A MILD POLITICAL SENSATION. Caused by the Attitude of Candidate John Boyd Thatcher. DECLARES FOR A GOLD STANDARD. But Will Cast His Vote for Bryan and Sewall.

ALBANY, Sept. 21.—By making an official statement late last night of his position upon the financial question, and by declaring in that statement that he is unalterably for gold, John Boyd Thatcher, Democratic nominee for governor, creates one of the most curious situations ever known in politics in this state. The statement was issued after a long conference with Senator Hill, Elliot G. Danforth, who was at Senator Hill's house, and D. Cady Herrick, the Democratic leader in this county. It was addressed to the chairman of the state committee. It is believed that this course is approved by Senator Hill, William F. Sheehan and others not in attendance at the state convention, and is intended to try and fend off any nomination of a second Democratic ticket at Brooklyn and enforce a fight at the polls upon state issues leaving the national ticket entirely out of the question. Mr. Thatcher declares that he is against free silver, but will vote for Bryan and Sewall for regularity, and fight the campaign on state issues only. The letter says in part: "I cannot ask for the confidence and support of the people of the state without frankly declaring my position upon the financial issue now agitating the public. I stand today where I stood in the month of June in the presence of a convention of the state Democracy. I have not changed an iota in my belief, nor deviated a step in my course. The commercial honor of this country is pledged to the world, and the world knows that the nation will maintain its honor. "I took part in the state convention which sent delegates to represent the party in national convention at Chicago. Those delegates, by participation, acquiesced in the action of the national convention by presenting candidates for the offices of president and vice president of the United States. The state convention of the Democratic party has ratified the nomination of these candidates. "I have learned from the fathers and in turn have endeavored to teach that the Democratic party is a vehicle to carry the will of the people into effect. Such a vehicle is constructed with difficulty, but is easily destroyed. Failure now and then to perform absolutely satisfactory service will not justify the utter destruction of the vehicle. It was constructed to bear not only one burden, but many and various burdens. When the financial burden is finally disposed of, the people will still employ the Democratic party to support their purposes and to carry them into effect. When they do this employ that party for one do not want it to be shattered, but to be strong and efficient. Therefore, I shall cast my vote for William Jennings Bryan and Arthur Sewall, the candidates in due and regular form chosen by a majority of that convention. "I regret that I cannot be in full accord on the question of finance with the usual attitude of a candidate towards his party it should be remembered that the conditions are also unusual. In nominating me I must assume that the convention was not unaware of my financial views, as expressed in my public utterances, and that it was induced to accord me that distinguished honor in view of the fact that under the constitution a governor of this state has no official connection whatever with matters pertaining to the national currency. "It was apparent at Chicago and Buffalo, and is expressed by every gathering of citizens where public questions are discussed, that the people are dissatisfied with the present condition of public affairs, and I am in sympathy with every movement, not revolutionary in character, which seeks to take burdens off the shoulder of the masses and to restore prosperity and peace to all the people. "When the Republican legislature adjourned in May, 1896, it left a record behind it which every Democrat and independent voter in the state believed would be at issue before the people this fall. No question purely national should be permitted to divert our people in this state from pronouncing, by a change of administration, a verdict against this record. "Mr. Thatcher then proceeds at length in an arraignment of the Republican state administration, and concludes: "It is not important that I or any other particular individual should be elected governor. It is important that the power of one man should not be perpetuated by two years more of Republican executive control. "Killed in a Battle with Police. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—While a squad of Second district police was making a raid on an alleged Italian "speaking party" on Baker street yesterday the inmates refused admittance and, taking refuge on the roof, fired pistol shots and bricks at the officers. The police returned the fire. Michael Piazza, aged 27, one of the inmates, was instantly killed by a pistol shot, and two policemen and four citizens assisting them were injured by bricks. The alleged proprietor and six inmates were arrested and held in heavy bail. The fight lasted over half an hour, during which over twenty-five shots were exchanged. "At Kephinski's Arcade Cafe. MINERS BECOME DESPERATE. The Strikers at Leadville Resort to Dynamite and Fire. A Shaft House and Four Dwellings Set on Fire and Destroyed—Three Men Killed and Several Injured—State Militia Has Been Called Out.

SPECIAL TO EVENING HERALD. LEADVILLE, Col., Sept. 21, 1 p. m.—The locked out miners became desperate this morning and attacked the Colorado mine with guns and dynamite, arousing the city and throwing the inhabitants into a panic, which still prevails. During the explosion three men were killed and several injured, but whether they were of the attacking party has not been clearly ascertained. With the dynamite and torch the Colorado shaft house and four dwellings in the immediate vicinity, occupied by mine officials, were totally destroyed. Nothing is left of them but a mass of ruins and it is feared the fire has ignited the inside timber of the mine. The entire militia force of the state has been called out to quell the riot and is now hurrying to the scene. The greatest excitement prevails. Sudden Death. POLICE RECORD TALES! Pay Day Causes Quite a Number of Arrests. THE TABLES TURNED ON RAGUS. He Caused the Arrest of Two Men, Charging Them With Highway Robbery. But They Showed Him Up in Poor Light Before the Justice.

Saturday brought with it a number of the "scraps" and other disturbances usual on pay days and, as one of the consequences, Justice J. J. Carlin had a crowded docket. In none of the cases, however, were there any incidents of a thrilling character, such as shooting, or stabbing, which marked a number of the encounters of the last pay day. The most conspicuous was that for which Frank Ragus stands committed pending payment of the costs. From the facts brought out at the hearing Ragus is a menace to society and his proper place is behind the bars. Late Saturday night he appeared before Justice Carlin and alleged that Mike Batzinski and George Shashinski had waylaid him on Glover's Hill and robbed him of $105 in cash. The accused men were arrested, but they proved Ragus a perjurer. They produced a bill which they took from Ragus. The evidence was that Ragus was lying in wait for passers-by on Glover's Hill late Saturday night. He approached Batzinski and Shashinski, but they caught sight of the bill and quickly turned the tables on Ragus. After getting the man down they took the weapon from him and then gave him a few parting reminders with their fists. They also showed that Ragus had no money on his person at the time of the assault. An Englishman who lives near the scene was a witness for the two accused men. Justice Carlin became convinced that Ragus had lied and ordered him to pay the costs. In default he was committed to the lockup, and is still there. The justice says that many of the Polish and Lithuanian people have learned that if a bill in a case of larceny is ignored or not pressed the costs are always saddled upon the county, and cannot be put on the prosecutor, and they strain a point to base a charge of larceny, or highway robbery whenever they want revenge. The justice decided to make an example of Ragus. At a late hour Saturday night a man presenting a perfect type of adversity, or recklessness, was found by the police trying to gain entrance to the basement of a house on Mayberry alley. He could give no explanation to the police, save that he was drunk and didn't know what he was doing. He remained in the lockup until to-day and was discharged upon paying the borough fine for disorderly conduct. He said his name was Dougherty and that he lived near Mt. Carbon. He promised to leave and keep away from this town. Eight drunks were given shelter in the lockup Saturday night and three more jailed there last night. All paid fines to escape enforced lodgings for 48 hours. Joseph Getritus got drunk Saturday night and because he could not get more drink at the saloon of John Ruskofski, on North White street, he smashed four windows of the place with a club. He was gathered in by the police and is now in the lockup, waiting for his friends to get together sufficient money to liquidate the damages and costs. Lutheran Conference. The Pottsville conference of the Lutheran Synod of Pennsylvania and adjacent states will open this evening at Heplers, in the western end of this county, and continue until Wednesday evening. Rev. John Grubler, pastor of the Evangelical German Lutheran church of town, intended to be present, but he has decided not to go on account of the death of Mrs. Ann Barbara Tempkin, one of his oldest and most faithful parishioners. One thousand crates of peaches, to arrive this evening, will be sold regardless of cost, at Womer's, 124 North Main street. 9-21-14 Thrown From a Carriage. While a team from the valley was ascending the steep hill at the north end of Main street last evening the shaft on the carriage broke. The horse became balky and backed into a ditch, throwing a lady out of the carriage and causing her to receive several cuts on the face. She was brought to town and her wounds were dressed at a drug store. Remember it costs but 10 cents to get a plate of cream and enjoy a concert Thursday evening. Grant Band festival and concert. Created a Nuisance. Last evening, at about 9 o'clock, Chief Burgess Burns was called to Poplar and West streets, where two Polish families had become involved in a scuffle about one of the boarders. It seems that a boarder had been ejected from his boarding house by the family residing next door. Several of the men and one woman were arrested. Upon paying the fine they were released. Wanted. At the Factory Shop Store, a number of boys and girls to give out tickets for beautiful decorated parlor lamps. Dedication at Girardville. The Lutheran church at Girardville, of Alleentown, father of the pastor of the church, preached a sermon in the German language in the morning. In the afternoon Rev. Buch, of Mahanoy City, and Rev. Clymer, of Frackville, officiated at the Sunday school exercises and in the evening Rev. Gebhart, of the Tamaqua English Lutheran church, conducted service, assisted by the pastor, Rev. Leopold. Test Ride at Lavelle. S. K. Stutzman, of Reading, who rides a Faust Racer and was to have tried for a track record at Lakeside last Saturday, but was prevented by the storm, will make the trial at the Lavelle fair grounds on Sept. 22nd. 9-17-14 Married. Isaiah Woomer and Miss Caroline Becher were married by Rev. Robert O'Boyle on Saturday evening, at the residence of Mr. James Haines, 213 South Chestnut street.

Waldron, the great Canadian horse shipper, arrived at Pottsville Saturday with a stock of fine horses of all descriptions. They were taken to the stock yards stables, where they will be sold next Thursday, at public auction. Every one in this part of the state knows how Waldron conducts a sale. He sells them. When a horse enters the ring he must find a new owner before he leaves it. Waldron does not waste any time in selling them. If a horse is worth $200 and only $25 is bid on it, it will have to go, just the same. That is what Waldron calls an auction, and anything else is a mock auction; and he does not hold mock auctions for this lot of horses. You can't help but get suited, for there are all kinds to select from. There are some fine looking drag teams; also some fine dapple gray teams, as fine as ever shipped to this part. In fact there are horses to suit every one. It will pay the people in this part to attend this big sale, as it is only a short way there, and if you are in need of a horse you are sure to return with one.
