Evening Herald

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 16, 1896.

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

- FOR CONGRESSMAN-AT-LARGE, GALEUSIA A. GROW, Of Susquehanna.
- SAMUEL A. DAVENPORT, Of Erie

PARTIES leaving town for the summer can have the EVENING HERALD sent to the resort where they spend the season at no increase of price. The paper being issued in the evening will be sure to reach people at a distance the following day.

CONGRESS is about to adjourn, leaving General Wepler still in possession of the field.

SECRETARY CARLISLE denies the report that he has become wealthy while holding his present office. The President appears to be the only member of the Administration who has made a fortune.

THE CAR has left Moscow for St. Petersburg, taking with him his crown stained with the blood of 2,000 victims. But the blood of 3,000 victims on the crown of Russia is a mere drop in the bucket.

A MAHANAY CITY man suggests that no one be admitted to the Miners' hospital who cannot produce a tax receipt. This plan, in his opinion, will solve the problem of collecting taxes from the foreign element.

A PROMINENT business man of Girardville writes to the HERALD as follows: "I am well pleased with the HERALD as an advertising medium." This is merely an old story retold and can be verified by all who use these columns.

AN exchange arranges the following roll of illustrious names: With Matthew Quay at the head of the National Committee, Mark Hanna in the state management, Mr. Luke Staley in the local, and John Sherman to look after things generally, the McKinley campaign would open auspiciously. Matthew, Quay, Luke and John—it sounds apostolic, if any way.

PRINTERS ink runs the case pointedly to the business man who doesn't advertise when it says: "The present is the time to advertise. You are losing money every day you wait. People are spending money every minute for just your sort of goods." And there is no better medium than the HERALD in Schuylkill county. The oldest established paper in the town, it has the prestige and commands the attention of its thousands of readers.

THE city of Johnstown, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, which was overwhelmed by the waters of a broken dam May 31, 1889, including several thousand people, is now a handsome and thriving place of 40,000 inhabitants, having added 10,000 to its population since that calamity. Johnstown lost 7 per cent. of its citizens in the raging torrent, and yet it is now one of the most prosperous cities of its size in the state. American pluck has always been found equal to every emergency.

THE pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Tullie, Berks county, has given a practical exhibition of home mission work, that night with much profit to the poor at home be followed by others. He announced a special collection for the benefit of a family of that place whose residence had been swept away by the recent cyclone. A large congregation was present and the amount realized was worthy of the cause for which it was donated. It is true that charity is sometimes bestowed upon those not worthy to receive it, yet there are hundreds in this and other communities that need a helping hand. They are the victims of circumstances over which they have no control, and instead of expending thousands of dollars annually for foreign missions a portion of that amount might be applied to assisting the worthy poor at home to a greater extent than is now done.

POLITICAL POINTS.

The position of the Pottsville Republican on the question of the Greenback has been waging the Republican dog any longer. It is in accord with the sentiments of a majority of the Republicans north of the mountains.

Now that John Phillips has a good berth we presume he will be deaf to the Recorder because Senator Coyle set to bawling about his ears.

Congressman Brannan's friends are congratulating themselves upon having switched John T. Shoenor off the track for the Congressional nomination. It might possibly have been better to have kept him in the race.

Dan McCarthy, the active politician of Freehold, is out as a Democratic candidate for Senator in lower Lancaster, and his candidacy along has purchased a controlling interest in the Haddon Truth.

There are about four Greenback Republicans in St. Clair. One of them is a Deputy Clerk of the Courts, another an Under Warder in the prison, a third is a caretaker at Annapolis, while the fourth, our genial bald-headed friend, Dan Duffy, is secretary of the county committee, with a notion to shy his castor in the ring again for another county office.

The Pattison presidential boom has apparently been struck by a cyclone.

The kind of warfare the Pottsville Republican is waging against Congressman Brannan is hardly consistent with clean journalism, and may react in a manner so as to strengthen Mr. Brannan's position. We believe, like hundreds of Republicans, that there are any number of good reasons why the present Congressman should step aside for some one else. The Republican has adopted the wrong course to accomplish that end.

Hon. Joseph Wyatt is saying very little these days, but the word-pile in his back yard is growing to magnificent proportions. The friends of genial Dan Brannan are confident of his nomination for Commissioner by the Democratic county convention.

B. Jefferson Vost, whose great-grandfather fought in the Colonial army, announces to his friends that he is a candidate for Clerk of the Courts. "I'll be no novice in the field of politics, and when the round-up comes his name will be mingled with the skill of a veteran general.

The Pottsville "combine" is looking for a Shenandoah Republican for the office of Recorder. It will not work, though.

The political gossip appearing in the columns of the Tamaqua Recorder furnishes interesting reading for the county statesmen. By the way, Tamaqua will be an important battle ground this fall, before and after the county convention.

Emanuel Jenkyn, the workman's candidate, is making an aggressive fight for Recorder. Mr. Jenkyn is a staunch Republican who would add much strength to the ticket.

The Republican party will not want for candidates this fall.

George Palmer's friends say he will be nominated for County Treasurer, with little, if any, opposition.

PITHY POINTS.

Happenings Throughout the Region Chronicled for Hasty Perusal.

There is a demand for machinists at the Jeannette Iron Works.

Five-year-old Alice Dreher was run over by a trolley car at Shamokin and was killed.

The Justices and Constables Association will meet in Pottsville at 1:30 p. m. next Monday.

Lawrence Dunn to-day changed his place of residence from West Cherry street to West Lickelberry alley.

Weatherly's burgess has issued a proclamation to muzzle all dogs from June 15th to September 15th.

James McEhee, inside foreman at Schuylkill colliery, was slightly burned about the hands and face yesterday.

The shooting match between Knus and Weeks is off, the latter being very ill at his home in Park Place.

Harry Williams, of Gilberton, felt twenty feet at one of the collieries at that place on Monday and broke his leg.

E. W. Bowley is no longer in the employ of the Kainz Brewing Company, his resignation having been accepted on Saturday.

The Lehigh Valley Coal Company has awarded the contract for all stripping work which they are now doing to a Philadelphia firm.

An operation was performed upon Dr. P. H. McCarthy, of St. Clair, at the Pottsville hospital yesterday. He is suffering from appendicitis.

Nicholas Kuffing was run over by a P. & R. train Monday night at Shamokin, cutting off his right arm and leg. He was removed to the Miners' hospital.

The joint debate on the financial question, in the camp room of Camp St. P. O. S. of A., at Ashland, this evening is attracting much attention and will prove interesting.

Cards are out for the wedding of Miss Alpha, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Bowers, of Freeville, to Elmer R. Lacuman, on Tuesday, June 25th, at St. Peter's Reformed church, Freeville.

A J. O. U. A. M. Council will be chartered at Quakertown in a few weeks. Members of Council No. 798, Beaver Meadow, have enrolled enough names of charter members to warrant the organization.

Within three weeks there will be a great revival among the United Mine Workers. National President P. H. Penne, McBride and Fahy will visit this section and make nightly addresses, with a view of solid organization clean to the Lackawanna region.

RIOT AT A CONVENTION.

The Defeat of the Quayites at the Allegany County Conventions.

PITTSBURGH, June 16.—The eighteen Republican county conventions were held yesterday and resulted in a decided victory for the regulars. The reformers secured the renomination of W. A. Stone for congress in the Twenty-third district and the four assemblymen in the First and Second legislative districts in Allegany City. The other faction carried everything else, naming John Dalzell for his tenth term in congress and John W. Crawford and C. L. Magee for the state senate in the Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth senatorial districts, respectively.

A riot occurred in the Eighth legislative convention, and the Quay people, with Thomas A. Tillbrock, of McKeesport, as their candidate, bolted and held a convention of their own. Some of the Quay leaders say the independent ticket in the Eighth will not be the only one, as it is the intention to nominate an entirely new Quay county ticket. During the struggle in the convention the seats of the common council chamber were torn up and thrown about, desks overturned, pistols brandished and quite a number of heads were bumped and eyes blackened. It required a squad of twenty police to restore order.

A Shenandoah Man's Bad Bargain.

The Mahanoy City Record tells of a bad bargain made by a Shenandoah stock dealer. It appears that Simon Miller, of town, with a view to always driving a good bargain, traded cows with M. J. Mulvey, of the same town, and received an animal that had not been fresh for two years. The following day Miller appeared in Mahanoy City with the cow and a calf, and offered to trade them for Allen Steiner's horse. The latter knew of the former's transaction with Mulvey and also knew that the cow and calf bore no relation. He also took much pleasure from the fact that his horse preferred but one motion and that of backing. The animal cost him $2.00. The bargain was made, much to the delight of Simon. The latter, however, was very anxious to swap back when he found which way the horse had been trained to go. Simon left the town mad all over, with his new purchase tied to his wagon and resisting with all force.

The Logan Colliery Strike.

CHESTER, June 16.—The employes of the Logan colliery at Centre continue on their strike against the reduction being enforced by the new superintendent, E. T. Conner. The colliery is still idle. The men made a proposition to the company, looking to a compromise of the difficulties, that the reduction be made five cents on a car instead of ten, which was refused. The report that Capt. Conner had been shot is unfounded, and also the sensational telegrams published in several county papers about an exchange of shots between the men and the superintendent. There was no shooting, and the strikers are conducting themselves in a quiet manner.

Fingers Smashed.

Edward Rouse had his two middle fingers on his left hand smashed at Indian Ridge colliery this morning by the slamming of the door on the oil house. The nail on one of the fingers was torn off and the flesh terribly lacerated on the other. The wounds were dressed by Dr. G. M. Hamilton.

His Scheme Didn't Work.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., June 10.—The story that was told yesterday by E. B. Henderson as to the identity of a man who was supposed to have fallen into the river and passed over the falls Monday night, while trying to save his hat, proves to be a fake. Chief of Police Benson discovered yesterday that Henderson and George Duck, the supposed drowned man, were the same, and that the two men whom Henderson said he had seen on Lums Island had not been there at all. Henderson has been identified by the local police as an alleged insurance swindler, well known to them.
