Evening Herald

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1908.

This is the second edition of the Herald published since the election. It is a ready-made "plate" for the newly-elected county officers.

The friends of Congressman Leisinger, of Hazelton, are preparing to inaugurate his gubernatorial term.

The suggestion of the Herald that the Institute be held at Hazelton City next year has met with much sympathy.

The result of the election has demonstrated again that free government is not a failure.

As to who will fill these subordinate places it is hard to say, but the following names are mentioned.

MAHANOY CITY, Nov. 11.—With blood streaming from about a dozen cuts on his face a Hungarian resident of Wiggins, appeared at his home at about eight o'clock last night and told a story of having been beaten and robbed on the road between Hazelton and Hazelton.

He had spent the day in Hazelton and started for home at about 7 p. m. When near Shanty Hill he was accosted by a tramp who asked him the time.

Receiving no response the tramp fell upon the Hungarian and gave him a heavy blow that rendered him unconscious and when he recovered a silver watch and gold chain were missing and his pockets had been rifled of about $10.

As the Hungarian revived he saw the tramp disappearing in the direction of Hazelton. He describes the tramp as being a man of medium height and heavy build.
