SECRETS OF THE STAGE

Revealed in Belasco's Suit Against Millionaire Fairbank.

THE COST OF CREATING A STAR.

Before the First Production of "The Ugly Duckling," with Mrs. Leslie Carter as the Lending Actress, It Was Necessary to Pay Four Thousand Dollars.

NEW YORK, June 4.—David Belasco was a witness in the supreme court yestarday in his suit to recover $60,000 from N. K. Fairbank for services rendered in fitting Mrs. Leslie Carter for the stage. Belasco. after describing the arduous nature of the work of coaching novices, and even actors of experience and reputation, testified that he first met Fairbank in the autumn of 1880 in the apartments of Mrs. Carter in of issy in the apartments of Mrs. Carter in this city. This also was the plaintiff wit-ness' first meeting with Mrs. Carter. The meeting was at Fairbank's request, and had for its purpose, Belasco testified, the discussion of the question of making a dramatic star of Mrs. Carter.

According to the witness he told Fair-According to the witness he told Fair-bank that the cost of that undertaking would be $40,000 to $50,000, which was no more than was paid for preparing Mary Anderson for her career. To this information the defendant responded, placing his hand on the plaintiff's shoulder, "My boy, you have been very frank and would frighten any other man, but I have plenty of money. Here a million dollars and the of money. I lose a million dollars one day and make it back the next."

Belasco further testified that he objected to dealing with backers who withheld their names from the public, to which Fairbank replied that it was for weighty business reasons that he did not wish to be known as the financial sponsor for Mrs. Carter, Negotiations progressed so far that Bel-asco retired from his other business enasco retired from his other business engagements to devote his entire time to the development of Mrs. Carter's talents. Fairbank had asked the witness several times not to come to him at his hotel, as witness being a theatrical man, his coming was apt to excite gossip. A change of managers far Mrs. Carter was effected at a cost of $500, which Fairbank paid.

On one occasion, according to Balasco's testimony, Fairbank said to him: "Balasco, what is this I hear of you leaving Mrs. Carter after she makes her debute I can't spare you; I want you to tour with her and write plays for her,"

To this Belasco says he replied: "Goodness me, I can't do that; I don't want to go on a tour and become a theatrical manager, as I have a wife and grown-up daughters, and can't give up my busi-noss." Fairbank asked how much Belasco made a year, and when he was told that it was between $25,000 and $30,000 he said: "Go with me, Belasco, and you will make as much."

Witness said he finally agreed to go on witness said he finally agreed to go on a tour, and informed Fairbank it would cost $50,000 for a Broadway production to which Fairbank replied, "Consider Mr. Allen a bank and draw on him for money."

The witness asked to be excused from relating other conversations which took place at this interview, saying he wished to spare Fairbank as much as possible. Belasco testified that he received from Pairbank's representative in this city a check for $4,000, which was required to be paid to the manager of the theater at which "The Ugly Duckling" had its first performance, Nov. 10, 1800, with Mrs. Carter as the leading actress, before the curtain could be raised. Belasco said he met Fairbank a couple of nights after Mrs. Car. ter's appearance and was congratulated, and, as Belasco expressed it, "he virtually

Mr. Belasco told of money being adar. Behaseo told of money being ad-vanced by Mr. Williard for Mr. Fairbank during the latter's absence. He said he was in Chicago in February, 1891, and told Mr. Allen of Mrs. Carter's success there, and urged that the tour be closed, but Mr. Allen asked him to continue the tour, as he would have to see Fairbank about the matter.

Several telegrams from Manager Price to Mr. Allen asking for money and telling of poor business were introduced. Mr. Belasco said that he received no part of the money, but it went to Mr. Price. He told of a conference with Mr. Morrison in Kansas City March 14, 1891, when he as proprietor and Price as manager signed a receipt for ₹5,860 as payment for all saldue actors at penses of the tour. He said that he told Morrison at that time that he had a claim against Mr. Fairbank, and did not want to release that claim. Morrison assured him, so he says, that he merely receipted for the purposes emboded in the receipt.

Mrs. Slack Gets Her Children.

Washington, June 4.—The district sourt of appeals yesterday decided that Mrs. Mary Kemble Slack was entitled to the possession of her two children. A bitter legal contest, lasting several months in the New Jersey and district courts, is thus ended. Mrs. Sinck and her husband, a well known society leader here, had separated, and the husband, by a will shorely before his death, devised the custody of the children to Mr. and Mrs. Perrine, New Jersey relatives. Mrs. Slack institued proceedings to recover possession of the children, and the ensuing suits in New Jersey and here were rather sensational.

A Liberal Gain in Parliament. LONDON, June 4 .- In the election in the Frome division of Somershetshire for a member of parliament to succeed Viscount Weymouth, who succeeded to the title on the death of his father, the Marquis of Cath, on April 20, J. E. Barlow, Liberal, was the successful candidate, polling 5,003 votes to 4,763 polled by Alexander George Thynne, brother of the present Marquis of Bath, a majority of 200. At the last election Mr. Barlow was defeated by 874 votes, consequently the election shows a gain of 675 votes for the Liberals.

YETO AGAIN IGNORED.

The Senate Quickly Passes the River and Harbor Bill.

A LAW DESPITE THE PRESIDENT.

Only Five Senators Voted to Sustain the Chief Magistrate in His Veto of the Measure The House Rushing Matters for Final Adjournment.

Washington, June 4.—The senate yes-terday passed the river and harbor bill over the president's vest by the vote of 20 to 5. This was the last step in making the bill effective, and it is now a law. The vote was taken after three hours of spir-lted debate, during which the president was criticized and defended, the remarks of the property of the president was criticized and defended, the remarks was criticized and derended, the remarks at times being directly and bitterly per-sonal. The opposition to the veto was ex-pressed by Senators Vest, Sherman, Petti-grew, Hawley and Butler, while the veto was defended by Senators Vilas, Hill and Bate.
When a partial conference report was sented on the naval appropriation bill Quay moved that the senate recede from its amendment reducing the num-ber of bathleshtps from four to two. This brought on an extended debate. Mr. Lodge took occasion to point out the situ-ation of the United States, as was plainly indicated, he said, by the tone of the Euro-pean press. He urged adequate prepara-tion, by navy and coast defenses, as a means of commanding peace. Mr. Chand-ler, of New Hampshiro, believed that two battleships annually was enough. In the course of the debate Mr. Tillman, of South Carolina, spoke in his usual breezy way on "armor robbers." He referred to the grip by the throat which the armor concerns had on congress, and, looking around the senate, asked if there were attorneys, or a lobby here, or senators interested in secing these contracts given out. A final vote on the item of battleships will be taken this afternoon.

The house yesterday began clearing the decks for final adjournment by extending the length of the daily session. The house met at il o'clock and sat until a. In addition to this Mr. Dingley, the floor loader of the unipority, gave notice that henceforth he should object to all leaves of absence. save such as were requested on account of sickness. The importance of keeping a quorum constantly in attenulance, he ex-plained, compelled him to take this step. The Murray-Elliott contested case, from the First South Carolina district, was de-lated for four hours. The vore will be taken today. The majority report favors the scating of the contestant, who is a col-ored man, and who was scated by the Fifty-first house in place of Elliott.

Opposing President Kruger.

Lexicon, June 4.—The Times Capetown correspondent says: The sullt in the Pre-toria executive council is becoming more acute. Secretary of State Leyds and Vice President Joulert oppose President Kru-ger, who favors conclination and reforms ger, who favors concillation and reforms. Dr. Leyds is very unpopular, and is likely to succeed Montagu White as consul gen-eral of the Transvaal in London. The Orange Free State has declined to enter-tain Dr. Legd's proposals for joint aggressive action against British and French interests, but it has agreed to combine with the Transvani to resist any wanton attack on the latter.
