A MOST BEAUTIFUL TRIBUTE

To the Wife and Mother of Ex-Governor McKinley.

ONE WOMAN'S ORATORICAL GEM.

Mrs. Alice Danner Jones, in Words of Homely Eloquence, Honors the Exalted of Her Sex in the Presence of Wives, Mothers and Sisters.

CANTON, O., June 27.—Five thousand of the 100,000 people of Stark county greeted Governor McKinley, his wife and mother in a public reception by the women of Canton late yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Alice Danner Jones, one of the most eloquent women of Ohio, presented Governor McKinley, wife and mother, aged 77 years, from the balcony overlooking the lawn, saying in part:

"You know the import of this meeting. We, the women of Canton and Stark county, would show honor to the two women nearest and dearest to the man to whom not only Canton but an entire nation is paying homage.

"The path which we now see so plainly leading to the White House had its beginning within the doorway of the little frame house in Niles. There the wisdom of a father and the loving guidance of a mother laid the foundation stones in a young boy's life of the justice, the sagacity and the charity which characterize the statesman of today.

"Ah, Mother! The little hands you guided then have been growing stronger as your own have grown more feeble. Life's discipline of calm and storm has left its marks upon your boy's face, but the necessary lessons and songs are still remembered, and the touch of your aged hands upon his hands today is a motive power for good, so pure, so limitless in its reach that only balances unseen can estimate its worth.

"Mrs. McKinley, over twenty-five years ago you prophesied Canton's future pride in Canton's young attorney. You pledged to him your girlish faith and within the old Presbyterian church you flanked your life with his. Canton has been proud of him for many years and Canton has been proud of you. Governor McKinley's every act today bears upon it the stamp of his association with a refined, exalted womanhood.

"So purely womanly is your wifely devotion, so in sympathy with his every interest has your life always been, that were you not a part of it today we believe that like Lafayette, he would exclaim in the bitterness of his heart: 'She was so one with me that life seems robbed of half its power without her.'

"Forteen years ago, on the Sunday following his nomination, James A. Garfield walked into the old home church, bearing on his arm his aged mother, and on last Sabbath morning into the church of his early faith walked our future president, and with him walked his mother.

"With home anchorage such as this we women have no fears that under the coming administration hearth fires will burn dimmer or counting rooms be closed. Our men may deal with questions of tariff and finance and political policy. We women believe that the importance of pure living is higher than all, and are satisfied that should you be called to preside over the destinies of the nation, we shall have a man at the head with a character so pure and a record so untarnished that any mother here today would feel proud to know that the steps of her little boy might be in line parallel with this.

"Governor and Mrs. McKinley, in giving you to the nation we do not feel that we are losing you. Too many ties, sacred and tender, will bring you back to Canton. There are pleasant friendships here, there are deeper loves, there are homes on South Market and West Tuscarawas, and out in West Lawn there are tiny graves and larger ones which will ever make Canton a Moses for your returning feet."

"Following the address two girls presented Mrs. McKinley, Mother McKinley and each lady of the party a bouquet of pretty flowers from the ladies of Canton.

"Then Governor McKinley responded: 'Women of Canton: I am sure that both wife and mother would have me express their warm appreciation of the gracious words spoken in this presence, and I assure you that no higher honors can come to me than this loving tribute you have paid to those who are so near and dear to me. No higher commendation can come to any man than to have the approval of the mothers and the sisters of this city, with whom he has dwelt so long. It will give wife and mother both the greatest pleasure to meet you all. I thank you.'

"There was deafening applause from hands that were gloved and ungloved, too. The reception followed, and for hours the women shook hands with Governor McKinley, wife and mother.

Bobart's Visit to McKinley. NEW YORK, June 27.—Garrett A. Bobart, at his home in Paterson, N. J., said yesterday that he had finally decided not to go to Canton this week. Mr. Bobart says that he will visit Mr. McKinley later for a conference.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

Proceedings at a Regular Monthly Meeting Held Last Night.

The Board of Health held a regular monthly meeting last night with the following members in attendance: Messrs. Spalding, Miles, Morrison and McHale.

The reports showed that since the last meeting held on May 23d, there were 27 deaths of local residents. Of these 2 died at the Schuylkill Haven almshouse and 2 at the Miner's hospital. Twelve of the deaths were due to contagious diseases enumerated as follows: Typhoid fever, 2; measles, 1; membranous croup, 1; scarlet fever, 1; diphtheria, 1.

Dr. Clifton Robbins appeared before the Board to answer a complaint that a child named Lizzie Tobias had died on the 4th inst. of membranous croup and the doctor had failed to report the case. Dr. Robbins said the reason he made no report was that in his teaching and reading on membranous croup he had learned that there were two kinds—the contagious and non-contagious, and the case referred to being non-contagious he did not consider that he was bound to report it. The law bearing upon the case was read, and a motion to excuse was adopted.

A Burglar Caught. Andrew Cussakawicz, about 20 years of age, was arraigned before Justice Toomey by Policeman Tosh and Lee to-day on a charge of burglary and committed to the Pottsville jail without bail.

Shortly before 4 o'clock this morning Cussakawicz smashed a large pane of glass in the front door of William Novicki's shoe store on Centre street, just east of White street. He ran away after committing the act, but hid in the vicinity and, upon finding that the noise of the breaking glass had not attracted attention, he returned to the store. After satisfying himself that he was not being watched Cussakawicz crawled through the opening into the store. Policemen Tosh and Lee were upon his heels and pulled him from beneath a counter. When first arrested Cussakawicz laughingly told the police and Justice Toomey that he went into the place to steal, but at the hearing he claimed to have been drunk and irresponsible.

The Awful Fate of a Young Man at Raven Run.

An Outcome of the Dangerous Practice of Illegal Car Riding—The Coal and Iron Police Are Waging an Active Campaign Against It.

The members of the Coal & Iron police force yesterday inaugurated an active campaign against illegal train riders in pursuance of orders issued by the general superintendent of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company and made several arrests.

As one result of the raids there was a fatality which should serve as a dreadful warning to others who may be violating the law. The victim was Owen McDonough, aged 29 years and residing at Centralia.

At about 2:30 yesterday afternoon C. & I. Policeman George Geiger was at the Raven Run depot awaiting the arrival of the east-bound passenger train and incidentally keeping watch for illegal riders on passing coal and freight trains. Engine No. 109 approached from the east, bound for Centralia to get a train of loaded coal cars. The engine was running tank foremost. As it rounded the curve near the depot Geiger observed that there were three or four young men riding on the pilot of the engine. The officer signaled the engineer to slacken speed, which was done. The young men on the pilot jumped off and ran up the dirt bank on the opposite side of the track. At the same time McDonough, who was riding on the tank of the engine, but in such a position that he could not be seen, jumped up and made a spring to the track ahead of the engine. He was knocked down as he alighted and fell in such a position on the rail that the wheels of the engine cut his body in twain at the abdomen. Death was instantaneous. The engine was stopped and the remains, after being placed on a door taken from the depot, were sent to the parents of the deceased at Centralia.

Just before this accident happened Policeman Peter Kreiger arrested on a coal train at Raven Run a young man named Peter Lavelle, also of Centralia. After a hearing before Justice Williams, of town, Lavelle was directed to pay $10 fine and costs. He was released upon giving security for payment.

Last night Policemen Geiger and Kreiger arrested at Park Place Thomas W. Bird, Harrisburg; John W. Paul, Ashland, and George Schney, of town, for illegal car riding. They were brought to town and given a hearing before Justice Lawlor. Each said he was unable to pay the fine and costs, and in default of payment was committed for ten days. They were taken to the Pottsville jail this morning, after spending the night in the lockup.

A Woman Assaulted. Mestas Lestuski keeps a boardinghouse on West Centre street. Yesterday several of her boarders had a jollification in the house and partook freely of beer. Two of the boarders, Joe Strubashewski and Simon Vanaviez, late in the day found Mrs. Lestuski in an isolated part of the house. They seized the woman and knocked her down with the intention of ravishing her, but her cries brought to her assistance another boarder named Victor Puskawicz, who attacked the woman's assailants with such vigor that he put them to flight. Strubashewski caused the arrest of Puskawicz on a charge of assault and battery. Mrs. Lestuski appeared and told her side of the story, whereupon Justice Toomey put Strubashewski under arrest on a charge of assault with intent to ravish. Vanaviez was in the office ready to testify in behalf of his friend against Puskawicz, but, seeing the turn affairs had taken, he slipped out of the office and has not been found since. Puskawicz was put under $300 bail on the charge against him and Strubashewski was taken to the Pottsville jail this morning, in default of $200 bail.
