Suicide After Attempted Murder.

Henry K. Griesing, of Hazleton, an old and well-known resident of that city, committed suicide by drowning yesterday. About an hour previous to taking his own life by throwing himself in a reservoir Griesing attempted to kill his wife by setting her dress on fire, but Mrs. Griesing discovered the flames and extinguished them before sustaining any burns. This seemed to anger Griesing all the more, and he proceeded to the yard, returning in a moment with a large club in his hand. Before the woman had time to escape, he dealt her a powerful blow across the back, following it up with another across the head. Neighbors interfered and the man ran away. Griesing was 53 years old. It is believed he was insane.

The Social Side of Bicycling.

Everybody knows in a general way that thousands of persons, young and old, are riding bicycles this year, but few realize what an important factor the social side of cycling has become. To bring out all the facts, the issue of The Philadelphia Sunday Press of next Sunday, the 19th inst., will be a bicycle number. There will be page after page of gossip, profusely illustrated, about all the bicycle clubs and bicycle riders everywhere, and in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland particularly. If you are the owner of a bicycle your portrait is likely to be in next Sunday's Press and there will certainly be a chapter of gossip about the cyclists of this section. The project is unique, and the demand for The Sunday Press bicycle number is certain to be immense.

TWO YOUTHFUL ROBBERS.

They Hall From Shenandoah And Were Caught in Mahanoy City.

MAHANOY CITY, July 10.—Two youths from Shenandoah named Daniel Cullen and Michael Scanlan, made an unsuccessful attempt last night to rob the residence of Charles A. Wellhaf, the shoe dealer of Main street. Cullen was caught in the act, but Scanlan escaped. He was subsequently arrested, however, and both have been sent to jail. Cullen is but 14 years of age. Scanlan is about 17.

The story of the case is an interesting one. The robbery was attempted at about nine o'clock. Mr. Wellhaf and his family were sitting on the front porch of the house, with the exception of the son, David, who is a young man having but one arm. He retired to his bed in the street early in the evening. Cullen and Scanlan entered the house from the rear by removing a screen from a window on the first floor. Having gained admittance, they unlocked the kitchen door and left it open, so that there would be free passage for escape. The young robbers then ascended to the second floor and entered a bedroom. David Wellhaf heard a scratching of matches and, as the use of matches in the upper part of the house is unusual, his suspicions became aroused and he descended to the second floor. As he did so Scanlan dashed down stairs and escaped from the house by the rear entrance. Wellhaf found Cullen bending over a trunk with a lighted match in his hand. The trunk had been broken open and most of the contents scattered on the floor of the bedroom. In reply to Wellhaf's question as to why he was there Cullen said he had no parents and was looking for a place to sleep. Wellhaf asked him what he was doing at the trunk. Cullen made no reply, but sprang to the open window and got partly out when Wellhaf grabbed one of his legs. After a struggle Wellhaf got the boy back into the room and held him prisoner by the throat, at the same time calling for assistance, which soon arrived. Having but one arm Wellhaf was at disadvantage in the struggle. Cullen was taken before Justice May and committed to the lockup after a hearing. He gave the name and address of his companion and last night Constable Leitenberger arrested Scanlan at Shenandoah and brought him here. It was at first thought that the thieves had taken a purse containing $100, but this was subsequently found in another room.

Thomas Carney, the saloonkeeper, lives next door to the Wellhaf house and was robbed three months ago. John O'Neill, residing on the opposite side of the street, was robbed last Monday night. In both cases the thieves were caught. Cullen and Scanlan were not connected with them.

Daniel Cullen lives at 306 and Michael Scanlan at 422 West Raspberry alley. The former lives with his parents and is said to be incorrigible. Scanlan lives with his widowed mother.

Chief of Police Tush does not think that either Cullen, or Scanlan had anything to do with the recent robberies in this town, although the methods resorted to were similar to those adopted in the Mahanoy City robbery.

Jr. O. U. A. M. Notice.

The members of Major Jennings Council No. 367, Jr. O. U. A. M., have decided to attend the institution of the new Jr. O. U. A. M. Council at Orier City on Saturday, 18th inst. Lehigh Valley trains will leave town at 5:15 and 6:00 p. m. All members of the Council, as well as the members of Shenandoah Valley Council No. 530 are respectfully requested to participate. By order of ARTHUR TREGEMBO, Councilor. Attest:—WILLIAM REEVES, Sec'y. 7-10-96

Funerals.

The funeral of Mrs. Kate Beck took place this morning at 10 o'clock, from the family residence, 625 West Oak street, and interment was made in the Annunciation cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Alice Lees took place this afternoon from the family residence on South West street. Interment was made in the Old Fellows' cemetery.

A Serious Crime.

Alexander Oliver, an Italian of McAdoe, is charged with the abduction of a 15-year-old girl named Lizzie Boyle. She is the daughter of Patrick Boyle, of McAdoe, and it is alleged that the bronzed villain kept her living with him for several days. The parents have tried their best to get the girl to return, but she was so taken up with him that she could not be persuaded.

P. J. Mulholland Entertains.

A private party under the supervision of P. J. Mulholland left town this morning for Lakeside to enjoy a day's outing. They proceeded by trolley to Mahanoy City, where they took a P. & R. train for that favorite picnic ground. The party was made up as follows: Misses Carroll, Ella Egan, Sallie Stein, Sallie and Mary Delaney and Nellie Bradigan, and Messrs. P. J. Mulholland, M. J. Muldoon, John Monaghan, F. J. Brennan, W. J. Galvin and John Higgins.

Goldin Branching Out Again.

Louis Goldin, proprietor of the Mammoth Clothing House at Nos. 9 & 11 South Main street, has again begun extensive improvements in his store and by fall proposes to have the largest clothing house in the county. A large force of carpenters have commenced to extend the building to Market street, which will give a commodious saleroom with a large area of skylights, so that customers will have no difficulty in examining goods. Mr. Goldin is evidently determined that there shall be no doubt to the propriety of his claim to the title of Mammoth Clothing House.

They Were Frauds.

A man and woman that were begging from door to door to-day attracted the attention of Burgess Stern who soon learned that the man was not blind at all and ordered them to leave the town. About half an hour later they drove out of Smith's livery stable in their own team, the horse being driven by the supposed blind man. They left in the direction of Shenandoah.—Yesterday's American.

St. Swithin's Day.

Yesterday was the day of St. Swithin, a meteorological saint, to whom tradition has given a reputation as a weather prophet similar to that of the ground hog. In fact, St. Swithin, who was Bishop of Winchester, England, something more than a thousand years ago, is to the summer what the ground hog is to late winter and early spring, so far as weather is concerned. The old adage regarding him is to the effect that if it rains or is fair on St. Swithin's Day, the 17th of July, there will be a continuous track of wet or dry weather for the forty days ensuing. The old line says:

St. Swithin's Day, if thou dost rain, For forty days it will remain; St. Swithin's Day, if thou be fair, For forty days 'twill rain no more.

Withelder et al., to Elizabeth Jones, premises in Reilly township; John T. Lewis et al., to George Trommter, lot in Gordon; Eliza Middleton to Thomas McCook, lot in Gilberton.

A marriage license was issued to John W. Wicoski and Mary Strovinskis, both of Wicoski.

Justice Hausman, of Yorkville, committed Charles Hoffman in default of $300 bail on oath of Amelia Werner, charged with larceny and receiving stolen goods.

John Burns was committed by Justice Fisher, of town, in default of $300 bail, on oath of Mary Clark, charged with assault and battery.

Another Eerieing Wife.

Michael Macadeley, a Russian Jew, arrived in Reading on his way from Mahanoy Plane to Allentown. He was accompanied by three little children. To a Reading World reporter Macadeley told the following story: The father lived at Mahanoy Plane for 12 years, and carried on the blacksmith trade, and was also an interpreter of the Pottsville court. He speaks English, German, Polish and Hungarian. His family up to two years ago was an ideal one, but when their happiness was driven from the home circles, and the father and children were neglected by the wife and mother. The cause of all this is the oft told tale of an ering woman, influenced by a man who induced her to break her ties and yield to the pleasure afforded in following an untruthful and wayward life to her husband and family. Soon the neatness of the home was no more, and the little ones were forced to endure the hardships of a cruel mother, and the husband's appeals were not listened to. The result of such procedure on the part of the mother resulted in the breaking up of the home. The family, which was at one time a happy quiet life, is now severed—the mother is still leading her wayward life, and the father and children will leave Allentown for the West. The scene at the station was a pitiful one, and the father wept as he related the misdoings of his ering wife.

A Slight Collision.

A Pennsylvania Railroad coal train bound from Nescopee to Pottsville ran into the rear end of a coal train at Wetherill Junction at 5:30 last evening and stopped traffic over the line for about half an hour. The engine and two cars of the second train were considerably damaged and one of the cars jumped from the rails. The first train escaped injury and continued on its journey. None of the crews sustained injury.

Trotting Circuit.

There are six places in the Agricultural fair trotting circuit for this fall. The dates are as follows: Orwigsburg, Sept. 8, 9, 10 and 11; Reading, Sept. 15, 16, 17 and 18; Ashland, Sept. 22, 23, 24 and 25; Lewisburg, Sept. 29, 30, Oct. 1 and 2; Milton, Oct. 6, 7, 8 and 9; Bloomsburg, Oct. 13, 14, 15 and 16.

Seeking Advice.

John R. Burd, of Wilkes-Barre, who possesses an inexhaustible fund of technical knowledge in regard to mining of coal and is recognized as an authority in connection with the investigation of the Pittston mine disaster, is consulting with mining experts of this and adjoining districts, with a view of devising means to recover the bodies of the entombed victims.

Off to Camp.

William J. James, B. F. James, Stephen Lindemuth, John Fogel, Lewis A. Hopkins, Arthur Tregembo, William Williams, John Katz and George Heagan will leave town at noon to-morrow for Lewisport, to join their company in the National Guard encampment.

Fear Fire.

Complaint is made against the practice of storekeepers in burning waste paper and other refuse on Pear alley. This thoroughfare is very narrow and lined by stables on both sides, so that even with great precaution there is much danger. Storekeepers in that part of the town are made very nervous by flame or smoke, as it was there the conflagration of 1883 started.

Always Busy.. The story is told of a Shoe Dealer in this county who claimed he was always busy, yet very few customers were ever seen in his store. What kept him busy was, that he had the Itch and a Waterbury Watch.—Now we're busy, but not for these reasons. Just at present we're busy selling Women's Oxford Ties at 98c, that would be considered cheap at $1.50 at any other store. Fifteen styles, any color from White to Black; you can surely be suited here and save a good half dollar. Men's and Boys' Russet Shoes in great varieties, and the Factory Price on every pair means a great saving to all of our customers.
