Pottsville Lecture Association.

The above named association has obtained the famous Gilmore land for a matinee concert on Saturday, Oct. 31st, at 2 p. m. They were remarkably fortunate in doing so, for before the land closes its fall tour for the Christmas holidays it will have played nearly five hundred concerts without interruption and for the remainder of the season there are more calls for it on the part of local managers than can be accepted. It has fifty-two highest class players, and Victor Herbert gives remarkable concerts. Seats can be had at Miller's book store or at the Academy box office. Chart for reserved seats will be open at the Academy, Oct. 28th, at 9 a. m.

The Daddow Funeral.

The funeral of the late John Daddow took place at one o'clock this afternoon from the family residence at 25 North Jardin street, where the services were held. Rev. Alfred Hoesmer, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, of which the deceased was a member, officiated at the ceremony. Interesting was made in the Odd Fellows' cemetery. The pall bearers were David Brown and Marshal Meyers, of town, and Llewellyn Llewellyn, of St. Clair, all members of John Finis Post No. 47, G. A. R., of the latter town, and Joseph Uroh, Charles Koll and James Chodwick, members of the St. Clair Odd Fellows' lodge, and also residents of that town.

The deceased was a member of both organizations and other delegations from them were in attendance, besides a number of people from various parts of the county and more distant points. A delegation from Watkins Waters Post No. 116, G. A. R., and many members of town, were also at the funeral and the full membership of the Grand lodge was in attendance, not as a result to any of the societies, but voluntarily pay a final tribute of respect to the deceased. Mr. Daddow was always one of the most earnest and devoted supporters of the organization and took great interest in its welfare. On the march from the residence to the foot of the mountain the band played a funeral march by F. Chapin and marching into the cemetery a funeral march by W. H. Thomas was rendered. Upon the conclusion of the services at the cemetery "Nearer My God to Thee" was rendered and on the way from the cemetery to the G. A. R. headquarters the band played "Onward Christian Soldiers."

The selection on the march back to the land room was "King Cotton," a favorite of the deceased.

BRVAN STILL IN HARNESS.

Says He Will Keep It Up Till the Night Before Election.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Oct. 16.—William J. Bryan last night addressed in this city one of the largest audiences he has yet spoken to during the campaign. There were three meetings—one at Campau Square, one at Powers' Opera House, where he addressed the women of Grand Rapids, and the other at Lockery Hall. At the first meeting he spoke to as large a crowd as could wedge itself in at the junction of four streets, and it is safe to say that not one-fourth of those present could hear the speaker. Powers' Opera House was filled with feminine humanity. The last address of the evening, that in Lockery Hall, was delivered before an audience the size of which was limited to the space inside the walls. In the speech to the women Mr. Bryan put Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll, Murat Halstead, ex-President Benjamin Harrison and Secretary of the Treasury John G. Carlisle in the same category as Stevenson's Jekyll and Hyde. His denunciation of them was scathing and bitter.

Mr. Bryan started yesterday's speech-making at 5 o'clock in the morning, and kept it up until 11 o'clock last night, speaking at every station where the train stopped for ten minutes or more. He is in excellent voice, and says he can keep it up until the night of Nov. 2.

Crushed to Death Under Logs.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Oct. 16.—John Christman met a horrible death yesterday in the woods near Galston. He was on a log car when it jumped the track. The car struck a tree, and the jar threw Christman forward, when he was caught between the tree and the logs. His body was crushed flat, and every log had to be removed before the corpse could be released.
