Real Tragedy on the Stage.

London, Aug. 12.—A fatal accident oc-curred at the Novelty theater, where the play "The Sins of a Night" is being pro-duced. Mr. Crozier was playing the part of the villain, and the plot provided that he should be stabbod in the last act. The play ran along as usual until the stabbing scene, when, in some manner yet unex-plained, instead of a harmless blow being delivered, the dagger penetrated Crozler' broast inflicting a wound which caused his death in a few minutes. The specta-tors were not aware of the terrible mis-take that had been made, and Crozier's realistic fall was greeted with applause.
