JOHN BARDSLEY LIBERATED

Philadelphia's Thieving Ex-Treasurer Pardoned.

STOLE OVER A HALF MILLION!

After Berving Five Years of a Fifteen Year Sentence the Dishonest Official Once Again Breathes the Air of Freedom. In a State of Physical Collapse

HARRISTON, Sept. 23.—Governor Hastings last night signed a pardon for John lings last night signed a pardon for John Bardsley, former city treasurer of Philadeiphia, who, on July 2, 1891, was sentenced to fifteen years in the Eastern peutontiary for misappropriating over $600,000 of city and state moneys, while occupying his official position. The governor gives no reason for his action, although it is though his decision was bacterial by the first Bardsley was hastened by the fact that Bardsley was stricken with paralysis of the left side on Thursday last. The pardon was malled last night by Chief Clerk Gearhart, of the state department, to Warden Cassidy, of the Eastern penitentiary, and Bardsley was set free today. The financial panic of the summer of 1891, which wrought Bardsley's downfall, was one of the worst this city has ever suffered. It began with the sudden col-lapse of the Keystone bank and the flight lapse of the Keystone bank and the flight of its president, Gidoon W. Marsh, who is still a fugitive from justice. The Spring Garden bank was the next to close its doors, and the Kennedy brothers, its president and cashler, were sent to prison for ten years. Cashler Lawrence, of the Keystone, was given seven years, and was pardoned about two months ago by President Glassland.

dent Cleveland.

In these two banks Bardsley had deposited hundreds of thousands of state and city funds under an arrangement by which, it was charged, he and the officers named reaped personal profit. Unfortunate stock speculations primarily caused Bardsley's with although it has been re-Bardsley's ruin, although it has been re-peatedly urged that he was little more than a senpegont for worse sinners. He resigned from his office on May 21, 1891, and the financial crash followed. The

Bradford Mills company, a big concern of which he was an officer, went to the wall, and two banks went with it, and so did a large number of smaller institutions. Bardsley was promptly arrested, with the others of those involved who could be caught, and on July 2 the sentence was

An examination by a committee selecter from both branches of councils finally succeeded in straightening out, so far a was possible, the tangled skein resulting from the peculations.

The agitation for Bardsley's pardon has been going on for a considerable time, at the instigation of prominent citizens who believed that Bardsley was more sinned against than sinning. The principal plen presented in favor of the pardon was that of the prisoner's falling health, and there was abundant medical testimony brought before the board of pardons to prove that he is practically in a state of collapse, and. if continued in confinement, could live but a brief time. The board recommended the granting of the pardon about two
