REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

FOR CONGRESSMAN AT LARGE,
GALUSHA A. GROW,
OF Susquehanna.
SAMUEL A. DAVENPORT, OF Erie.

"The Phillies are on the telegraph" is what the base ball cranks are saying just now; and there is a crowd of disgusted cranks in town who a week ago were very proud of those same "Phillies."

A FRIEND tells us that he recently went into the store of a business man who did not advertise, and was surprised to find him busy. The storekeeper, it transpired, had the fish and a Waterbury watch, and when he wasn't scratching himself he was winding his watch.

ONCE more the House has risen to meet an emergency bill, and frankly, but without undue haste. It has passed a bill for the restriction of immigration that though in a language of one of the speakers, "it will never solve the problem of immigration, it will only solve the present situation." There is nothing in it that any one could Senator can object to. As a substitute for the Lodge compact, it was now before the Senate it was adopted and put into operation before Congress adjourns.

The long drawn-out fight over the water superintendent has at last been settled, Oscar Butteridge being re-elected. There is little honor in the outcome for at least one Cribben member of Council, while the five members of that party who stood by the party in unison throughout the contest to the last, seeing the impossibility of landing their candidate for water superintendent and not wishing to block borough business, did the best thing and secured a Congressman from the Second ward. For this they are being highly complimented. The public, as well as the Cribbians, are no doubt pleased at the matter settled, with honors even. Personal revenge when carried into borough affairs will always bring forth a just condemnation from a suffering constituency.

THE RUSSIAN PAGEANT.

The eyes of the world are upon Russia just now, and the reports of the pomp and circumstance attendant upon the coronation of the empress of that vast domain are read with avidity everywhere. The coronation of Alexander III cost $30,000,000, and it is expected the coronation of his son, Nicholas II, will exceed that vast sum, and for magnitude it will exceed anything of the kind the world has ever seen.

It is attended by royal and semi-royal dignitaries from all parts of the world, such attended by a numerous suite. Representatives of every civilized government under the sun are there, and of many uncivilized ones beside. Far of China is represented by her greatest statesman, and Japan by her greatest general. All the semi-barbarous tribes under Russian domination have sent their chiefs to do homage to the Great White Bear, their sovereign, and renew their fealty upon the occasion of his investiture with the symbols of his kingship.

Taken altogether, it is one of the most impressive ceremonies known to man and fairly dazzles the eyes of all who witness it. Yet, underneath the surface and back of all this pageantry, there is probably more misery and degradation than in any other part of the civilized world, and the thoughtful mind cannot but recall the tragic death of Alexander II, as well as the several attempts upon the life of Alexander III, and wonder how soon similar attempts will be made upon the life of Nicholas II by some of the very subjects who are attending the grand ceremony of to-day.

There is probably no country on the earth where the subject is so hampered in his rights and arbitrary laws as Russia; no land where civilization and barbarism are so close together, and where autocratic power is so relentlessly wielded without any regard for the well being of the subject; where the common people are looked upon as little better than cattle, and whose lives are not much better. Behind all this barbaric splendor is the oppression of people whose religious beliefs differ from that prescribed by the Russian law, and of those striving for liberty of thought, so that it is difficult for an American to realize the possibility of so tamely accepting the rights of human beings, and in the sight of God, by this autocrat, claiming a Divine right to govern them.

It is said this young monarch is more liberally inclined than his predecessors, upon whose life his subjects made several attempts as protests against tyranny, to attract the attention of the world and stir up his subjects to agitate the question of human liberty, which they were not permitted to do by powerful means. It is to be hoped that he is, and that his reign will be signalized, not only by the pardon of a few who have transgressed the law, but by the granting of greater political rights and a constitutional government, with freedom of conscience.

Russia is the greatest country in the world, and its rapid development would follow quickly upon the heels of the enfranchisement of her people. Should the young Czar see to the bright of such relationship his name and fame would go rising down the road. But these are Utopian dreams. He is surrounded by bureaucrats who will discourage all liberal impulses, as they did in his father, and the present age is not likely to witness any great changes.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER.
Ma. Fortson.—The weightiest political subject now claiming the attention of Republicans throughout the country and overshadowing local politics in the columns of our great Republican papers is the Presidential nomination, but this convention will soon be a thing of the past, and the preparation for a county convention will demand the attention of Republicans who have the welfare of local government at heart. Before long the voice of the candidates will be heard in the county, and those who know us we will not require the services of a detective to discover aspirants for the different offices. Their names in Lehigh, Shamokin has been credited with having one hundred men qualified to serve the county, and who are looking with longing eyes toward the "hill" at Pottsville. However that may be, we feel that the pleasure of participation will exceed those of realization with about ninety-nine of that hundred. For the other one though we do claim the pleasure of realization, and by right of our new organizing Republicanism we boldly make a stand and with a confidence born of a sense of justice to the party north of the mountains, we proudly proclaim to the Republican voters of Schuylkill county the name of William Neisewander, of Shenandoah, for County Commissioner. Of Mr. Neisewander's ability and fitness for the office it is unnecessary to speak, as his long acquaintance throughout the confines of the county have spread the story of his honor, integrity and business capacity far better than could be done in an article of this kind. Mr. Neisewander, or "Billy" as he is familiarly called, has ever been in the foremost rank of workers and fighters in the cause of Republicanism, and not only this, but his purse has always been open when legitimate expenses were to be met. Although repeatedly urged to seek office he has strenuously declined in favor of some other man. After great solicitation we have gained the use of Mr. Neisewander's name for the office of County Commissioner, and have resolved that as far as is consistent with dignity, and a pure and proper regard for the success of the party, we must receive due consideration at the hands of our convention next August.

Kerrigan's Whereabouts.

Charles Funston, of the Centralia House, says that Kerrigan, who shot Landford Hepner at Centralia, has been seen going in and out of a prominent Ashland saloon since the shooting and then disappearing in the direction of his home at the "Shanties." It is believed that the political influence of Kerrigan's friends is responsible for his non-arrest, as he has not deserted his old haunts.

More Filibusters Landed in Cuba.

HAVANA, May 22.—In the maritime district of Velos, province of Santiago de Cuba, an expedition of filibusters is said to have landed. The appearance of a steamer freighted the filibusters, and those in small boats hurriedly got on board their vessel. A GOOD PRACTICE.

If You Want a Good Appetite and Perfect Digestion.

After each meal dissolve one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in the mouth and, swallowing with the food, they constitute a perfect stomachic, absolutely safe for the most sensitive stomach.

They digest the food before it has time to ferment, thus preventing the formation of gas and keeping the blood pure and free from the poisonous products of fermented, half-digested food.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets make the complexion clear by keeping the blood pure. They increase flesh by digesting fish-forming foods.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the only remedy designed especially for the cure of stomach troubles and nothing else.

One disease, one remedy, the successful physician of to-day is the specialist, the successful medicine is the medicine prepared especially for one disease.

A whole package taken at one time would not hurt you, but would simply be a waste of good material.

Over six thousand men and women in the state of Michigan alone have cured of indigestion and dyspepsia by the use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Sold by all druggists at 50 cents per package.

Ministers Should Use Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

THERE IS NO PROFESSION, whose labors so severely tax the nervous system, as that of the ministry. The derangement of the nerve centers of the brain by over work, frequently brings on attacks of heart trouble, and nervous prostration. Rev. J. P. Koster, M. D., Pastor U. B. church, London Mills, Ill., himself a physician, writes Feb. 20, 1888: "Heart affection and nervous prostration had become so serious last fall that a little over work in the pulpit would so completely prostrate me that it seemed certain I must relinquish the work of the ministry entirely. Heart palpitation became so bad that my auditors would ask me if I did not have heart disease. Last November I commenced taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure alternately with Dr. Miles' Nervine and derived the greatest possible benefit. I have just closed revival work of 3 weeks, preaching nearly every night and twice on the Sabbath. I can speak for hours without suffering as I formerly did. Hard working ministers should keep Dr. Miles' grand remedy on hand."

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Restores Health..... Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold on guarantee, first bottle will benefit or money refunded.
