the allowance of a pension on just and reasonable grounds. Legislation of this description is sure to establish a precedent which it will be difficult to disclaim, and which if followed cannot fail to lead to abuse."

A Newly Arrived Lithuanian Victimizes His Cousin.

FOREIGNER MAKES A CLEAN SWEEP

Constable Thomas Boltz Has a Lively Time at Hazleton—Chased His Man Into a Synagogue—Congregation Caused His Arrest for Disturbing the Service.

A new convert has been made to the ranks of the agitators of restricted immigration under circumstances that will no doubt make him a life-long friend of the cause. It is a case in which a Lithuanian who arrived in this country but four days ago has already made a sweep and is beating tracks in the direction of Canada with the skill and speed of a full-fledged American bank cashier.

Last night an excited Lithuanian appeared at the Pennsylvania Railroad depot and begged the employes to telegraph to New York, Philadelphia and other points the description of a man he said had robbed him. The railway men, of course, could not comply with the request and the excited man was referred to the police authorities. The man became calmer after taking a rest and said he was John Macnovitz, a Lithuanian subconductor at Mahanoy Plains. He added that last Saturday his cousin, William Fiskaitz, arrived at Mahanoy Plains from the old country and received a cordial welcome at the Macnovitz home. Yesterday the new arrival disappeared with $200 in cash, and a silver watch belonging to the hotelkeeper and some shirts and clothing owned by a boarder. The thief was tracked to this town and all trace of him was lost for a while, but Detective Amour learned that he left town last night, at nine o'clock, on a Lehigh Valley train, for New York city. The fugitive was ent enough to keep away from the depot. He persuaded a Lithuanian boy to purchase a ticket for him. A description of the man was telegraphed to the police headquarters at New York city this morning. He is but 20 years of age.

"TOM" BOLIN IN HAZLETON.

Was Bound to Get the Man His Warrant Called For.

Today's Hazleton Plain Speaker says Constable T. M. Boltz, of Shenandoah, arrived in town yesterday morning armed with a warrant for the arrest of a Hebrew named Jacob Roekmaker who purchased a pair of shoes from George Poppert, a shoe dealer at Shenandoah, on the credit of his former employer's name. Both the Shenandoah merchants have accounts and when it was time to square up last month's accounts the action of Mr. Roekmaker was detected. Learning that he was located in this city the constable was sent in pursuit of him, arriving in this city yesterday morning. The warrant was issued by Alderman Laubach. Having been informed that he was attending religious services at Harmony Hall the constable asked for admittance to the meeting room which for a time was denied him. When he gained an entrance, he was permitted to go only a short distance into the room so as not to disturb those engaged in prayer. Mr. Boltz was not satisfied, however, as he wanted to search a large chest, believing that the congregation were shielding his prisoner. Members interfering a worldly war ensued. Samuel Gishnick, one of the members of the congregation, then swore out a warrant before Alderman Bickerton for the arrest of Boltz on the charge of disturbing their services. Attorney Jones was employed by the plaintiff and Abner Smith for the defendant. All the constables and the policemen were present at the hearing, being interested in the constable's behalf. Hartman Zehender entered bail in the amount of $300 for the defendant while Mr. Silverman entered bail in the same amount for the prosecutor to insure action in the case.

THE GANG HELD.

Men and Women Have a Squall to a General Row.

Saturday night a gang of men had a free fight on the flats at the west end of Coal street. When the police arrived the battle was over and no one at hand made complaint, so no arrests were made. But last night a squall in the battle developed in Justice Shoemaker's office. James McKee and Martin Hennessy were arraigned on complaint of Mrs. Patience Bender and Miss Jeanie Hinks and the charge was that "a gang of hoodlums came to the former deponent's home on Saturday night and McKee and Hennessy called the deponents the vilest of names, made improper solicitations and others created a breach of the peace." Among the witnesses in the case were Peter Dillman, Mrs. Lizzie Dillman, Mrs. Mary Babarowski, Susan Flock, Minerva Dillman and Sarah Hinks. A very lively session resulted in the accused men being put under $500 bail, each, for trial at court.
