M'KINLEY'S SUNDAY.

Pastor Edmunds Preaches a Somewhat Personal Sermon.

A CANDIDATE'S POUDEROUS MAIL.

It Becomes Necessary for His Servant to Hire a Carriage to Convey It from the Postoffice to His Home-Senator Sherman's Congratulations.

CANTON, O., June 22 - Sunday brought CANTON, O., June 22.—Sunday brought temporary peace and quiet to the citizens of Canton. Aside from the profuse decor-ations that greet the eye on every hand, there has been no sign of the stirring scenes of the past week. It was bright and beautiful when Governor McKinley and Mrs. General Russell Hastings, accom-panied by Captain Heistand, the major's right hand can drove to the First M. E. church, a handsome structure two blocks from the public square.

church, a handsome structure two blocks from the public square.

Governor McKinley thirty years ago was superintendent of the Sunday school of this church, while his wife was Sunday school toacher in the First Presbyterian church, two blocks west, in which they were married twenty-five years ago. The church was crowded, and Governor McKinley's fellow church members gave him a warm greeting. Fifty newspaper reporters were present. The pastor, E. P. Edmunds, chose for his text: "Make your calling and election sure, for if ye do these things ye shall never fail." Dr. Edmunds, made his sermon personally applienble, made his sermon personally applicable, and he referred in a happy manner to the result of the St Louis convention early last week. In his sermon were these thoughts:

We have just passed through a week "We have just passed through a week whose significance none are disposed to underestimate. The highest attainment of free government was illustrated, and the sacred privilege of American citizenship exercised in the choice of men and measures representing a vast number of our fellow citizens.

"As one of the first conditions of having a sure election we must amountee our candidacy. No man would be credited with political saggetty who hopes for the suf-frages of his fellow citizens in attaluing office, yet allows no amounterment beyond the unexpressed desire of his heart.

"A second requirement of a surredection is to have a platform, and then stand upon it. It is your privilege, it is your necessity to be absolutely fearless in this world of everything save the disfavor of God. True courage comes from right being and right doing. Two other conditions of succossful Christian candidacy I group under one head. They are caution and onthu-

"Owing to his position as a candidate there rests upon him a responsibility of carefulness which he is in duty bound to regard. Men put forward as standard bearers by all political parties recognize this obligation, and with studied care guard word and act that their cause may not suffer. What on the part of other men would be inconsequential, from him would be startling and disastrons. You have yet in mind a party which attributes its presidential Waterloo to three words, untimely spoken." But the doctor did not utter the words—"Rum, Romanism and Rebellion."

At the conclusion of the services Governor McKinley gave his nem to his aged mother, who at 87 is a regular churchgoer, and escorted her to her modest carriage at the church door. His wife's health does not permit her attendance at church. Yesterday, however, she listened to the services by algebras. "Owing to his position as a candidate terday, however, she listened to the services by telephone.

In the afternoon Governor McKinley and wife, accompanied by General and Mrs. Hastings, took a short drive. They just escaped a terrific wind and rain storm, which destroyed many handsome decorations, blew down trees and burned out trolley motors.

Postmaster Monnot has had a large drawer, as large as several ordinary com-pariments, set apart for the presidential nominee's mail. Yesterday when Fred, the colored attendant at the Market street home, went for the mail he found more than he could carry, and had to hire a carriage to come home in. As he under-took to gather the tightly tied bundles of letters in his arms and step from the carriage to the stone curb his strength failed him. A thousand or more of the larger went to the pavement, and he had to make two trips to carry them into the house. When they were sorted and the governor opened them, among them was this one from Senator John Sherman, dated Mansfield, O.

"I have not hurrled in sending you my congratulations for your nomination as the next president of the United States, but they are not less hearty and sincere. I will gladly do all I can to secure your tri-umphant election. Give to Mrs. McKinley my good wishes, in which Mrs. Sherman joins."

Senacor Cushman K. Davis, of Minnesota, was another of his correspondents.

Chairman Hanna's Welcome Home. CLEVELAND, June 22.—Hon. M. A. Hanna arrived home from St. Louis at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, accompanied by a part of the Cleveland convention continuent. He was the convention continuent. tingent. Escorted by the club, the street railroad men and two brass bands, the party proceeded to the Tippe-cance club rooms, being given an ovation along the line of march. At the club rooms Mayor McKisson made a speech of congratulation, and was replied to by Mr. Hanna. Speeches were made also by Hon. S. T. Everett, Myron T. Herrick, Andrew Squire, Major C. W. Dick and Judge F. E. Dellenbaugh. An informal recently E. Dellanlaugh. An informal reception was held by Mr. Hanna. Among his guests restorday were H. C. Evans, of Tennessee, and Colonel Fred Grant. The course over which the race is to be rowed, a magnificent stretch of water extending for four miles as straight as an arrow in front of this city, is probably the most advantageous course for a boat race in this country, and codlege men who are interested in the arrangements for the coming race predict that it will be the most brilliant aquatic contest in the history of college sports in America. The college committee expect a larger number of spec-tators than events of this kind are usually favored with, because of the case with which Poughkeepsic can be reached from New York, Beston, Philadelphia and other points cast and west.

which Poughkeepsie can be reached from New York, Beston, Philadelphia and other points cast and west.

The crews that are training at Poughkeepsie have worked hard since they cams here. All have been in charge of competent and painstaking coaches, who have exacted the most conscientious effort from their men, and in every instance have met with a willing response from the crews. So industriously has each crew labored, and so well have they all achieved results, that it is a difficult task to indge, by comparison of the four crews, how each one will account for itself in the big race on Friday, and it is quite as hard to pick the winner of the freshman two nulle race, which will take place on Wednesday, two days before the 'varsity crews.

From all present indications it is pretty certain that the lasting framentry are going to select the Harvard crews for favorites in both races. Harvard draws for favorites in both races. Harvard the undoubtedly the best 'varsity and freshmen crews it has turned out in years. The freshmen crew is certainly a beauty. If anything, the more show better form than the 'varsity, but they have not the power in their leg drive that is in the senior boat. They have been rowing in practice thirty-four strokes to the minute and have been clearing about to the minute and have been clearing about

The Columbia 'varsity has apparently

The Columbia 'varsity has apparently not been coathed as well as the others. The crew shows a lack of good systematic coaching, due to the fact that Walter Peet has been unable to train the men. Arthur Purnam, who has had little experience in coaching, is filling Peet's place as best he can, and for the post week has been given valuable assistance by Guy-Hichards. Seven men in this year's crew were members of the victorious eight of last year, and they are determined, if possible, to retain their laurels. Although the crew has not been rowing as fast as last year it has shown steady improves ments.

The Columbia freshmen do not row in good form, but they are quite steady and have plenty of the sand and grit for which Courney has made a radical change in the Cornell stroke since last year, dropping it from forty-three to about thirty-four a minute. The crew kept the best very well on its bottom, but as yet have not shown much speed. They do not emphasize the first part of the receivery, the slow slide and the catch sufficiently, which may almost be said to be the three essentials of speed in a shell.

The Cornell freshmen show up well when compared with the 'varsity, and they should give a good account of themselves in their
