BRUMM IS AGAIN NOMINATED

Proceedings at the Republican County Convention To-day.

ST. LOUIS PLATFORM - ENDORSED.

The Platform Adopted at Chicago Condemned in Unmistakable Terms—Hon. Charles N. Brumm Re-Nominated for Congress and Hon. Eliza Davis Nominated for County Treasurer.

Special to EVENING HERALD.

POTTSVILLE, August 3. The most important, as well as enthusiastic and uncertain, Republican convention assembled here this morning shortly after 10 o'clock, in Union hall. From the time of the arrival of the early morning trains until the hour of the convention the various candidates and their respective adherents were busily engaged in marshaling their forces and trying to counteract the effect of combinations against them that had been formed the night before.

Sunday night was a busy one for the candidates. The fight in the local Senatorial and Legislative districts entered into the Congressional contest. At least the friends of Brumm made it so. Rumors of deals on the part of the latter were early circulated. One was to the effect that Samuel A. Loech, candidate for Senator in this district, and "Jack" Whitehouse had formed a combination with Brumm, by which the latter was to throw his strength in the Senatorial Convention to the support of Loech and Whitehouse in today's battle. This deal, however, was denied. Brumm realized long ago that the opposition to him was formidable, and he was early on the scene yesterday. This morning he was on the streets making personal appeals to the delegates. "The deal with Loech, et al. is a lukewarm one—"If you don't oppose me, I'm not against you" kind. In plain words, Mr. Brumm was badly frightened.

Every candidate had headquarters. The Douglas men held forth in the offices of William D. Seltzer, Esq., in the Seltz building, and the rooms were crowded with delegates and prominent party workers. On the outside were large placards bearing the words: "Douglas Headquarters, Gold Standard, McKinley and Protection!" in gold letters. It was an unusual spectacle—something never before known in his political career—to see the present Congressman resorting to curbside politics to secure a nomination. Heretofore Mr. Brumm has stood upon his dignity and allowed the nomination to seek him. Not so today. He realized last night that he was in danger, hence the deals referred to above to counteract the sentiment against him.

Burdette also played an important part in the contest, so far as the opposition to Shenandoah's favorite was concerned. Chairman Payne called the convention to order at 10:45, with Secretary Daniel Duffy at his desk. At this hour only about one half of the delegates were present and it was sometime before the full representation was present.

Secretary read the call for the convention, after which the list of delegates was read. The election of a permanent chairman was then in order and the name of S. Burd Edwards, Esq., was presented by R. H. Koch, Esq., and Mr. Edwards was chosen by acclamation.

The chairman-elect was escorted to the chair. He extended to the convention his gratitude and predicted the election of the nominees of the convention. Important questions confronted the people of this country, he said, and none more important than that we keep in accord with the platforms of the national and state conventions, and this convention will declare in no uncertain terms in favor of sound money as against free silver. Sound money means the maintenance of the present gold standard. We will march to victory with the county and state ticket. The Republican party will always stand for protection and that with sound money, will be the battle cry of this campaign.

The chairman's address was frequently punctuated by enthusiastic applause.

In the appointment of Vice Presidents William A. Zimmerman, of Shenandoah, was included in the list. Thomas Redelf, of Shenandoah, was placed on the committee on resolutions and Moses Rogers, of the same place, was named as one of the credential committee.

The convention adjourned at 11:30 to allow the committees to prepare their reports. The hour for re-convening was fixed at 1:30. The following are the eleven Vice Presidents of the convention: H. B. Graeff, Taomas; Fred Cooper, Elythe; Levi Miller, Pinegrove; William Patten, Barry; William Moore, Tremont; Joseph H. Fife, Girardville; William Brandon, Shepton; William H. Zimmerman, Shenandoah; William Lohr, New Philadelphia; John W. Stiner and Charles W. Snyder, Mahanoy City.

AFTERNOON SESSION.
At 1:45 o'clock Chairman Edwards again called the convention to order and the committee on credentials submitted its report, which was followed by the submission of the report of the committee on resolutions by the chairman, R. H. Koch. The report was as follows:

Resolved, That the Republican party of Schuylkill county has ever shared the glory of the grand old national Republican party since its organization in 1850; and
Resolved, That we ever followed its teachings and doctrines as laid down in its original foundation and as still further expounded in its national platforms ever since, as the public interests required; therefore be it
Resolved, That we hereby endorse the principles of the Republican party as formulated in their platform at the convention held in St. Louis on the 16th day of June, last.
Resolved, That we unqualifiedly and specially condemn as unprincipled and socialistic the utterances of certain portions of the platform adopted by the so-called Democratic national convention held at Chicago in July, 1896, and that we also condemn the platform in general as decidedly opposed to good government.

Resolved, That we endorse William McKinley and Gerrard A. Hobart, the candidates for President and Vice President of the Republican party of the United States.

Resolved, That we endorse Hon. Gaius A. Grov and Samuel A. Davenport, the candidates for Congressmen-at-Large of the Republican party of Pennsylvania.

Resolved, That we endorse the course of our Congressman, State Senators and our Representatives in the State Legislature.

W. D. Seltzer, Esq., offered a substitution to the report of the committee, but it was laid on the table.

Mr. Seltzer addressed the convention in behalf of his substitution and asked that the motion to lay on the table be re-considered. A standing vote was taken, resulting in the defeat of the motion to re-consider and the report of the committee on resolutions was adopted.

Chairman Edwards then declared the nomination of candidates in order.

BRUMM RE-NOMINATED.
8:45 p. m.—The result of the first ballot for the nomination of Congressman shows that Brumm received 241 votes and Dengler 59. This makes Brumm the nominee.

DAVIS NOMINATED.
8:50 p. m.—On the ballot for County Treasurer Hon. Eliza Davis, of Wadsworth, received 271 votes and Charles N. McGinnis, of Pottsville, 42.

He is employed at one of the collieries and upon returning home last Wednesday and removing his boot he found a small mark on the foot. When he arose the next morning the foot was swollen to twice its size. It became very sore and it is morning when his mother examined it she found a black spot on the skin. Upon removing it, she found a black bug the size of a fly, which caused the swelling. The boy's foot is now beginning to improve.

THE ATLANTIC CITY HORROR

The Number of Dead Now Placed at Forty-Four.

THREE OTHERS MAY NOT SURVIVE.

The Condition of Miss Lizzie Brantin, Frank Morele and William Johnson Still Extremely Critical—The Other Twelve Will Probably Recover.

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 3.—No additional deaths have yet occurred as a result of Thursday night's collision, and the death roll stands at forty-four. There is a possibility that it may remain at that figure, but it is only a remote one. At the Scarus tarium last evening it was reported that the fifteen patients still there were doing as well as could be expected, and while there was a law chance of pulling them all through safely the odds were against at least three. They are Frank Morele of East Orange, N. J.; William Johnson of Bridgeton, and Lizzie Brantin of Millville. Miss Brantin has not recovered consciousness since the collision, despite reports to the contrary. She is the pretty 19-year-old girl who was engaged to be married to Charles Horner, the Bridgeton grocer, who lies on the cot next to her. Horner, too, is very severely hurt, but the chances are now in favor of his ultimate recovery.

At 8 o'clock in the morning the patients request, made Saturday night to Rev. J. H. Townsend, rector of the Episcopal Church of the Ascension, was granted. The services of some of the little church, which stands just across the way, pealed forth the tones of "Nearer my God to Thee." The faces of the patients made a pitiful study as they harkened to the music. Some simply gazed with longing eyes into vacancy, others with rapt looks and quivering lips formed the words of the hymn in unison with the chimas, and some softly wept.

A number of clergymen of various denominations have, at their own request, been permitted access to the sick ward, and while all the patients have welcomed them and eagerly listened to their words of consolation, there has been no ceremony of a purely religious character. The relatives and friends of some of the dead visited Coroner McLaughlin yesterday and received the money and valuables which had belonged to their dead. The son of William Prickett, Sr., of Bridgeton, took a few articles of jewelry and $25.00 in money.

Alfred Sharp, a brother of Mrs. Lizzie Bateman, of Bridgeton, who was killed with her husband, secured the effects of the unfortunate couple. Mrs. Feighan, of Philadelphia, widow of Patrick Feighan, the liquor dealer who was killed, secured the money found on his body. Mrs. Brantin, mother of Lizzie Brantin, looked for a watch which belonged to her daughter, but it could not be found.

The watch of Phyllis H. Goldsmith, the Bridgeton clothier, who died hand in hand with his wife, bears on the face the picture of his wife and two boys. It had stopped at 2:40.

The inquest this afternoon will be held upon the bodies of Goldsmith and one or two others by way of formality. The railroad officials will be called first, including Superintendent A. T. Dyce, of the Reading, and E. O. Dayton, of the Pennsylvania. Albert Pinkerton, conductor of the Reading train, will also be called. There will be twenty-five or thirty witnesses in all.

Mrs. Burns, a German woman from Philadelphia, was here yesterday trying to find her boy, William, who had been reported as being badly injured in the wreck. He was not at the hospital, and there was no trace of him. He had been living at Shiloh, Pa., and may possibly be there now.

While the city is gradually resuming its normal conditions, the Sunday crowds were considerably smaller yesterday.

Funerals of the Victims.

BRIDGETON, N. J., Aug. 3.—The funerals of eleven of the victims of the Atlantic City railroad collision took place yesterday. Everywhere could be seen the clothes and badges of mourning, and many sad scenes were witnessed. Those buried were Mr. H. Frazier Bell and wife, Joshua Ernest, Charles Sney and son, Mr. Richard Tronhard and wife, Mr. James N. Bateman and wife and Joseph Peters and son. The bodies of Franklin Dubois, of Yorktown, and Mrs. Ellen May and son, of Palatka, were buried in the village cemetery at Friendship and Olivet. Today is being generally observed as a day of mourning.

Another Atlantic City Fatality.

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 3.—About 8 o'clock yesterday afternoon the floor of the photographic gallery of R. Benschaw, on the boardwalk, collapsed, precipitating twelve persons a distance of twelve feet. Mr. Williamson, of Johnstown, Pa., and Mrs. E. Holdsworth, of Philadelphia, were severely injured about the head and taken to the hospital, while Proprietor Benschaw had his cheek cut open. Last night as the Reading extension train was leaving the depot William O'Neil, of Philadelphia, fell beneath the wheels and had both legs amputated. He died last night.
