ADVICE TO STUDENTS.

President Cleveland's Address at Princeton University.

DUTY OF COLLEGE GRADUATES

They should "stand as constant monitors, warning against popular rashness and excess"—Dangers of the Clamor for Party Spoils.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 23.—The history of Princeton during the past three days will be a part of the history of the United States. Primarily, the event was the celebration of the university's sesqui-centennial. Historically, it was a congress of nations—formed by the best brains of those nations. Present among all stood the chief executive of this nation—President Cleveland. Necessarily the president was the main speaker of the day, and nearly every man is saying here that he made the oratorical effort of his life. He spoke in Alexander hall to a multitude comprising representatives of nearly every great institution of learning in the world, and men of mark in other walks of life. His theme was the duties and responsibilities that college men and educated men generally owe to the cause of good government.

Before introducing President Cleveland Dr. Patton announced that the change in the title of the institution from College of New Jersey to Princeton university. Then came the conferring of honorary degrees on sixty-five men distinguished in the world over as leaders of thought and apostles of higher education.

At the conclusion of the conferring of the degrees Dr. Patton said: "It was our hearty desire to confer still another degree on this occasion, but the distinguished gentleman on whom we proposed to bestow the honor has seen fit to use the sovereign power of the people which he represents in the interests of his own modesty. There is nothing left for us to do but to regard his wishes as a command. It would have pleased us to honor ourselves in honoring the chief magistrate of our country, and to have publicly expressed our appreciation of his public services and strong patriotic position in this hour of his nation's trial."

In his address President Cleveland said in part: "Obviously a government resting upon the will and universal suffrage of the people has no anchorage except in the people's intelligence. In a nation like ours, charged with the care of numerous and widely varied interests, a spirit of conservatism and toleration is absolutely essential. A collegiate training, the study of principles unsexed by distracting and misleading influences, and a correct apprehension of the theories upon which our republic is established, ought to constitute the college graduate a constant monitor, warning against popular rashness and excess."

"The character of our institutions and our national self interest require that a feeling of sincere brotherhood and a disposition to unite in mutual endeavor should pervade our people. Our scheme of government in its beginning was based upon this sentiment, and its interruption has never failed and can never fail to grievously menace our national health."

"The activity of our people and their restless desire to gather to themselves special benefits and advantages lead to the growth of an unconfessed tendency to regard their government as the giver of private gifts, and to look upon the agencies for its administration as the distributors of official places and preferment. Those who in university or college have had an opportunity to study the mission of our institutions should be well fitted to constantly admonish their fellow citizens of the usefulness and importance of their plan of government, and to be preserved through their unselfish and loving support, and their contented willingness to accept in full return the peace, protection and opportunity which it impartially bestows."

"Not more surely do the rules of honesty and good faith fix the standard of individual character in a community than do these same rules determine the character and standing of a nation in the world of civilization. Neither the glitter of its power, nor the tinsel of its commercial prosperity, nor the gaudy show of its people's wealth, can conceal the cankerous rust of national dishonesty, and cover the meanness of national bad faith."

"I do not forget the practical necessity of political parties, nor do I deny their desirability. I recognize wholesome differences of opinion touching legitimate governmental policies, and would by no means control or limit the utmost freedom in their discussion, but when the excitement of party warfare presses dangerously near our national safeguards, I would have the intelligent conservatism of our universities and colleges warn the contestants in impressive tones against the perils of a breach impossible to repair."

"When popular discontent and passion are stimulated by the arts of designing partisans to a pitch perilously near to class hatred or sectional anger, I would have our universities and colleges sound the alarm in the name of American brotherhood and fraternal dependence."

"When the attempt is made to delude the people into the belief that their suffrages can change the operation of natural laws, I would have our universities and colleges proclaim that those laws are inexorable and far removed from political control."

"When selfish interest seeks undue private benefit through governmental aid, and public places are claimed as rewards of party service, I would have our universities and colleges persuade the people to a relinquishment of the demand for party spoils and exhort them to a disinterested and patriotic love of their government for its own sake."

"When a design is apparent to lure the people from their honest thoughts and to blind their eyes to the sad plight of national dishonor and bad faith, I would have Princeton university, paragoned in her patriotic traditions and glorious memories, and joined by all the other universities and colleges of our land, cry out against the inflation of this treacherous and fatal wind."

Mr. Cleveland spoke without any attempt at oratorical effect, and with very little emphasis even, but the points in his address were quickly grasped by his hearers, and he was frequently interrupted by hearty applause. He spoke for a half hour, and when he had concluded the exhibition of enthusiasm was remarkable. Cheers upon cheers were given with hearty goodwill, and as a wind up the college yell was given for Mrs. Cleveland. The great three days' celebration closed last night with a banquet in Assembly hall given to the university delegates.

A WORN-OUT FAD.

"Spring Medicines," "Blood-Purifiers" and "Tonics" an Old-Fashioned Idea.

Pure blood, strong nerves and muscles, firm healthy flesh can only come from wholesome food well digested. "Blood purifiers" and "nerve tonics" do not reach the cause of the mischief. The stomach is the point to be looked after. The safest and surest way to cure any form of indigestion is to take after each meal some harmless preparation which will of itself induce food. There is an excellent preparation of this kind composed of vegetable essences, pure pepsin, Golden Seal and fruit salts, sold by druggists under name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and these tablets taken after meals assist digestion wonderfully because they will digest the food promptly BEFORE IT HAS TIME to ferment and sour and the weak stomach relieved and assisted in this way soon becomes strong and vigorous again.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are superior to any secret patent medicines because you know what you are taking into your stomach. They are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package.

SECRETARY CARLISLE INS.

Disorderly Demonstrations at His Speech in His Kentucky Tour.

COVINGTON, Ky., Oct. 23.—Secretary Carlisle was received with most generous and hearty applause when he appeared on the stage. This was followed by vociferous cheers from a line of about a hundred men formed in the standing room at the rear of the hall. This continued for some time after Secretary Carlisle began to speak, completely drowning his voice so those nearest him on the stage could not hear his words. At the same time a crowd occupied the street and rent the air with shouts for Bryan. Now and then a man on the outside would shout "Carlisle the traitor."

While Secretary Carlisle was interrupted continuously during his speech, and eggs were thrown about the hall, four being thrown upon the stage, the most disorderly scene was at the close of the meeting, when hoodlums gathered about the exit with insulting remarks. There were many noisy people on the street, and in such spirit as to threaten violence as well as insult to the secretary. The mayor and chief of police promptly furnished a detachment of twenty police, who safely and quietly escorted Secretary Carlisle to the residence of Mr. Frank Helm.

The Effort to Save Mrs. Castle.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—Mrs. Kate Dwyer, prominently identified with the retail trade in this city, left for London last night. Her mission has but one object, and that the opportunity which would afford her in London on Nov. 2 to testify to the unmistakable peculiarities of the unfortunate Mrs. Castle, accused of sleeping. Exceeding Mrs. Dwyer there was sent forward in the early part of this week some seventy-five depositions, each of which contained the sworn statements of people in varied walks of life, who have testified to the singular characteristics of Mrs. Castle. Efforts and expense have not been spared in hunting up people who could testify that the extent to which Mrs. Castle carried on her unfortunate practices showed that either she defied detection or else she was mentally deranged to such an extent that she failed to realize the enormity of her illegal acts.

Chinaman Kidnaped in London.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The sensational story regarding the imprisonment of a Chinaman in the Chinese legation is confirmed, though there are various reports of the manner in which the man was kidnaped. Sir Halliday Macartney, the consul-general of the Chinese legation, protests strongly against the statement that the man was captured in the street. "He was not even induced to visit the legation," said Sir Halliday, "but came there of his own accord more than once, believing that he would not be recognized, with a view to spying on the officials there. He was recognized and arrested." Mr. Macartney claims that the man is a Chinese subject, but the man's friends in London claim that he is a British subject. He has means of communicating with his friends, and he has conveyed to them the intelligence that he fears that he will be poisoned or starved to death.

Brave Fireman Burned to Death.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 23.—A disastrous fire occurred in this city last night, which resulted in the loss of one life, the injury of several persons and the destruction of property amounting to about $250,000. The five story brick factory building situated on Seventh street, between Second and Third avenues, was totally destroyed. Alfred Beauman, a fireman, with Foreman Bixby and Fireman John Quigley, was carrying a hose through the extension, when they were caught in a backdraft. Bixby and Quigley managed to gain the street, but Beauman was burned to death.

Race Riot in North Carolina.

ROXBORO, N. C., Oct. 23.—There was a serious riot in Pearson county yesterday. The county candidates spoke at Winstead, and the negroes attacked a white man. A general riot ensued between several hundred whites and colored, during which a number were badly wounded and blood flowed freely. Several white men were struck by rocks thrown by negroes and three seriously hurt. Some one fired a pistol, whereupon the negroes fled. Further trouble is feared.

Relief Came Too Late.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 23.—Mrs. Kate Bascom, of Clinton, Mo., killed herself and her 4-year-old son George at a lodging house in Oak street by closing the door and windows of the room and turning on the gas. Mrs. Bascom went to the house last Saturday. She was without money, but said she expected some by every mail from her husband at Clinton. Day after day passed and the money did not come, and she became so despondent that she resolved to kill herself and her son. The letter containing the money came yesterday afternoon, and when the lodging house keeper went to Mrs. Bascom's room with it she found the mother and son dead.

It is surprising to many that foot ball players and other athletes regard a sprain or bruise of so little consequence. One reason of this is, they know how to treat such injuries so as to recover from them in a few days, while others would be laid up for two or three weeks, if not longer. Writing from Central State Normal School, Lock Haven, Pa., Mr. W. H. Lesech, captain of the base ball club and grassmitten says: "I take pleasure in stating that members of our base ball club and myself have used Chamberlain's Pain Balm with most excellent results. I immediately recommended it as the best remedy for sprains, swellings, cuts and bruises of any that I know." For sale by Grubler Bros., druggists.

When you want good roofing, plumbing gas fitting, or general finishing done call on E. F. Gallagher 18 West Centre street Dealer in stoves.

Theories of cure may be diseased at length by physicians, but the sufferers want quick relief and One Minute Cough Cure will give it to them. A safe cure for children. It is "the only harmless remedy that produces immediate results." C. H. Hagenbuch.
