Men from the Monongahela Valley Greet Major McKinley and Listen to an Address in Which the Candidate Pays a Tribute of Respect to James G. Blaine.

CANTON, O., Oct. 13. The two delegations announced for yesterday came in on a special train of eleven coaches. The party came from Roscoe and the Monongahela valley of Pennsylvania, and was made up of citizens representing the various interests of that locality. They were very enthusiastic, and organized with marching clubs, mostly uniformed. Several bands and a colored gies club furnished the music. Owing to rain the delegation was taken to the Tabernacle, where Major McKinley responded to the introductory address of the venerable George T. Lawrence, ex-member of congress and from ? In an octogenarian. Major McKinley spoke bine cases out of ten in part as follows:

parliamentarian and gifted statesman, James G. Blaine. It is very gratifying to augmentation and vitalization. The me to receive from the hands of the Fay-ette einb this beautiful cane, made out of wood from Mr. Blaine's home, in which he was born at Brownsville, and I assure you that it shall always be preserved and Nervura, the great blood renovater and You are fortunate, too, in having at one time among your citizens of Fayetto county that illustrious financier, Albert fallatin, who became the first secretary of the treasury under Thomas Jefferson in twolve years and is known in the history of vitality. Get it the country as one of the greatest secreta-ties we ever had. One of the greatest secreta-uments that he left is that during his ad-ministration as secretary of the treasury well. Re-

"It was his proud boast when he made Greene's Norvura his report to congress that this wonderful blood and nerve remreduction of the public debt had gone on edy is the prescrip-without resorting to internal taxation, tion and discovery of either direct or indirect, but that this vasi sum of money was provided for by duties upon imports. This bit of history suggests the condition of our own treasury and the condition of our own people. For three years and a half the government has shronic diseases, and hence of necessity been borrowing money to live upon, and the people have been doing likewise very largely. "We want, my fellow citizens, somehow to stop that, both as to government and people. We may not be able to do it at once. When we are sick it takes a long time to recover our normal vitality. But there ought to be no question that there rests upon the American people and those rests upon the American people and those in charge of public affairs to adopt some policy, and that right speedily, which would first provide enough money to run the government of the United States. We ought not to resort to the issuing of bonds. in time of peace except to preserve the credit and honor of the government "That opens up the question as to what policy will save us from that. I do not know of anything that will do it better than protection, for it is a proud fact in American history that of all the years, at least for the most part, under which we have had a protective tariff we have always had ample revenues to conduct the expenses of the government-of the government. "Now that policy, wisely and judic-iously applied in public law, is one of the first and most important acts for the con-gress to perform. They cannot perform it, however, without a Republican con-gress and a Republican administration. The only moves that can make a protecgress and a Republican administration. The only power that can make a protec-tive tariff congress resides in the Ameri-can people, and the only power that can make a protective tariff administration resides in the American people. By your ballots three weeks from tomorrow you, in conjunction with your fellow citizens in every part of the country, will deter-mine whether or not that policy shall pre-vall for the next four years. Your old valley, to which your spokesman has re-HON. ELIAS DAVIS valley, to which your spokesman has referred to so eloquently, as far back as in the days of Henry Clay, was pointed to as typifying the magnificent blossings of a protective tariff. "There is a notion in some quarters that what we need to bring about prosperity is free sliver. I do not believe it would be any freer under free coinage to you than it is now. There would be just one way for the working man to get it, and that would be to earn it. There would be just one way for the farmer to get it, and that would be to sell his products. There would be just one way for the morchant to get it -the good old fashioned way - which would be to sell his goods over his counter and give something for the money. That is the only way you could get it if we coined all the silver of the world. "When you have received for your labor dollars worth one hundred cents in pur-chasing power you want to know that they will not lose, but keep that one hundred cents' worth of purchasing power. That is the kind of money we have now, and that is the kind of money we propose to keep. The money that will buy the to keep. most is the money you want, and what you want now is an opportunity to earn it. You cannot earn it through the mints, (* s. PHILLIPS, M. D. but through the mills, mines, factories and by honest toll. "liesides, did it ever occur to you that money does not make works. Work makes noney. There is just as much meany in this country today as there was from 1520 to 150, and more. It is work that puts money into effective is work that any more work to be life any more than have wants that noney to be estimate something, and the only reason he user more put it our now is because be is afrain he will never get it back, or get it have in a depreciated eur-racy. And when he does not put it on, and it does not circulate, then there is no work. When you have the more and this money distress and suffering provail. "With returning confidence—and con-fidence is half the capital of the world— money will come out from its hiding place. money does not make work? Work makes Thissies is half the capital of the world— money will come out from its hiding place, be invested in caterprises all over the country and put idle men to work, and so indicving. I stand for that policy which will most surely restore confidence. "I desire to thank the glassworkers for their gift, which I highly value—for any-thing that comes from the hands of Jabor hing that comes from the hands of labor is always cherished by me. There is noth-ing in all this contest that has given me as to feel that I have the workingmon of the United States voting for the cause which I represent."

Lawyers do rest upon as a foundation. Lawyers do not produce wealth. Unless there is wealth produced a lawyer will suffer, and I have been brought up to believe that all the classes which rest upon the producers of wealth can only prosper when the pro-ducers of wealth are prosperous. And, therefore, I am not entirely unselfish whan I desire such legislation as will en-able them to have more than ensugh to able them to have more than enough to ent and drink. "Laboring men, I want to ask you why it is that every goldbug says you are selfish, and that you are interested by selfish con-siderations, while every goldbug pretends to be a philanthropist and simply loves honest money because it will holp our peo-ple? I want to know why it is that these goldbugs are so sure that everybody else will be influenced by their own interest and so positive that personal interests cannot affect them. Why is it, my friends? I will tell you why. If a man believes a thing is good for himself and also good for others he will admittit is good for him-self. If he thinks a thing is good for him-self of head for others will admitt a solution of the solution. self and had for others he will nover ad-mit it is good for himself.

"Why is it that the bond syndicates are against it? Is it because they are domin-ited by human selfishness? Then why don't these men come out and say they are opposed to us because our platform interferes with their business of bleeding the government. But no, we are told that these financiers are unselfish, and in spite of all the good that the free coinage w ould bring to them they have the moral courage to turn their backs on their own wol-fare and plead the cause of the common people. We are in favor of bimetallism, and we support our claim by a logic which cannot be answered, and our opponents confess their inability to meet us on this question when they attempt to turn the discussion on to some other question." Mr. Bryan then quoted from a speech delivered by Senator Washburn, of this city, in the United States senate on July , 1892, as follows: "The hopes of the producer have been arned into ashes. The grain dealer and ailer and the business men have been lisappointed. The balance of trade in avor of this country, that every one looked o with so much assurance, has been much ver than the general estimate, probably the depression of prices in agriculture id food exports of $300,000,000. Gold is and food exports of $200,000,000. Gold is still leaving the country, and there is but little left in support of general business, and I think there is a general disappoint-ment that, with the tartiff of 1890, we do ot see helter times. not see beiner times.<sup>2</sup> "And he says: "Again, Mr. President, the people of the country were startled when the statement was made in one of the magnituses a few weeks since that one-half of the volume of wealth of this coun-try was owned by 35.00 persons and tha millionaires and the tens of millionaires and the hundreds of millionaires have million front or earned their wealth, and the royal road to wealth has been norther evoluted nor earned their wealth, and the royal road to wealth has been through likeginimate speculation, atock exclusings and grain granthing, rubroad wrocking and grain, and the whole vol-time of iniquities that have diveloped in the nefacious methods of the stock ex-change of this country." Mr. Bryan then proceeded to argue that the since of afforts which frightanced Sona-tor Washburn had become intensified, and continued with an exhaustive discussion of the thanelal question, his points being enthustastically cheered.
