At about ten o'clock last night he emptied the five ten o'clock hat night he emptied the five barrels of a 38-calibre American buil dog revolver while chasing a countryman named William Gladkotski, but only two of the shots took effect and it is not anticipated that either will prove fatal. Among the people attracted to the scene by the reports of the shots was ex-Policeman (learne Walstin and he man average to the scene by George Walaitis and he was soon after joined by Chief Burgess Burns. They went to the Bodsky house and arrested the man who did the shooting. He made no attempt to escape, or evade the charge. On the contrary, he surrendered the weapon with which he did the shooting, freely admitted the act and said he did not think he would be hung if he had killed his victim. Bodsky was locked up in the Council chamber under two guards until 9:30 this morning, when the case was heard before Justice T. T. Williams. It had caused a sensation and attracted a large gathering at the office.

Bolsky is a rather good looking man of about 39 years, oresess very respectably and in many other respects has become converted to many of the better customs of this to many of the better customs of this country, but his knowledge of the language is very crude. Gladketski, the victim, is of about the same age and of the high flying kind. He is fairly good looking, dresses well, and has a reputation for foreing his attention upon the gentle sex of his nationality, notwithstanding he has a wife and three children in the old country. It was this weakness that caused him to be shot and little, if any, sympathy is expressed for him. little, if any, sympathy is expressed for him. Bodski lives with his wife and three children. He took off his mining boots and went out to the kitchen shanty. The door was locked. Bodski rapped upon it three times, but received no answer. Suddenly the door opened and Gladkotski dashed out, running through the yard towards Main street. Bolski seven commanderics participated in this morning's parade. This afternoon the grand commandery's first session will be held in the evening.

Gladkotski dished on the chase with a grand commandery's first session will be held in the evening. The story of the shooting is brief. Bodski drew his revolver and fired five shots.
His wife was also in the chase with a vessel filled with hot water. Gladkotski was running in a stooped position, with his hands thrown up to the sides of his head and calling for help. Three shots were fired at him in the yard and two on Main street. Bodski returned to his home breathing hard after his run and apparently in a half-fainting condition. He carried the revolver in little over a square from the Bodski house. Dr. G. F. Matter was summoned to attend inches below the knee and had imbeded it-A SHOE TALE!

One time he pur-chased some powder for $1 and put some of it in coffee with instructions that she should drink it. The object, she said Gladkotski told her, was to make her lave him and hate her husband. At another time he purchased a bottle of liquid at a cost of 83 for the same purpose. During one part of the examina-tion Mrs. Bodski said she refused to drink the coffee on either occasion, but threw it away. In another part she said she tasted the coffee, did not like it and refused to take any more. She also testified that Gladkotski told her she was foolish in not getting rid of her husband, but sub-sequently modified the statement by saying that Gladkotski had said she was foolish in not leaving her husband. The woman at first created the impression by her testimony that Gladkotski had tried to persuade her to get rid of her husband by poisoning, or some other method, but her statements were modified upon cross-examination to the extent that it appeared Gladkotski had tried to induce her to leave her husband. She also testified that her husband knew nothing of her relations with Gladkotski until he heard her sworn statement before the Justice. It was by her that Gladkotski was scalded on the face. ## MAY GO BACK TO OLD QUARTERS

Resolution to Dispose of the $2,000,000 Presbyterian Building in New York. Methodists Elect Rev. Mr. Hartzell, to Succeed Bishop Taylor.

SARATOGA, N. Y., May 26.—The Presby terian general assembly yesterday decided to take no action in reference to church unity, favoring the report which was pre-sented on this subject and which called for a declaration that this is a Protestant Christian country. The report contained a plan for a federation of Presbyterian and Reformed churches, which was to be represented in a federal council. The whole matter was laid upon the table. This disposed of it for the present meeting of the

The surprise of the day came at the open ing of the afternoon session, when a paper was submitted in regard to the $2,000,000 Presbyterian building in New York by Bev. William M. Hubbard, of Auburn, N. Y. It had been known that there was a strong feeling in regard to this building but it was not anticipated that it would take this shaps. The subject was made an order for this morning, but it is believed. by reason of the opposition of the misson-ary board, it will probably go over until Thursday. The discussion when the sub-Thursday. ject is brought up promises to be animated

The paper contained two propositions and two resolutions, in brief as follows: Last September John S. Kennedy, of New Last September John S. Kannedy, of New York city, in conversation concerning the new Presbyterian building, No. 136 Fifth avenue, New York city, made the proposi-tion that if the church were not entirely satisfied with the new building as an in-vestment, and did not see its way clear to own the same he was perfectly willing to own the same, he was perfectly willing to purchase it at the original cost, and would give one year's time in which to determine whether this proposition would be ac-

Proposition No. 21s from Miss Rachel Lennox Kennedy: If the boards of home and foreign missions return to and occupy No. 35 Fifth avenue as their official home, in the confident hope that the boards will continue to occupy the same as their per manent home, I will alter, enlarge or im prove the premises by changes or additions thereto, so as to make them abundantly adequate to all their needs, provided this offer is accepted by the boards on or before Sept. 1, 1809. Resolved, That the general assembly recommends to the boards of home and for-eign missions to sell said investment and to accept each of these propositions and carry the same into execution.

Whereas, Miss Ruchel Lennux Kennedy has indicated her willingness to place the historic Lennox homestead in such condition as will fully adapt it to the needs and uses of the boards, this general assembly, In accepting this gift, tenters her its sin-cere thanks and expresses, on schalf of the entire church, full appreciation of her generosity and fidelity to the church of her
