BRYAN'S EASTERN TRIP.

The Candidate's Godspeed from Friends and Neighbors.

HIS RECEPTION AT DES MOINES.

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 8.—The Bryan trip through the east was inaugurated yesterday afternoon under decidedly favorable conditions and auspices. Long before time for the departure of the Bryan party the Rock Island depot platform was crowded, and when the carriage containing Mr. and Mrs. Bryan arrived a crowd of cheers went up from over 1,000 throats. From that time on until the train pulled out anxious people looked each other without compunction as they pressed around their honored fellow citizen and eagerly grasped his hand and clung to it long enough to breathe a fervent godspeed for him and his mission. Children were carried along by the pressure of the crowd, and their childish voices could be heard above the roar in familiar greeting.

After Mr. and Mrs. Bryan had entered the car there was a request for them to appear upon the rear platform, which they did. As Mr. Bryan appeared the handshaking was renewed, and in response to continued and persistent calls for a speech Mr. Bryan spoke briefly, saying that in ordinary times he would have desired to have the notification take place at his home, but as this was not an ordinary campaign he felt that the cause should arise above any personal desires, and therefore expressed the wish to be notified in New York, in order that the cause might be presented first in the heart of what now seems to be the enemy's country.

As the train drew away from the station a thousand fluttering handkerchiefs waved a parting adieu. Many men, women and children rushed around the platform as the train moved by and persisted in prolonging the ordeal of handshaking. A crowd of boys did not stop when the platform was passed, and the lad who was most reluctant to give up the chase was rewarded with a Bryan button, which was thrown to him by Mr. Bryan, in lieu of the handclasp he was unable to win. At every station between Lincoln and Des Moines, Ia., enthusiastic crowds were gathered, and a mass meeting had been arranged, there were thousands of people from neighboring towns.

BRYAN'S DES MOINES RECEPTION.

A Graceful Tribute to Ex-Governor Boies, Who Introduced Him.

DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 8.—It was 9:30 last night when the Bryan train arrived at Des Moines. A cheering, shouting concourse of people filled the streets for blocks in each direction. The reception committee, comprising Henry H. Reigland, Judge Cole, Judge Reed, E. M. Hubbell, Charles O'Donnell, W. O. Cliff, A. H. Sawyer and Messrs. Meredith and Lewis, met the party at the depot, and a committee of ladies was present to greet Mrs. Bryan.

An open carriage, decorated, and driven by six white horses, was in waiting. There was a call for speech as soon as Mr. Bryan was escorted into the glare of the illuminations around the depot, to which he responded briefly.

Mr. Bryan was ushered into the carriage, while Mrs. Bryan and other members of the party were disposed in other vehicles. The party moved up the crowded street amid a continuous roar of cheers and were escorted to the Tabernacle, a large hall on the east side of the river with a seating capacity of 3,000 or 4,000. The immense auditorium was crowded to its utmost capacity. Mr. Bryan was introduced by Governor Boies, who said of him that while the nominee of three parties, no convention had nominated him, as he enjoyed the distinction of having nominated himself. The applause that followed was a distinct ovation. Mr. Bryan said:

"Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen: I esteem it a great privilege to be permitted even for a brief moment to stand before the citizens assembled in this capital city of one of the great agricultural states of this Union. Iowa has no reason to blush for the position that she occupies among her sister states. It is not necessary for any one to come from abroad to enlighten you upon the issues of this campaign. Your own state is rich in resources, and in this campaign it will be richer than it has been before in a quarter of a century. You have here that statesman whom you delight to honor, and as I look back over the campaigns in which it has been my privilege to take part there are no campaigns that I remember with more pleasure than those two campaigns in which, by invitation of your people, I came to assist in the election of Horace Boies as governor of this state.

"If just closed the lot fell upon me rather than upon him it was not because of superior merit, but because of the circumstances which surrounded that contest. I do not take to myself the credit for what was done. I believe that those delegates were as honest and as earnest a body of men as were ever assembled in convention, and after viewing the situation they decided, whether wisely or foolishly time will tell, that under all the circumstances the nomination should fall on the one who did receive it, and I am on my way to the city of New York to receive the nomination.

"I do not know how well I may be able to bear the standard which is to be placed in my hands, but I know this, that there is not one person in all this land who is more deeply in earnest, in this cause than you whom you have honored. In this regard I have equalled your ex-governor, and he before you as one of your leaders, and by his side will stand that other patriot, General Weaver, who for twenty years has fought, and whether we have agreed with him or not in all things, stands there as a man who has fought, he has made it clear that where he has fought, he has fought with the strength of a giant."

And the cheers that followed his remarks Mr. Bryan hastened from the Tabernacle and was driven to the corner of Sixth street and Grand avenue, where arrangements had been made for an overland meeting. Governor Boies accompanied Mr. Bryan. Around the platform that faced the crowd was a large and so thickly packed upon the platform that they had been created that they were unable to reach it, and Mr. Bryan spoke from his carriage.

DEAD MAN RESPONSIBLE

For the Horrible Railroad Accident Near Atlantic City.

TOWERMAN HAUSER RELEASED.

White Hall of the Jurors Agree That the Night Operator Used Poor Judgment, the Other Three Say That He "May" Have Erred.

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 8.—There was no formal session yesterday of the coroner's jury, which is investigating the "roadside" disaster. The coroner met the jurors at Odd Fellows' hall at 10 o'clock, and went with them to the Santarum to get a deposition from John S. Kelly, conductor of the wrecked West Jersey train. He said that he was in the second car of the excursion train as it approached the crossing. He had been reviewing a brakeman for not having lighted the lamp, and left him to go out on the platform and look for a signal. He saw the white light, signaling right of way, but did not see the crossing train. Then he went back into the car and paid no more attention to the matter. A moment afterward came the crash.

The only other testimony submitted was that offered by the record of the last physical examination of Edward Farr, the Reading engineer, which was made at the instance of the railroad company, in June, 1906. The record showed that Farr was up to the physical standard in every respect.

At 9:30 last evening the jury rendered three separate verdicts, after five hours' deliberation. The first is signed by the entire six, and is as follows: "We, the jury, composed of six persons, do hereby find that the said persons whose bodies we have viewed came to their death by a collision of express train No. 23 on the Atlantic City railroad and excursion train No. 709 on the West Jersey and Seashore railroad, at a point known as the roadway tower, near Atlantic City, on the 26th day of July, 1906, at about 6:48." Signed by Charles Evans, Lewis C. Albertson, J. B. Champion, Levi C. Albertson and Charles E. Adams.

The second verdict reads: "We, the undersigned jurors, also find that the undersigned juror, Edward Farr, of the Atlantic City railroad, failed to have his engine under proper control, on approaching the crossing, and that Towerman George E. Hauser, in giving the excursion train of the West Jersey the right of way over a fast express, used bad judgment. We are also of the opinion that Engineer John Greiner, of said excursion train, erred in not exercising greater care in crossing ahead of said fast express." Signed by Edward Charles Evans, Thomas J. Dickerson and Charles E. Adams.

The third verdict reads: "The undersigned jurors are of the opinion that the cause of the collision was the failure of Edward Farr, engineer of train 23, to give good time to the semaphore signals set against him, and thus failed to have his train under proper control on approaching the signal and crossing under the rules. The undersigned jurors further declare that the towerman, George E. Hauser, may have used poor judgment in his estimate of the distance away of the Atlantic City railroad train when he gave the white boards to the West Jersey excursion train." Signed by Lewis Evans, Levi C. Albertson and J. B. Champion.

Hauser, not being held criminally responsible, was discharged by the coroner. Under the New Jersey law the jurors will receive a total of $1 each for their services. They have donated the $5 to the free fund of the city hospital.

The inquest in itself has developed some interesting facts, which have been summarized in a function over which Coroner McLaughlin should have been the ruling power; that youthful looking official really played the smallest part. The jury ran things in their own way, and displayed no mean legal skill in so doing. But there was a thickly veiled conflict even in that body. Charles Evans, the foreman, and Levi Albertson, the fifth juror, have apparently been at cross purposes throughout.

Evans has been called the Ben Brumal of Atlantic City. Proprietor of a fashionable hotel, city commissioner and bank president, his attire is invariably faultless in form. Albertson is a good type of the rugged, unassuming, vigorous, unaided and body and come in, words and meaning. He proved to be the dominant force in the inquest. These two conducted the examination of witnesses almost entirely. Evans usually began the questioning, and the tenor of his remarks gave the impression that he regarded either Towerman Hauser or the Reading engineer, or both, at fault, but Albertson would instantly take up the onus, and no matter what the trend of the foreman's remarks he would adopt a different line of questioning.

All sides were represented by counsel, but they took little part in the examination of witnesses. Charles E. Perry, prosecutor of Atlantic City, testified for Coroner McLaughlin, and usually began the task, but he rarely got further than one or two questions before the jury took it out of his hands.

A Whole Family Poisoned.

BRIDGEPORT, N. J., Aug. 8.—The family of Jeremiah Frazer are all down with poisoning. Mrs. Frazer and son William were seized Wednesday night. Mr. Frazer, Maggie, Harry and the hired girl, Hattie Beckler, were all violently seized Thursday afternoon. There is every symptom of poisoning. They are all seized with pain in the head and stomach. Whether it is something they have eaten or drunk cannot be learned, as they are all too sick to say anything. It is likely that some of them will die.

Political Monster in Maryland.

CITIZEN MARIETTA, Md., Aug. 8.—Dr. William Waring, a leading physician, was killed here by Martin Plummer during a political quarrel. Dr. Waring was drinking in Plummer's saloon when the trouble started, and, becoming enraged, threw a beer glass at Plummer's head. Plummer stabbed the doctor with a penknife, cutting a gash in his neck and severing the carotid artery. Dr. Waring bled to death within an hour.

The St. Louis Again Arrived.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The American line steamer St. Louis, which arrived yesterday afternoon, broke the Southampton-New York record, making the passage in six days, two hours and twenty-four minutes, thus doubling the brilliant record made by her sister ship, the St. Paul, last June, which sailed in six hours and thirty-two minutes.
