Abridgment of the Rights of Liberty Severely Condemned.

SUPT. BOGART RETURNS TO-NIGHT

A Committee of Over One Hundred Citizens Will Personally Convey Their Con-

parties who caused and made his arrest is as pronounced, if not more so, than it was at the time the outrage was committed. Sympathizers are increasing daily and voluntary ders of aid are being made from many

An idea of the interest the matter has aroused may be gleaned from the following declaration submitted to the HERALD to-day:

declaration submitted to the Hera LD to-day;
Shenandoah, Sept. 9, 1886.

We, the undersigned citizens of the borough of Shenandoah, Pa., firmly believing in the wisdom and justice of the doctrines promulgated by the constitutions of the United States and Commonwealth of Pennsylvania whereby the abridgment of the privileges and immunities of the citizens of the United States is unqualifiedly prohibited and wherein it is expressly declared that no citizen shall be deprived of his life, liberty or property without due process of law and shall not be denied equal protection of the laws, hereby express our unequivecal condemation of the manner in which the arrest of Prof. C. D. Begart, superintendent of the public schools, was effected on Monday. September 7th, 1896, in this borough, and the unjust and tyranical methods that were resorted to in removing him from the said borough to Pittsburg.

And in fourther condemnation of the actions referred to and to reserve our faith in and

And in further condemnation of the actions And in further condermation of the actions referred to, and to re-avow our faith in and support to the constitutions of the United States and Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and in condemnation of any policy based upon a theory that a citizen can be rightfully adjudged guilty before he has secured the constitutional privilege of a trial by an impartial jury, we have resolved to tender to the said C. D. Bogart a reception upon his return to Shemandoah to-day.

Charles New, In pursuance of the above it has been de-cided that the committee will meet Superintendent Bogart upon his arrival at the milway station from Pittsburg this evening and escort him to his home, where a reception will be held. Many were inclined to hire a band and parade from the station through the principal streets, but the majority decided that a dignified reception without display would be more appropriate. There are no brass band characteristics about the move-ment. The reception will enable many of the volunteers to personally assure Superin-tendent Bogart of their willingness to aid him for a fair field and justice.

To-day's Philadelphia newspapers published dispatches from Pittsburg to the effect hat Superintendent Bogart had been ndicted by the Grand Jury at the latter His opponents are making all the that they can out of this and have already succeeded in conveying the im-pression upon the minds of people of limited knowledge that the Superintendent has been tried and convicted by a jury and is there for condemned. It is only another sample of the dastardly persecution that is on foot. The fact is that the finding by the Grand Jury is merely the result of an ex-parte hearing. Superintendent Bogart did not aphearing. Superintendent Rogart did not appear before the Grand Jury, nor did any of his witnesses. Only the Commonwealth appears before such a jury. This fact is studiously concealed when making known the action of the Grand Jury.

the action of the Grand Jury.

One of the most prominent and influential men of the town last night effectively set forth the position of the people who are condemning the outrage when he said, "I don't want it understood that in offering Prof. Begart sympathy and assistance I condone any offence he may have committed. On the contrary, if he is guilty of the charge made against him I shall be pleased to see him convicted, but the actions pleased to see him convicted, but the actions of these people who have bounded him have aroused my sense of justice to such a pitch that if it costs me, personally, $500 I will spend it in order to help secure a fair and largerful trial for the man. For marrow minded, projudiced and bigeted warfare have never heard of a case equal with this one and no citizen with the slightest sense of justice and bunnanity can allow these people o mish pell mell as they have and not of this man Bogart assistance any more that they would be justified in standing aside an allowing a man to be lynched on our streets

CANTON, O., Sept. 9.—The Ohio Editorial association yesterday afternoon lis-tened to the masterly address of Hon. Charles Emory Smith, of the Philadelphia Press, and then marched in a body to the McKinley home. The editors were joined by a number of Cantonians, and the party which observed Major McKinley when he appeared on the porch numbered several

cyrus Journal, was spokesman for the editors. He said in part: "While the nation was increasing in wealth at the rate of a million dollars a day public confidence was natural, but who can have faith in a system that has resulted in the increase of the public debt by half a million dollars every day, with no prospect of improvement. However urgent the necessity of public confidence certainty of the future is absolutely es-sential to its return. The success of free silver would make the future more un-certain the ever, and the return of public confidence in the presence of such uncertainty will be more hopeless than ever. But the success of honest money and the chance to earn it would immediately give to the nation a certain future.

"Among the amazing triumphs of modern science is the wonderful fact that. at a given signal, a child a thousand miles distant can set into instant motion a series of ponderous machinery by the pressure of a button. The people now await the night of the 3d of November, when the wires will give the signal that will send a thrill through the nation. awakening public confidence and setting in motion the millions now idle and the millions of capital now dormant

In responding Major McKinley spoke in substance as follows:

"It gives me great pleasure, gentlemen, to welcome you, one and all, to my home. You have done Canton a great homor by your visit, and for one I highly appreciate it, as I know all our citizens do General Sherman and some of our other old officers used to have a way during the war of sending certain newspaper men out of camp occasionally, and perhaps often wished to send them 'across the lines,' We have no sectional or partition lines now. They have been happily obliterated, and no part of this great republic can now be justly called the enemies country.

"I feel that I know something of the Republican editors of Ohio. This year they are more earnest, more aggressive more thorough and more efficient that they have ever been before. They approve are the overmastering importance of the issues involved in the present contest, and are leading, gloriously leading, in the edu-cational work which is independible to a proper understanding of the questions which divide us

"It is not often given to a political party, as it is this year given to ours, to stand between national honor and dishonor, public faith and repudiation, and order and disquietude. It is the good for-tune of the Republican party to stand in this contest for what is best in govern ment, for what is patriotic in citizenship for what tends to the support of the finan rite of the government, its credi

"Fortunately, in this contest, the Republican party is not alone in its supe of the Republican cause. Conservat men of all parties stand with it. It num-bers among its strongest allies many of bers among its strongest allies many of the most powerful Democratic newspapers, cast and west, which are doing yeoman services for patriotism and national honor. They are welcome, thrice welcome, and the country owes them a debt of gratitude for their unflinehing loyalty as against party, for sound money and public morals. "Party prejudice cuts little figure in a crisis like this. We must not indelige in aspersion or crimination against those who may have differed from us in the past, but who are now with usin patriotic past, but who are now with usin patriotic effort to preserve the good faith of the effort to preserve the good mith of the country and enforce middle and private homesty. We must not drive anybody out of camp, but welcome everybody in. This is a year for press and pen. The sword has been sheathed. The only force now needed is the force of ceason, and the only power to be invoked is that of intelligene and patriotism. LANCASTER, Pa., Sept. 9.—Harry Bringhurst, a conductor on the Pennsylvania traction lines, was accidentally shot and instantly killed at his home in this city last evening. He and John Reider, a young student of Franklin and Marshall college, were preparing to go on a gun-ning and fishing trip this morning and were examining several guns and pistols Reider picked up a revolver supposed to be empty and pulled the trigger. A bullet passed through Bringhurst's heart and he dropped dead upon the floor without speaking a word.
