A large number of friends were in attendance. Immediately after the close of the ceremony the bridal party marghed out to the fawn and beneath one of the large tents which are used at the famous Simpson Grove enuip meetings partook of sumptuous dinner. Mr. Moyer, the bride sumptowes dimer. Mr. Moyer, the bride-gracin, is a young business man with very bright prespects. His revenuitle career commenced with a clerkship in a large greery house at Doylestown and was fol-lowed by a service of six years in a similar vapacity in another leading husiness house of rapacity in another leading manness home of the same city. For the past three years he has been in the employ of Dann & Haker, wholesatelehor dealers of Trenton, N. J., and last January was assigned to open and man-age in this town the firm's branch house known as The Factory Shoe Store. Mr. Moyer has not only been very successful in business here, but has also become very praminent and popular socially. Wilking Hobensack, private secretary to Congress man Wanger, of Doylestown, also became Benedict at Southampton this afternoon and with his bride is making a joint wedding tour with Mr. and Mrs. Moyer. They will go to Washington and several points South After returning to Doylestown Mr. and Mrs.

Benjamin G. Hoss and Mrs. Flower Rees oth of town, were joined in wedlock at 4:30 clock this afternoon at the residence of the ride, on West Lloyd street, and in the presence of a number of relatives and friends. The arrangements for the event were of an elaborate character. The bride was attended by Mrs. William G. Hess and Mr. Frank C. Reess was the groomsman. Rev. Alfred Heelmer, paster of the Methodist Episcopal charch, officiated at the ceremony, assisted Roy. Robert O'Hoyle, paster of the city Reformed church, and son-in-law of the bride. This evening Mr. and Mrs. Hess will leave for Williamsport, where the bridegroom will attend the reunion of the 96th Regt., Ph. GOLD DEMOCRATS BEGIN

epted as a true exposition of the party

The free columns of allver, as interpreted by Mr. Bryan, means the anyance in the commercial value of silver bullion and colo, and, indeed, all the commercial aliver, to an equality in commercial value to gold. The promise is that the Ameri-can silver dollar, which it may be said is worth fifty-three cents as compared with the dollar of gold, shall by the adoption of this measure by the United States be advanced to an equality with the dollar of the silver coinage of the civilized world

"Mr. Bryan recognizes that commercial law which makes a local value for a sliver dollar to be a myth. He says that the silver of the world would necessarily find a common value. He concedes that American silver would after free coinage be supplemented by the builton and coin of other countries until the silver of the world would find a common value. Mr. Bryan's belief, therefore, that the adoption of free coinage of silver by the United States alone would advance silver to an equality in value with gold must be assumed to be the official interpretation 2.181. of the Chicago piatform, and unless that belief has some foundation in the experience of mankind it must necessarily be

It may be admitted and confessed that Mr. Bryan and his supporters abound in sourage; that the assumption of this vast undertaking is characterized by a degree of boldness unparalleled in the political Moyer will make the journey to this town by carriage. It is assumed, and it may be conveniently conceded, that the silver bultion of silver using nations has today one half the value of gold. The undertaking is in a measure for free coinage of silver with double the value of silver through-out the world, and render the dollar of 41234 grains of standard sliver equal in acceptability and value to the gold coin of 25 8-10 grains of standard gold. "Mr. Bryan and the more intelligent of his supporters reject the shallow definition of bimetallism, which demands no more than the admission of both gold and silver to the mints at a ratio of 16 to 1, but he asserts that the free coinage of silver at that ratio to gold will produce real himetal-lism, a double and equal standard of value, the coins of both gold and silver with equal power in the market and in the

Let us consider the import of this startling proposition for one moment. It assumes that free coinage of silver by the United States alone would at once advance the value of the commercial silver of the world to that of gold. It would in the same manner affect the value of all the silver coinage of all civilized nations. It seems astonishing that in the light of all human experience such a proposition should not only be entertained by some men, but that upon its acceptance belief a great party should demand public

"The commercial law which controls this subject is familiar to the country. Under its operation slight differences in the comparative value of silver and gold led to the exportation of the American coined dollar to such an extent that few or none of them were in domestic circulation. If the unlimited coinage of silver dollars by the United States should cause even a small advance in silver, either in the form of bullion or coin, importations would follow until prices were equalized and imports of silver would become with-

"In my judgment results as I have de-scribed are impossible of acomplishment by the measure proposed. I admit that silver bullion may be advanced in com-mercial value by its increased usefulness, There are no better Patterns. bis studies in medicine at Philadelphia but no advance to a parity with gold is again. measure will be the depreciation of the value of the coinage, the ruin of public and private credit, the disturbance of business and the disturbance of values, and the overthrow of all American in-

When Governor Flower introduced Mr. Buckner the scene was almost dramatic. Cheer upon cheer rent the air, the speaker being for several minutes unable to begin. General Buckner said:

"We remember well a time when a party built upon sectional hatred sought to crush us in the south to the earth. We had met on principles. My distinguished leader here and I had met in opposing armies. We had fought out the issue, we shook hands and were friends. A Demo-erat once said on his deathbed there were many persons in this broad land who did not go mad until the war was over, and they continued to agitate both sections in order to incite mutual hatred in this country. It was then that this sectional party seeking rather to perpetuate its power at all hazards than to maintain the good of the country, used the military force of this country to oust from legislative halls the legislative bodies chosen by the people.

"Against that act of usurpation, against that act of the Republican party, this great city, followed by Boston and Philadelphia, protested in the loudest terms, and here in a neighboring hall, without distinction of parties, Republicans and Democrats alike met and protested against the met of the reverse the use of the power of the government to oppress the liberties of the people. That voice was heard, and from that day until a recent period the voice of sectionalism has been stifled in this land.

"And the Democratic party is built upon this spirit of nationality. No sooner had the Democratic party attained power in this country under the head of Grover Cieveland than the full recognition of the rights of every citizen of this country to take part as a patriot in the government of his country was recognized. Up to that period a large section had been practically excluded from that connection with gov-ernmental affairs, but no sooner had the Democratic party attained power than, following the principles which had always actuated it, we find seated side by side in the supreme court of the United States men from the south, from the north, from the cast and from the west. We find in the cabinet of the president an equal number of men from the south and from the north."

north."
General Buckner proceeded at length to argue that the party headed by Mr. Bryan was founded upon sectionalism, and was therefore dangerous to the safety of the nation.
