VOTE FOR

OF SHENANDOAR.

BRYAN IN TENNESSEE.

The Democratic Candidate Speaks in Memphis and Nashville,

WITH BRIEF SPEECHES EN ROUTE.

At Memphis He Announces That He Would Willingly Betire from the Ticket Were It for the Best Interest of the Cause of Free Silver.

NASHVILLE, Oct. 6 .- The greatest crowd that ever turned out to a political meeting in the history of Nashville crowded about the streets here last night, shouled and yellod, cheered and applauded, and lis-tened with marked attention to William J. Bryan on his arrival. The train bear ing the party was due at 8:55, but was ten minutes late, and it was nearly 9:15 o'clock when Mr. Bryan addressed his first o'clock when Mr. Bryan addressed his first audience in this city at the Haymarket. At that meeting the five acres of ground in the inclosure was fully half filled with people, who cheered the candidate wildly on his appearance. A give club of thirty male volces opened the meeting with "Home, Sweet Home," the old fashloned melody which the nomines has declared to be his campaign song. The candidate was then introduced by Senator Bate as the next president of the United States. He was cheered and applauded throughout his speech and many times was stopped by the enthusiasm of his listeners. After his Haymarket speech he addressed a monster moeting at Athletic Park, and subse-quently spoke to a meeting of Populists. He left at midnight for Louisville. He will speak tonight at Indianapolis. Mr. Bryan reached Memphi® early yes-Mr. Bryan reached Memphis early yes-terday morning, and his reception at Nashville was but a repetition of that which he received in Tonnessee's metropo-lis. At 10 o'clock in the forenoon he was taken to the baseball park, where he ad-dressed an andience of 10,000 people. In the course of his Memphis speech he said : "While I appreciate the honor which has been conferred upon me not only by the been conferred upon me, not only by the nomination by my own, but by the additional nomination of two other parties, I want to say to you here, my friends, that my interest in the cause of bimetallism is so deep that I would without a moment' hesitation resign my nominations in favor of any person in this country who can botter carry this cause to victory. It is not a time to listen to personal ambitions. "T want to impress upon your minds another thing. It is not only necessary that we shall elect a president and vice president in favor of free coinage, but it is necessary that there shall be a congress in favor of free coinage. If there is one majority in either house against free coinage the president is powerless to restore bimetallism to the people. If you are in carnest in your desire for bimetallism you must show that earnestness by clocking congressmen, senators and president. "I am not here to interfere in your state campaign or local polities, but I am here to so deepen the convictions of those who believe in free coinage that there will not be a man in this state who agrees with us who will not be willing to sacrifice any-thing that is necessary to secure the ad-vancement of this cause. I am here to in-crease the onthusiasm, if I can, until the men who stand in the way of complete success will be branded as an enemy. How you may find it best to unify your forces you are to judge, but I want you to remember that you cannot help our cause by helping those who are fighting us. "Our opponents say that the tariff question is the important issue in this cam-paign. I tell them that until they put a prohibitive tariff on foreign financiers I won't talk tariff with them. So long as we must go to others to ask them what we can have there is no use to discuss any question until we decide that we have a right to express our own opinion, when right to express our own opinion, when we have one. When we establish the right of having a policy, when we decide on it, it will then be time to discuss the other questions upon which parties and people differ.

"If gold is to be our standard and a gold dollar is to be the unit, and we are to be content with its upward flights, then, my friends, I believe we ought to change the die, that the dollar will properly describe itself as it passes from hand to hand. If we must have it because foreign nations insist, then I think we should change it, and in the place of that face above which written 'Liberty' let us have a picture of a woman in chains and above it written 'Bondage.' And instead of having on the other side the engle, the emblem of national freedom, let us put a vulture that lives upon the devouring of human They call the gold dollar an honest dollar. They know it is not an honest dollar, and those who love that dollar most love It because it is the most dishonest dollar the world has ever seen, and the more disthe world has ever seen, and the more dis-honest it becomes the greater their affec-tion for it. An honest dollar would be a dollar of which the purchasing power would be stable: a dollar which rises in purchasing power is as dishonest as one which falls in purchasing power. The gold dollar is had, not because the quality of the metal is not good, because quantity is as essential in money as quality. You may show may a particular kind of food may show me a particular kind of food which is excellent in quality, but if there is not enough of it to sustain life I will never call it good food. "I have described the gold dollar as the No. 2 "Worros. balloon dollar. It keeps rising all the time, and those who were in the basket when it started up stay with it, but it is out of the reach of the great masses of mankind. We are tired of the balloon dollar. We don't want a dollar to look at as it passes from us. We want a dollar to handle as it passes among us. I want bi-metallism because it requires all the gold and all the sliver to furnish a safe basis and all the silver to furnish a safe basisfor the immense commercial affairs of theinneteenth century. It requires them both.You talk to me about a flood of moneywhen we have free coinage. Sadness and Selfishness are Conditions and Not Characteristics.

How Science Sends Sunshine Into the Dark Spots of the World -- Dyspepsia and Narve Derangements Pave Lost Their Terrors.

The chronic dyspeptic or sufferer from weak nerves and debility is not a sitable companion. He cannot well so, seeing that he is habitually encom passed by a cloud of gloom. His lot is in unhappy one, for dyspepsia and weak nerves are joy-killing afflictions. They transform the naturally cheerful and kindly individual into the sour and erabbed cynic, and change the bright and vivacious apostle of light and sunshine into the dark foreboder and gloomy misanthrope. It is slow death, a killing process long drawn out. is a breeder of selfishness, a cause of discord, a rock on which many a gallant matrimonial bark has been wrecked, and an everlasting woe to the victim with dreams whose visions outvie in fearfulness the pictures of Dante's Inferno are the experiences of the dyspeptic and nerve weakened. Joy is extinguished and hope is almost dead. It is truly a pitiable condition, a deplorable condition, but let us be thankful it is by no means a hopeless one.

Dr. Greene, whose name stands bloch in the medical world, is the discoverer of the most potent blood and nerve remedy the world has ever known. Dr. Greene's Nervura, which has been a blessing to thousands, and which is every day working miracles among the suffering.

FRANCE AND RUSSIA

Cementing Their Friendship in the Czar's Reception.

DEPARTURE FROM CHERBOURG.

At the Banquet Before Leaving for Paris. Both the Czar and President Faure Delivered Speeches Breathing the Fervent Friendship of the Nations.

CHERBOURG, Oct. 6 - The visit of the exar of Russia to France has been made the occasion of an exhibition of the wild-est enthusiasm on the part of the masses while the officials have succeeded in mak-ing it most impressive. The principal events thus far were the review of the French fleet yesterday afternoon and the banquet in the evening. The exarina at-tended the fleet review, but was not presentat the evening banquet, pleading fatigue

At 5:30 last evening President Faure and the other French officials went to the quay to escort the ezar to the hanquet. The president alone went on board the Pole Star. The czar immediately made his appearance, and all proceeded to the banquet dys-hall. There were seventy-three guests rem-seated at three tables in the arsenal. The this seased as correct actions in the argentic trans-control table and a magnificent display of golden ornaments and flowers. The czar and President Faure occupied the central places at this table, M. Loubet, represent-ing the senate and M. Brisson, president of the chamber of deputies, being seated on either side of them. President Faure arose, the others present joining him in standing while he pro-posed the toast to the czar. The president said "It is with great joy that, accompanied by the presidents of the chambers, I have by the presidents of the champers, 1 have reactived tashy your majesty and the cur-press. The president of the republic is certain that he responds to the sentiment of the mation in constituting himself the interpreter of its unanimous wishes for sertain that he responds to the continent of the nation in constituting himself the nterpreter of its unanimous wishes for anjesty's reign and the welfare of Rus-is. Tomorrow, in Paris your unijesty fill feel the heart of the French people autign, and the welfare of the uperor and empress of Russia will prove to them the sincerity of our friendship. "Your majesty has chosen to arrive in ranke essential by one of our squadrons." your imperial family, the glory of your majesty's reign and the welfare of Russile. Tomorrow, in Paris, your unjesty will fast the heart of the French people beating, and the welcome given to the emperor and empress of Russia will prove to them the shearity of our friendship.

France escorted by one of our squadron The French mayy is grateful for this. remembers with pride the numerous marks of sympathy which your august father displayed towards it, and that the task was entrusted to it of taking part in the demonstrations at Cronstadt and at Toulon.

As the company drank the president's toast the naval band played the Russian anthem The east in responding to the toast said

"On touching the soil of a nation which is Russia's Friend I share the feelings which you have just expressed. Monsieur Le President. I raise my glass in honor of the French nation, the French fleet and her sailors. I thank the president of the republic for the wishes and the welcome he has just expressed. The ezar then clinked glasses with President Faurs, as M. Faurs had done with the exar at the end of his own teast. The naval band played the Marsellaise and the Russian anthem.

M. Faure then escorted his majesty to the imporial train, where the czar warmly shock the hand of the president, who kissed the hand of the czarina. The bat-teries fired a final salute as the czar and contrast attend a total sature is the court and contrast attend the train, which started at 8.00 o'clock, the presidential train follow-ing at 8.55 o'clock. A double line of troops presented arms as each of the trains de-

President Faure has conferred the various grades of the Legion of Honor upon the various members of the czar's entourage, including the grade of grand officer of the legion upon Rear Admiral Lomin.

There was a pretty scene after the ban-puet, when a nurse carried the baby Prin-ess Oiga, the 10-months-old daughter of the czar, dressed in white, through the glazed hall next to the banqueting hall, where a brilliant reception was being held. The throng of brightly uniformed officers saluted the little grand duchess, and the other guests applauded.

In Maplewood, in the western part of Parsonadicid, yester-day and her body was nearly enliredy de-stroyed by firs. The matter for the series stroyed by fire. The motive for the crime and the nurderer are unknown. Mrs. Hobbs' was in humble circumstatices, and supported herself by working for the wives of the neighboring farmers for the wives of the neighboring farmers and ration a few vegetalides. About noon restervlay some children saw smoke issu-ing from the door and windows of Mrs. Holds' house. The door was closed, and there was blood on the door steps. Fush-ing open the door the children found Mrs. Holds bins on the door the children found Mrs. Howes lying on the floor. Clothing sat-urated with kerosene had been piled on the body and a match applied. The body was rescued from the flames, but not until it had been badly burned. On her neck and head were several holes of the size of buckshot. Searching parties were organized to hunt the murderer, but no clew has yet been discovered.

If you have ever seon a little child in the If you have ever som a futte child in the agony of summer complaint, you can realize the danger of the trouble and appreciate the value of instantaneous relief always afforded by Dewitt's Colic and Cholera Cure. For dysentery and diartheea it is a reliable remedy. We could not afford to recommend this as a cure unless it were a cure. C. H. Hagenbuch.
