Shenandonh displays marked evidences of Fourth of July. Our people, aside from the display of lamels; of Chinese crackers, torpudoes, wheels, chasers, etc. in the windows of shops, are practically indifferent to the approach of Independence Day, which is renarkable for a town having the targest population of any other in the county. Of course times are different from what they were when weeks were spent in proparation for observances of the day. The working time at the collection of the first congressional district, and Andrew Grindeland, of the Seventh district, are the only real candidates, with the chances in favor of Gibbs. Treasurer ance of the day. The working time at the coltries and wages have been much curralled, the social conditions have changed and there is not the unministy and spirit that existed venrance; still there should be sufficient of the penuine '70 spirit left to bring about an bervance of the day, though it may only be the parade of a few societies behind a brass band

Rind Words for the American Cursmen. In English Newspapers.

London, July 1.—The Honley corre-city, epondent of The Dally Mail says: "The Yale men are very much in carnest, and mean not to leave a stone unturned in their endeavors to take the classic cup tion. meross the Atlantic. Much as every En-glishman wants an English row to win, no one would becrudge a victory to such a sportsmanlike lot of young fellows as is this moment representing Vale at

The Daily Graphic says: "Although there is some doubt and also many opin-ions about the merits of the crew from Yale, there can be no denying that their presence is to the outside world the most conspictions feature of the regatta. Their best performance up to date was the row-ing over the course in 7.10. This time has ing over the course in A. This line has been banton both by Leander and New College, who may be regarded as Yale's strongest rivals. Leander has a splendid eight, with a great pass and power, and if Yale can beat then we will have to revise and can beat them we will have to revise our notions of newing. New College will also want a lot of leading. Yale's other important rival is Trinity Hall. A good many people will look forward to a fine struggle between them and Yale, should the two happen to meet.

Relief in Six Hours.
