HOBART IN JERSEY CITY.

The Republican Candidate Receives a Most Enthusiastic Greeting.

JERREY CLLY, Oct. 28 -Garret A. Hobart was given an embashatic welcome last night in this city on his return home. He arrived at the Pennsylvania depot in company with Governor Griggs at 7,30 p. m. The party, together with a number of ather distinguished men, were escorted to the Oakind Rink, where more than 5,000 people had gathered. The route traversed by the parade was black with the cheering growth.

Mr. Hobart and Governor Griggs were wildly applained when they made their appearance on the platform, the enthus-lism of the spectators seeming to know no bound.

It was after several minutes that Mr. Hobart was able to speak. After congratulating the people that the votes would be honestly counted, and then entering into a long discussion of the finances, he concluded: "I rejoice with you because the better part of the Democratic party is composed of men who have patriotism enough to stand with us and aid us in this campaign. They are with us because of the assault on the courts; because they are in favor of honest money and law and order; not because they are Republicans, but because they are liberty loving, God fearing citizens of our republic."

Mr. Hobart touched upon the state pollities, oulogizing the candidates of the Re-It was after several minutes that Mr.

Governor Griggs made a brief speech and was followed by Judge J. Frank Fort. A reception was then held, and a great rush was made to shake the hand of the vice presidential candidate. The party later in the seculing were escerted to the reviewing stand on the boulevard, where they saw the parade of the Republican clubs of Hudson county. Pully 15,000 men were in line.

An Unforgiving Wife.

Shamokin, Pa., Oct. 28.—John Stankie-wiez, organist at the Lithuanian church and prominent in Catholic music circles, committed suicide Monday night because his wife, who had left him, would not allow him to enter her home. He swallowed laudanum and died on the payement out-side her home, she refusing to let him be carried inside.

Found Dead Beside the Track.

YORK, Pa., Oct. 28.—Peter Baker, a York county farmer, and an umbrella mender named William King, from Brooklyn, N. Y., were found dead and mangled at the side of the Pennsylvania railroad tracks about three miles west of this city. Booker was decapitated and King's head was crushed. Both had been intoxicated.
