THE experience which St. Louis has just passed through would be a great thing for Chicago in the way of preparing her for the Democratic convention in July.

WHILE the county seat dailies are "blowing their own horns" a suffering public is anxiously looking for "legitimate" news.
Less of the former and more of the latter is what the readers want.

MONDAY next is set apart by the county court of naturalization day. It is to be hoped that the judges will use the proper discretion in granting the powers of citizenship. The court cannot be too strict in matters of this kind.

THE latest political announcement, and one that will cause little surprise in this section, places Hon. John T. Shoenor, of Orwigsburg, in the fight for the Republican nomination for Clerk of the Courts. Mr.
Shoenor's name had been mentioned in connection with the Congressional nomination, but without authority from him, it appears.

HENRY CLAWS, the New York banker, says: Wall street is still held in complete suspense by the excitement and uncertainty attending the approach of the political conventions.
The market is entirely in the hands of the professional operators, who under such circumstances find selling most congenial, so that the predominant tendency is towards a slow decline in prices. Outside these political conditions, influences are on the whole favorable. It is true, the export of gold continues, but Wall Street has not taken that factor very seriously, and there are indications that the movement will soon come to an end.
There is also an absence of return of securities from Europe, which is rather remarkable considering the agitation of the free currency issue in the elections. The railroads also are doing well. Managers generally report a good business and encouraging prospects, and are making liberal provision for recommending the coming crop movements.
The earnings make a good showing compared with last year, which is the more gratifying as a year ago the business was upon an increasing scale. In the mercantile business, the conditions are varied, some trades reporting a fair movement, but at low prices, while others are full of complaint. The dry goods distributors especially find it difficult to move off their season's stocks and have to adapt prices to the conditions of ample stocks and a slow demand.

THE DEAD HEROES.
One day of the year we set apart in commemoration of those who, for the sake of their country, dared the privations and hardships of war; who gave their lives for their country's existence; who fought that we of to-day might live free and enjoy the privilege of "the land of the free and the home of the brave."

When we consider the place occupied by our country among the nations of the earth, it is truly fitting that we observe Memorial Day, that we and those who follow us, both of our own nation and those who come to us from lands beyond the sea, shall call to mind the principles involved, to sustain which the brave soldiers who now sleep beneath the sod on the mountain side pressed to the front, laying aside their ambitions, comforts and health, and life itself, for the cause of the Union.

But while our thoughts are turned to those whose graves are being strewn with flowers, let us not forget the remnant who mingle with us. The members of Watkin Waters Post and other veterans of the late war who have not yet answered to the last bugle call, made the same willing sacrifices as those gone, but live to enjoy the rewards of their patriotism. Their number is few, less than when they last came on a mission similar to that of to-day—their steps are growing more feeble, their forms more bent—and one year hence many of them, perhaps, will be numbered with the dead. The nation owes a debt of gratitude to the brave men of '61, whether dead or living, and while they remain with us let their pathway be brightened by kind words. Only too soon will they join their sleeping comrades, and when that time comes, may their memory be as precious as that of those who yielded to the uncertainties of war.

The part taken in the ceremonies by the people of the public schools, singing patriotic songs and reciting the deeds of the soldier dead, was indeed a pleasing feature. Their participation will impress upon their youthful minds the dearly-bought heritage of a republican form of government; what the star spangled banner represents; and will instill into their youthful minds a greater love of country. The future rulers of the nation, thus taught in their youth the value of true patriotism, will be better citizens when they assume the duties of manhood.

The Grand Army of the Republic will have swept away before many years roll by, but as long as Memorial Day endures the deeds of these brave men will not have departed.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

General Improvement of the Borough's Sanitary Condition Reported.

A regular monthly meeting of the Board of Health was held last evening with the following members in attendance: Messrs.
Spalding, Miles, Malone and Morrison.
John Roberts appeared in answer to a notice to give reasons for making a burial without first procuring a permit. He stated that he was so busy building his new stable and had so much other business on hand that he forgot about the permit. It being Mr.
Roberts' first violation, and his previous record for adhering to the laws was so good, the Board decided to excuse him.
Secretary Curtin reported that there were 36 deaths since the last monthly meeting, 12 being non-residents. There were nine cases of contagious diseases during the same period, 1 typhoid fever, 2 scarlet fever, 2 diphtheria and 1 measles. Only two phlebotomy remain up, one being the case of Mariana Sagin, 6 years of age, 405 West Oak street, suffering from scarlet fever and reported yesterday.

Health Officer Conry made a lengthy report in which he stated that he caused 21 nuisances to be abated since the last meeting.
He had trouble in but two cases. In the one he called upon Proprietor Guldin, of the Commercial Hotel, and asked him to abate a nuisance existing in the yard of the hotel.
Guldin said he didn't think the Health Officer had any right to enter upon his premises. The officer notified the owner of the property, Ludwig Zimmerman, and he abated the nuisance the next day, no proceedings were instituted. In the other case the officer stopped a farmer yesterday and warned him against loading his wagon in such a manner as to allow manure to fall upon the streets. The farmer became indignant and impudent, but when the officer was about to arrest him he begged off and promised to be more careful in the future.

The Health Officer also stated that the people in general are cleaning up. Since the last meeting John Hughes and Gilbert estate, West Coal street, Coslett and Morgan, Peter Hiley, P. J. Gaughan and Puroell and Maloy, West Oak street, L. Ambrose, East Coal street, Frank McAndrew and Andrew Kilcoyne, Union street, and Mrs. Durkin, West Centre street, made sewer connections.

In thirteen dwellings in Mahanoy City there are 43 occupants.

Two new houses are being erected on West Oak street by Joseph and Andrew Murphy.

It is rumored that John Scott, of Ebervale, will be appointed to the outside foremanship at Primrose colliery vacated by E. C. Price.

No clue to the whereabouts of S. T. Ware, the Mahanoy City salesman who disappeared so suddenly on Monday, has been secured.

A. C. Morgan, of town, a student at the Medico-Chirurgical college, Philadelphia, today assumed the position of station agent at Glen Onoko for the summer.

The vacancy in the Borough Council of Gilberton, caused by the resignation of M.
J. Leahy, has not yet been filled. The opposing sides stand four to four.

Civil Court.
All jurors except those engaged in the case before Judge Albright were discharged yesterday.

On Thursday, June 18, Judge Albright will hear arguments in the following cases: The Borough of Pottsville vs. Mary T.
Bannan and E. B. Bannan, her husband—motion to strike off non-suit; Pennsylvania General Electric Company vs. the Edison Illuminating Company, of Pottsville—motion for a new trial; Kate Zerle et al.; vs. the Lytle Coal Company—motion to strike off non-suit.

The case of Elias Miller and Wm. M.
Bachert vs. John A. Titman and Jacob Hartzel was called yesterday before Judge Savage. This is an action to determine the title to a farm in Union township, Wm. A.
Hartzel and G. E. Fawceter Esq., represent the plaintiff, and ex-Judge Byron, J. H.
Pomeroy and S. G. M. Hollofer the defendants. The court directed the jury yesterday afternoon to find a verdict for the plaintiff for one undivided half of the land in controversy and one undivided half for the defendants. The latter lost the one-half on the same point upon which the borough of Shenandoah lost the suit brought against it by the Shenandoah Citizens Water & Gas Company, namely, a defect in the minutes of the Pennsylvania National Bank. The defendants were unable to show that the contract and agreement made by E. F. Lee, at that time president of the Pennsylvania National Bank, had been made by authority of the Board of Directors of the bank.

THE DEATH LIST DECREASES

of 6000 or more in a 107 days it it was necessary.

In East St. Louis dead lines have been established, and no one is allowed to pass without a permit. The lines are guarded by militia. This was done in order to prevent the spread of property, for the force was insufficient to properly guard it. In a case of this kind the criminal element come in very quickly for the purpose of pillage, and they frequently resort to incendiarism, and it was done as a measure of precaution and to prevent a beginning of looting.

The effect of these stringent measures was soon seen in the greatly decreased number of people in the devastated district.
Over sixty suspects have already been arrested and were sent out of town or locked up. Several pickpockets and confidence men have also been arrested.

In addition to the militia and police force Chief of Police Gano swore in fifty deputies, who were placed in different parts of the city.

The committee in charge announces that the auditorium to be used for the Republican national convention has been repaired, and now shows not the slightest effect of the storm.

At the extreme limits of the city to the west is a quarter known as Tower Grove Park. It is populated by people of wealth and the houses are palatial with beautiful grounds and surroundings. To the southeast of this is another region of wealth.
The storm moved its way through them both. Magnificent residences in both places were wiped off the face of the earth. In some cases, while in others roofs were carried away, trees torn from their roots and all the picturesque beauty destroyed.

Along California avenue, in Compton Height, are strewn wrecked homes, roofs of houses, trees and masses of rubbish whirled into the city from the farms and wild timber beyond the city limits. The same is true of the other thoroughfares.
Not a tree or a house in the way of the storm was left without damage.

At California and Russell avenues the houses at the northeast corner are in ruins, while those on the opposite corner were severely damaged. But for blocks in every direction are ruined buildings. Looking from this point towards the business center of the city as far as the ocean reach are wrecks of homes. The course of the storm was down a valley where, before the city was laid out, a stream had run.
Chateau avenue lies parallel to this valley, and in the main thoroughfare leading to the heart of St. Louis. For a mile to the south and nearly half a mile north of Chateau avenue was the path of the storm.

At Missouri and Russell avenues was the South Side race track. It was almost swept clean of the buildings that stood upon it before the storm. North from here is an immense pile of brick and machinery and street cars. It is what remains of what was an electric street railway power house. It is estimated that $300,000 will be needed to cover the damage done here.
East from this ruin, for half a mile there is scarcely a building left standing. A short distance east of the warehouse (the warehouse left from a blown up gas house. A short distance south of Chateau avenue, on Seventeenth street, is the ruin of the Fulton grammar school. From here can be seen the remains of the city hospital. This structure, according to Adolph Berlin, the superintendent, has been damaged to the extent of over $200,000. Scarcely a house in the radius of half a mile escaped the ravages of the storm. At Thirteenth streets and Soudard avenue is the ruin of St. Paul de Vincant church, erected in 1844.

THE NEW NATIONAL PARTY.

Presidential Candidate Bentley Expects 100,000 Prohibition Votes.

PITTSBURGH, May 29.—About fifty members, including the leaders of the new National party organized Thursday night by the bolters from the Prohibition convention, met at the Central hotel yesterday and arranged for a vigorous campaign. Nearly $2,000 was subscribed to meet the expenses. Mrs. Helen Gougar, Mrs. Richards of Ohio, L. B. Logan of Ohio, who acted as chairman, ex-Governor St.
John, Charles E. Bentley, the candidate for president, and J. H. Southgate, of North Carolina, the nominees for vice president, made addresses.

Mr. Bentley asserted that he would get 100,000 votes from the Prohibitionists, and that many western silver men would flock to the party. He feared that the Australian system of voting in several states might result in keeping the new ticket from the ballot.

Just what will become of the Prohibition party is a matter which politicians are now discussing. The bitterness of the feeling among the advocates of cold water, as a result of the bolt of the broad gaugers, is manifested on every side. Some of the narrow gaugers claim to entertain the hope that the bolters will yet come back to the parent organization, but others are just as certain that the two elements will never again be brought together.

Honorable L. Castle, chairman of the Prohibition local committee, said that so far as the east is concerned the Prohibition party will not be in any way affected by the bolt. With the west matters are different, and some of the leaders, he said, were blue over the situation. He made the prediction, however, that 75 per cent. of the bolters would be back in the fold within two weeks.

"Such people as John P. St. John, Mrs.
Gougar and R. S. Thompson," he said, "are Populists with Prohibition tendencies. I presume they will go to the Populist party or to the free silver party, which is to be formed July 22 in St. Louis."

"DR. MILES,

Through His Nervine is a Benefactor to Thousands."

A WIDELY known Wisconsin publisher, who resides at Green Bay, writes March 6th, 1896, as follows:
"Five years ago I became so nervous that mental work was a burden. I could not rest at night on account of sleeplessness. My attention was called to Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and I commenced to use it with the very best effect. Since then I have kept a bottle in my house and use it whenever my nerves become unstrung, with always the same good results. My son also takes it for nervousness like never failing success. I have recommended it to many and it cures them. All who suffer from nerve troubles should try it.
It is free from narcotics, perfectly harmless, and yet soothes and strengthens. Dr.
Miles, through his Nervine is a benefactor to thousands."

CAT'S STOLEN CONSTITUTION RETURNED.

NEW YORK, May 29.—The Cuban constitution, which was stolen Thursday night from the Cuban fair at the Madison Square Garden, was returned yesterday. A man called to see M. Pierra and told him that the constitution would be returned for $100. The stranger said it had been taken not by hostile Spaniards, but by two crooks. Mr. Pierra sent for $100, and a second man appeared with a newspaper, in which he said the constitution was concealed. Mr. Pierra says that the second stranger left the paper with him, snatched the money out of his hands and ran away.
The paper contained the stolen constitution.

Association of Iron and Steel Workers adjourned sine die yesterday after having elected the following officers: President, M. M. Garland; secretary, John C. Kilgallen; assistant secretary, Stephen Madden; trustees, John Pierce, Daniel Mulane and C. H. Kaufmann; vice-presidents, William A. Carney, David Llewellyn, M. D. Cook, W. F. Hughes, Andrew McBride and Thomas Mason; delegate to American Federation of Labor convention, M. M.
Garland. The convention will meet in Detroit again next year.

Troubled South American Republics.

LIMA, Peru, May 29.—A conspiracy doubtedly favored Colonel Pando, just elected president of Bolivia.

Closing the Glass Factories.

CINCINNATI, May 29.—The Pittsburgh and Indiana Manufacturers Association closed down all the window glass factories in the territories controlled by them last night.
This throws 4,000 skilled workmen and about 1,500 laborers out of work a month earlier this year than usual.

The Big Show '09 Going On.

MOSCOW, May 29.—The feature of yesterday's fête was the gala performance at the Grand theater in honor of the czar, at which were present the czar and carina and other members of the imperial family, members of the court, visiting ambassadors and ministers, including the representatives of the United States and a large number of distinguished officials.
The theater presented a brilliant scene.
The czar was greeted with prolonged cheering when he entered his box, the audience rising and standing until he was seated.
