WANT A "MERRY-GO-ROUND"?

Here's a Chance to Get the Novelty of the Season Free.

The "Merry-Go-Round" has long been an institution of the summer. Every one knows with what joy he has hailed its advent, and how much pleasure there has been in watching the animals go around the circle. Appreciating this, and with particular reference to the wishes of the boys and girls, the publishers of the Philadelphia Sunday Press, have arranged to give a gaily decorated "Merry-Go-Round" with every copy of next Sunday's Press, the 28th inst. If you want to please your boys and girls do not fail to get The Press next Sunday.

Weddings.

George Deitz and Miss Agnes Hogan, both of Ashland, were married yesterday, in St. Joseph's Catholic church. The groom is a machinist in the employ of Goynne Bros. The couple is on an extended wedding tour.

At noon yesterday Edward Kirtwin, one of Butler township's school teachers, and Miss Lizzie Kenney, were married at Girardville. Both are residents of the latter town.

James Daly and Miss Maria Hines, of Centralia, were joined in wedlock yesterday. The Catholic church at Mahanoy Plane was the scene of a pretty wedding yesterday, the contracting parties being James McGrath, of Girardville, and Miss Margaret Brehony, of the former place.

William Giblin, of Ellangowan, and Miss Ellen Toubey, of Jacksons, were married Tuesday evening.

On Tuesday evening John L. Hughes and Miss Lillian Williams, of Mahanoy City, were married at the latter place in the Reformed church. They are now on a wedding tour.

John H. Reichart and Miss Agnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Foster, of Pottsville, were married last evening, at the above place.

Drunken Brawl.

A drunken brawl took place in a Polish boarding house on West Raspberry alley last evening in which Solomon Sagata and George Kalris were important characters. They were captured by Officer Lee and lodged in the lockup. This morning they had a hearing before Justice Williams, paid fine and costs, and were released. Solomon's white shirt was literally covered with blood, from a scalp wound, which he received by being hit on the head with a stone, thrown by Paul Strodelok. His hair was done up in frizzes of clotted blood.

Refused to Recognize the Divorce.

About a year ago George Bolich left Gordon for Arkansas. Soon after he reached the western state he made application for a divorce from his wife, whom he deserted in Gordon. Soon after the divorce proceedings were taken depositions were taken in Gordon, but the deserted wife was in total ignorance of any such proceedings until a short time ago. As soon as Bolich arrived in Gordon he was arrested on the charge of desertion and non-support, and appeared before Judge Pershing Tuesday and presented a copy of the decree granted by an Arkansas court. The judge was convinced the divorce was obtained through fraud and Bolich was held for appearance at the September term of court.

Exciting Horse Race.

Among the many horsemen who were visitors to Neiswenter's livery stable, yesterday, was Raymond Eichler, of Bohrsburg, Columbia county, who came to purchase horses. Raymond has some reputation of being a daring baraback rider, and made a bet with Win. Neiswenter, that they both mount one of their horses and race to Kingtown, the man reaching the destination first was to win the other's horse. Mr. Neiswenter consented and the bet was taken up. After getting the horses down to making trim, time was called and both riders mounted their steed. Eichler, who was very anxious for a favorable lead on his competitor, whipped up his horse, who started on a terrific gallop out Coal street. When the horse turned the corner of Main street, he stumbled and fell, throwing the rider headlong into the muddy street. He was picked up unhurt. The race was witnessed by fully one hundred people. In consequence of the mishap it was declared off until next week.

Attempted Rape.

Among the arrivals at the P. & R. depot on Saturday, June 13th, was a Polish woman named Mary Williams, who came to this country to meet her husband, and who resides in town. She carried an address, which she handed to William Yetkols and an accomplice, who volunteered to escort her there. In company with the two men they went to Nookewicz's saloon where they remained a short time. Here it is supposed a plan was agreed upon to assault the woman. Instead of taking the woman to the address mentioned, they induced her to accompany them down the P. & R. railroad. After they had reached the trestle at the Shenandoah City colliery the men knocked her down and held her at bay with a revolver. But the woman became so much frightened that she called for help, and the perpetrators of the proposed crime were scared away. The lady was finally picked up by a policeman who took her to a hotel for the night, where she was met the next day by her husband. Last evening Yetkols was arrested by Constable Gibson and taken before Justice Toomey, where he waived a hearing and entered bail in the sum of $500 for appearance at court. His accomplice is still at large.

Huckleberries.

The luscious huckleberry is now ripe, as many housekeepers in town know from the frequent trips they are called to make to the front door to respond to the ring of the youthful pickers trying to dispose of their wares. Many pennies are earned in this way but in Hazleton and its vicinity it is an industry that brings in many dollars in a season. At Mahanoy City also great quantities of the berries are picked and shipped to market, but for some reason or other no great quantities are picked for shipment in town. This is a little surprising, too, as the hills days at the collieries leaves many men and boys with three idle days time each week, the same as in the Hazleton region, where whole families go to the hills when collieries are idle and the shipments amount to car loads at a time. The shipments from town are light and have never amounted to much although dealers have tried to boom the trade. Women, the green grocer, has made a few shipments so far but finds it difficult to get pickers and does not anticipate any heavy shipments.

Obituary.

Mrs. Patrick Whalen, of Wilkesbarre, a former resident of town, died last evening, aged 73 years. She was an aunt of Messrs. M. D. and M. J. Malone, of town, and the mother of M. F. Whalen, late detective of Luzerne county. Her funeral will take place on Saturday morning at 9:15 o'clock, with interment in the above named city.

John Linton, a former photographer of town, who returned from the Presbyterian hospital, Philadelphia, some two weeks ago, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Hood, of 22 South Howard street, at 10 o'clock last night. Deceased had been a long sufferer of cancer in the stomach, which caused his death. He is survived by his wife and two children, who are left in very destitute circumstances.

Runaway.

While stepping from his wagon and falling upon a wet board which frightened his horse, caused a runaway this morning of the team of Thomas Williams, the luekster, on West Coal street. The horse made a terrific dash, breaking the king bolt, and running away with the front track, turning the corner of Coal and Jardin streets. Here the horse ran on the pavement, colliding with the cellar door at Umbach's, which threw him to the ground, where he was caught. His hind leg was somewhat lacerated, but the damage to the wagon was slight.

Big Drive in Hosiery. We have just received the case of Misses' Fast Black Hosiery, sizes 5 to 9, which we will sacrifice at 5 cents per pair. At R. F. GILL'S.

The Sensation Exploited.

The supposition that the bones found on the dump at the west end of Lloyd street were placed there by a medical student has been verified. The student in question had much fun at the people's expense as long as it lasted, but it is hardly the right thing to place such ghastly objects on a public dumping ground.

Shoes at Factory Prices.

Don't Let Your Feet Go "Bareheaded"

It isn't necessary, on the ground of economy, because we're selling footwear as near nothing as anybody can; nor is it necessary, on the ground of coolness, because our Russet Shoes are cool enough for any man, woman or child who walk eth up and down, to and fro, on this earthly planet of ours. By this time it's pretty well known that we can serve wearers of shoes better than anybody else can; we save them money every time they buy here; the big crowds at our store prove that. People would not come so often if it were not so.

It has taken good shoes at lowest prices to build up the biggest shoe business in town; and just such policy is holding it. What a blessing to lean pocket-books Factory Prices have been. Usually enough saved on two pairs to buy the third. For instance:

Child's Russet Shoes, 35c.; Child's Russet Oxford Ties, 65c.; Child's Russet Sandals, with buckle, 75c. and $1.00; Misses' Russet Shoes, $1.00, or Oxford Ties, 75c.
