Advertisements for a trial of politics, and has made up his mind, he thinks. It would be superfluous to state that neither he nor the people generally will request him to reconsider his determination.

That business is undergoing a general revival is evidenced on all sides, and is being brought about by everybody, and especially by the thousands who are to-day and have been for months without employment.

The construction of McKinley's cabinet, with all interest now manifested in it, will shade into insignificance compared with the more weighty question as to who will fill the subordinate positions of "the bill."

"We have satisfied the issue to the American people, and their will is law," is the main acknowledgment of ex-candidate Bryan to Major McKinley in his dispatch congratulating him upon his success. Candidate Shepherd should ponder the sentiment thoughtfully. His acknowledgments are about due.

We are glad to note that some of our contemporaries are protesting against the unwisely blanket statement, the use of which, under the election laws of the state, has been made compulsory. That it is an unadvisable feature cannot be disputed, but that as a whole it is to be commended, cannot fairly be said. Except in those familiar with it and the number of which, it is not overwhelmingly large—the chief objection is wondering to return, placing those of mediocre intelligence in the unfortunate and unkind to be deprived of the assistance of some one who may feel disposed to counsel him honestly or dishonestly, as circumstances and inclination may prompt.

Next week the public schools of Shenandoah will close, and the school board will attend the county seat in all their deliberations.
The attention will be the annual session of the county institute, which begins on Monday, and closes on Friday. The program for the evening entertainments are of such a nature that the demand for seats has been unprecedented, on Monday evening John Borroughs, the lecturer, will entertain the teachers and others, and the following evening Paul Miller, whose reputation for fun-making is well-known, will awaken interest with song and story. The Kelly Bird Carnival and Concert Company on Wednesday evening will be followed by Lissman Concert Company on Thursday evening. Dr.
Byron W. King, the dramatic reader, will appear on the same evening. The next institute will probably be held in Mahanoy City, the accommodations there now being of the best.

ALREADY steps are being taken for the re-organization of the old line Democracy.
Ex-Secretary Whitney is one of the prominent promoters of the scheme, and as far as New York is concerned has for his aides and advisors Secretary Lamont, ex-Secretary Fairchild, ex-Secretary Flower, and other prominent old-timers, who stood by the party, supporting the nominees of the Indianapolis convention. The proposition will no doubt meet with favor to a limited extent, but Mr.
Bryan does not at all incline to it. He admits his defeat, but insists that the contest of Tuesday last does not by any means put a quietus on the free coinage issue. He contends that it is not only not dead, but will re-surrect itself still more vigorously between now and 1909, when it will again come to the front in more formidable array than ever.
As the leading Democrats we have named are not likely to affiliate in any such movement, the prospect of a reorganization that will bring under one control the opponents of the sound money doctrine does not give present evidence of becoming an assured success.
The Schuylkill Democracy will find a not difficult in getting together as their brethren of other sections of the country. There is already a number of disaffected, and lives are being sharpened in anticipation of the slaughter that will ensue for the Democratic nominees of 1907.

As is customary, the Salt River excursion will leave Schuylkill Haven, via canal, on the first day of January, 1907. Heretofore one steamer has been sufficient to accommodate all, but this year the number that have been necessary to charter three boats.
Captains Wilkins and Duffy will be in command of two of the steamers, while the third has been assigned to shepherd. The latter, however, finds it necessary to secure a "substitute" in the person of Linesweaver.
The important position of bell boy will be looked after by Edito Becker. Much trouble is anticipated on the trip by the heavy showers of greenbacks, and James Grant has considered to supply the "Bremen" to keep the decks clear. Most will be furnished by the Butler township free silver band led by James Coetz, with 3500 cents to be used. The "regularity" Democrats will have the steamer "Free Trade" for their exclusive use; the Bryan Republican sympathizers will board the gold-and-silver "Reputation" and the third will be set apart for the Populists. Coal-burners McInnes and Strone will see that the fires are burning bright, and will "bet" that the time of the trip will be less than ever. Amusement will be furnished by Becker's silver contortions, only assisted by the Little Gorman band. The funeral department, presided over by "Jeff" will be filled up in first-class style with gold trimmings. The liquid re-fraisments, a la Hopalong, will not be wanting. The pumper will be Tax Collector Scanlan. All arrangements are made for a speedy trip and a long stay in the land of disillusion.

THREE PEOPLE DROWNED.

Grandmother and Grandchildren Plunge from a Bridge to Death.
WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 7.—A frightful drowning accident, resulting in the loss of three lives, occurred yesterday afternoon at Old Forge, a small village near Scranton. The victims are Mrs. James McCarthy, of Scranton, and her two granddaughters, Mary and Margaret Cluch, aged four and two years, respectively. Mrs.
McCarthy had been visiting her married daughter, Mrs. John Cluch, of Old Forge, and about 1 o'clock started to return home, accompanied by the little children. They intended to take the electric car at Moosic for Scranton. A short cut to the car, way by way of the Erie and Wyoming Valley railroad bridge. The old lady took the two children by the hand and started to cross the bridge which spans the Lackawanna river.

She was about half way across the bridge when she saw a train of coal cars backed by an engine coming towards her.
This evidently bewildered her, and the next instant the train hands saw her disappear over the edge of the bridge into the river, twenty-five feet below. The two children clinging to her dress and went over with her. The recent heavy rains had caused the river to rise, and there were about six feet of water where they fell, and a heavy current was on. When the train hands reached the spot all three of the bodies had been swept out of sight. The bodies were recovered.

The Official Vote.

After the official vote was announced, as published in last evening's HERALD, an error was found by the clerks in the computation of the total vote of one or two of the county wards. It required all night and this morning to straighten out the error. The result will not materially change the vote as previously announced, as all the candidates on the Republican ticket are elected. The error has delayed the publication of the official tally.

THE BOOM IN BUSINESS.

General Resumption of Operations in Eastern Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—A general resumption of operations is reported from the mill district of Kensington and in various parts of eastern Pennsylvania. In the former manufacturers expect that by Dec. 1st will be running full time. On next Monday a number of places which have been working on half time will take on additional help. Among the number are the mills of Thomas Dalton & Co., the Keystone Dye works and the big carriage works of Edwin H. Pitzer. William Alton mills, which shut down fifteen weeks ago, also open Monday. The carpet mills of Robert Foulke started up yesterday, and Mackard's mill will be in operation in a few days. A number of Scranton rug mills will also resume in a short time, and give employment to a large number of men.

The Jeannette Iron works at Hazleton, which has been on short time, has started on full time and the men have been given the privilege of working seven days a week. The Lehigh Valley shops have also notified their men that hereafter they work six days a week instead of five and nine hour days. It is also announced semi-officially that the collieries will go on full time next week. They have not worked a full month in over a year.

H. Gabriel's Sons' knitting mills, at Allentown, starts on full time Monday, after working three days a week. The Crane Iron company, at Catonsville, will blow in another slack on Monday, giving employment to a number of extra hands.
The Argo mills, at Gloucester, N. J., have begun working overtime. Fifteen of the thirty-eight clothing factories at Egg Harbor have resumed after being idle all summer, and the knife handle factory has received orders for one year ahead.

Accused of Wife Murder.

SHANTON, Pa., Nov. 7.—Michael Kelly, of Elizabethtown, this city, was arrested Thursday night on suspicion of having murdered his wife. Mrs. Kelly died at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon, the cause of her death being many bruises that had been inflicted on her by her husband a week ago last Sunday night in a quarrel.
Kelly has been drunk for several weeks and was sleeping off a spew in a room contiguous to that in which his dead wife lay at the time of his arrest.

Many days' work is lost by sick headaches, caused by indigestion and stomach troubles. DeWitt's Little Early Ebers are the most effective relief for overcoming such difficulties. C. H. Hagenbach.

MAHANAY CITY.

MAHANAY CITY, Nov. 7.—A large dam was constructed in No. 2 west gateway of Park No. 2 colliery on Thursday evening to head off the water pouring into the mine and enable the pumps to deal with the flood.
Edward Wilson, of town, and several other employees were working in No. 4 gateway and last night that water was rapidly rising in its place. Investigation showed that the breakwater in No. 1 was giving way and Wilson and his companions hurried inside to warn a number of miners. When Wilson and the miners came out they were obliged to wade through water up to their waists and at points where the mud had been washed out they were obliged to swim, but all got out of the gateway safely.

The funeral of Mrs. L. M. Thompson took place this afternoon from the residence of Hon. William E. Jones and there was a large attendance. The pall bearers were M. M.
McMillan, C. O. Smith, O. C. Lewis, E. B.
Rowe, George Wrenn and William Lattimore.
Rev. A. M. Woods who had been the pastor of the deceased for 25 years, officiated at the ceremony.

Gibbons and McDonald, two boy dancers of Shenandoah, have been specially engaged for the "Bunch of Keys" production here tonight and the manager will make a proposition to engage them to play with the company for the balance of the season.
Wood has been received here that Robert W.
Brookins, formerly of this place and one of the publishers of the old Mahanoy City Local, has been elected District Attorney at Chey-one, Wyoming, over the Democratic candidate.

An amusing incident resulting from an election bet will take place here at 7 o'clock this evening. Richard Reing, a Bryan man, will wheel Archie Boyd, a McKinley admirer, in a wheelbarrow decorated with the national colors from 8th to Main street.

The next three days will be of unusual interest to the Slavonian Catholics of town.
The service of 40 hours devotion will begin to-morrow. Sermons will be preached by Revs. Kasparek, McAdoo; John Kola, Pitten-ton; Kosako, Plymouth; Raymond Wier, New Haven, Pa. In addition these priests there will be in attendance Revs. Murgas, Wilkozarre; Pribyl, Hazleton; Stas, Freeland; Cerveny and Furdick, Cleveland, O.; Bella, Shamokin; Simoney, Nanticoke; Horvat, New York; and Formanek, Bridgeport, Conn. There will also be a conference of the priests in attendance.

Award for Full Amount.

Jerome Toney, J. W. Stout and Richard Anon were arbitrators today in the office of M. M. Burke, Esq., in the case of Mrs.
William Bridenbach, who brought suit to recover $185 on a policy on the life of her husband, who threw himself in front of a train on the Lehigh Valley railroad near Mahanoy City a few months ago. An award was given for the full amount. The widow claimed her husband was insane when he committed suicide.

MRS. CASTLE SENTENCED.

But the Wealthy Kleptomaniac Will Probably Soon be Pardoned.
LONDON, Nov. 7.—The trial of Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Castle, of San Francisco, charged with shoplifting, took place yesterday, and resulted in Mr. Castle's acquittal and Mrs. Castle's sentence to three months' imprisonment, without hard labor.

When called upon to plead Mr. Castle answered "not guilty" in a strong voice.
Mrs. Castle was then called upon to plead, but Sir Edward Clarke said that his client, Mrs. Castle, would plead guilty to all the indictments, which were then read separately, Mr. Castle pleading at the same time not guilty to each separate charge. Mrs. Castle sobbed violently in spite of the efforts of her husband to soothe her.

When all the evidence was in the judge passed sentence upon Mrs. Castle. He added that he did so with the knowledge that the sentence would be revised elsewhere, and the general impression which afterward prevailed in court was that this means that the home office will shortly release Mrs. Castle on her own recognizance.
The unfortunate woman, on hearing the sentence, went into hysterics, shrieking:
"Oh, my God! Oh, my God!" for nearly five minutes. She threw up her arms and staggered about, muttering at times incoherently, and then shrieked in wild agony.

There was no doubting that she had the full sympathy of her friends and relatives, and that the court, counsel and the presiding judge were also greatly affected by her distress.

The Westminster Gazette says that the expenses of the Castles in providing for their defense will amount to $50,000.
Mr. Castle was allowed to accompany his wife to the prison. Upon arrival at the office she became violently hysterical again and seemed to be totally dazed. The prison doctor immediately ordered her to be removed to the hospital and detailed two nurses to attend her. There was another painful scene when the husband came to take leave of his wife.

THE KAISER CONSPIRACY.

Evidence That the Murdered Woman Was the Victim of a Plot.

NOUWATEREN, Pa., Nov. 7.—The police are in possession of fresh developments bearing out the theory that more than one person was directly concerned in the murder of Mrs. Charles O. Kaiser, Jr.; that the crime was the result of a deep laid conspiracy, and that the conspirators devoted part of two weeks to the preliminaries immediately preceding the fateful culmination of their plan to kill the unsuspecting woman for the insurance on her life.

The team by which the accomplices in the murder reached the fatal spot on the Upper Merion road was procured at the livery stable of Wilson & Walker, in this borough. The horse and phaeton have been fully identified by Benjamin Hughes, a bookkeeper at the People's National Bank of Norristown. While on his way to his home in Upper Merion on the Wednesday evening of the murder Mr. Hughes saw the team on the road near the spot where shortly afterwards Mrs. Kaiser received her death wound. The only occupant of the phaeton was a woman. Walking on the road near the team was a man.
Much damaging evidence has been collected against Kaiser.

The will of Mrs. Kaiser was proved yesterday. The will named the testatrix's husband as executor. As he is in prison he renounced, and letters were granted to Charles O. Kaiser, Sr., the accused man's father. Lady Cope has taken charge of Kaiser's art studio.

It doesn't matter much whether sick headache, biliousness, indigestion and constipation are caused by neglect or by unfavorable circumstances; DeWitt's Little Early Ebers

When all the evidence was in the judge
passed sentence upon Mrs. Castle. He
means that the home office will shortly release Mrs. Castle on her own recognizance.
sentence, went into hysterics, shrieking:
staggered about, muttering at times in-
agony.

full sympathy of her friends and relatives,
and that the court, counsel and the presiding judge were also greatly affected by
her distress.

expenses of the Castles in providing for
their defense will amount to $50,000.
Mr. Castle was allowed to accompany
came to take leave of his wife.

the Victim of a Plot.

murder of Mrs. Charles O. Kaiser, Jr.;
that the crime was the result of a deep
laid conspiracy, and that the conspirators
naries immediately preceding the
