STORY OF THE BALLOTTING.

Lland Led for Three Ballots, but Was Passed on the Fourth.
CHICAGO, July 11.—William Jennings Bryan, of Nebraska, the classic featured orator from the plains of the Platte, swept the Democratic convention off its feet yesterday and was nominated for president on the fifth ballot. Political history furnishes no precedent for yesterday's proceedings in the Coliseum, either as a great spectacular show or as a result of deliberations of the convention of a great political party.

CANDIDATE WILLIAM J. BRYAN.

Mr. Bryan is but 36 years old, younger by ten years than any man ever nominated for the chief magistracy of the American republic. He came like a young Lochinvar out of the west, which has never before nominated a presidential candidate to woo the bride for whose hand the country's greatest chieftains have been suitors. His name was barely mentioned in the preliminary skirmishes. When the convention met he was not entered in the lists, but on Thursday he made an impetuous speech and stirred the convention to frenzy by his eloquence. That speech overthrew the diligently organized work of weeks and months for other aspirants for the honor.

The cause of silver was uppermost in the minds of the delegates when they assembled here, and when Bryan made his speech the delegates suddenly saw in him the great advocate of their cause, and they turned to him with an impetuosity which nothing could balk. They wanted a tribute of the people. They felt that they had found him in the eloquent young Nebraskan, who set their imaginations on fire. If he had been placed in nomination then, the convention would have been stammered as it was yesterday. Some of Anthony Buskiewicz, a Lithuanian aged 35 years, placed a stone weighing 8 to 10 pounds on the Lakeide railway track on the incline at Indian Ridge colliery at about 1:30 this afternoon. The act was seen by Motorman Daniel Walters, who stopped his car and, with the assistance of a passenger named W. H. Brown, placed Buskiewicz under arrest and took him before Justice Toomey. The prisoner was committed without bail. Buskiewicz was drunk. The maximum penalty for such acts is $10,000 fine, or 10 years imprisonment.

A Despicable Act.

The pleasure steamer Lady Lee that has been in use on the large dam at Lakeside for the past 13 years now lies at the bottom of the dam as the result of the work of some miscreants. On Wednesday night some unknown parties broke into the Lakeside boat house where the steamer was kept and with an ax cut a large hole in the bottom of the boat after which it was pushed out on the dam. The steamer went till it reached the middle of the dam and then sank to the bottom where it now lies in fifteen feet of water.

Robbed by a Sneak Thief.

Miss Maggie Dangler, daughter of Justice C. W. Dangler, has been robbed of $55. Miss Dangler resides with her parents on South White street. When she went to her sleeping apartment last evening she found two rifled purses on her bureau. One had contained the amount stated. Suspicion is directed to a boy about 16 years of age who called at the rear entrance of the house on Thursday evening and asked for a drink of water, which was given him and he departed. The boy was well dressed and a stranger to the family. It is believed that he watched for an opportunity when the members of the family were gathered on the front porch of the house.

THEY WANTED AN AUTOPSY

The Relatives of Joseph Navsotko Were Suspicious About His Death.

THOUGHT HE HAD BEEN POISONED

The Fears Were Based Upon a Threat and Statement That the Wife is Alleged to Have Made—Dr. Stein Could Find no Poison.

On Wednesday last, Joseph Navsotko, a Pole, died at his residence at No. 434 West Cherry street. Immediately after his demise ugly rumors got about as to the cause of death and one of the rumors eventually became what appeared to be a well authenticated story that Navsotko died a few days after a return to his home after an absence due to jealousy of a boarder in his house. An investigation showed that this report was not founded on facts, but at the same time an excellent foundation for the rumors was discovered.

Navsotko was 29 years of age and left a wife and three children. The wife is of about the same age and comely in appearance. Navsotko had the reputation of being an industrious man.

After the death a brother and cousin of the deceased were introduced to Dr. W. S. Stein and through Justice Rybnakiewicz they requested an autopsy be held to decide whether Navsotko died from poison, or was the victim of other foul play. The burial of the remains was deferred to give an opportunity for the autopsy, which was performed yesterday afternoon by Dr. Stein. Upon its conclusion the doctor stated that he found the deceased's stomach, bowels and liver in a very much inflamed condition, the stomach especially so, but the lungs and heart were in a normal state. The doctor took the stomach and a part of the liver to his office and after a chemical analysis stated that he could find no trace of any of the common poisons, such as arsenic, antimony, morphine, or strychnine. As to the cause of inflammation Dr. Stein was not prepared to state. Such complaints may be brought on by a variety of circumstances. Poison, he said, could produce the state and he would not say it had not produced the inflammation in this case, but his analysis was a good and reliable one and he could find no trace of poison. The doctor also stated that he treated the deceased from July 2nd up to the time of death on the 8th inst., for inflammation of the bowels and he gave a certificate of death to that effect.

When a HERALD reporter called at Dr. Stein's office yesterday afternoon Justice Rybnakiewicz and the deceased's cousin were there. The reporter asked who had instigated the autopsy and, through Justice Rybnakiewicz, an interpreter, the cousin stated that he and the deceased's brother had. The reporter asked why the step had been taken and was told that it was sought to see if the man had been poisoned. To draw forth the information it was necessary to put a number of questions in various forms and the cousin eventually made the purpose very clear. He said that he and the brother were led to believe from statements made by the wife that she had administered or had knowledge of the administering of poison to her husband. That some time ago she had threatened to poison him and while he lay ill she told her husband that had he treated her better he would not then be ill.

The cousin said there was no truth in the report that the husband got jealous over a boarder in the house and left the house for a week on that account and returned only a few days before he was taken ill. The husband, the cousin alleged, did visit Shumakin about a month ago and remained there from Saturday until Monday, but not because of jealousy. The man was ill for about five days before Dr. Stein was called in to attend him. Continuing the conversation the cousin stated that as the doctor could find no poison it had been concluded to take no further steps and allow the burial to proceed.

The funeral took place this morning. The St. George's Polish Society, of which the deceased was a member, was in attendance.

Columbia's Annual Outing.

The annual outing of the Columbia H. & S. E. Co. to Lakeside, which was postponed from Thursday on account of the inclemency of the weather, took place to-day. They were accompanied by the Grand band and the Patriotic Drum Corps, and nearly 600 friends. The train was made up of six passenger coaches and one baggage car. The crowd was so large that the roof of the refreshment car was occupied by passengers, and the platforms and aisles were crowded. Another train for the picnic ground left shortly after noon and carried over two hundred passengers.

A Brutal Assault.

John Biel, a Pole, last night prosecuted Joe Walkuski, a Lithuanian, before Justice Williams for beating him on the head with a sprag and kicking him. Biel's head was badly contused. The men work as car runners at the Maple Hill shaft. The assault took place yesterday afternoon. Walkuski claimed Biel took one of his sprags and Biel threw back the one that was claimed. Walkuski says this struck him on the leg. He chased Biel and struck him a blow on the back of the head that knocked him senseless for nearly ten minutes, and while the man was prostrate applied several blows and kicks. Walkuski was put under $500 bail for trial.
