THE VENEZUELA SETTLEMENT

Only One Point Open Between Our Government and England.

THE FOUR JUDICIAL ARBITRATORS.

It is Expected That They Will be Decided Upon Within a Day or Two—King Oscar May Not Serve as Arbitrator Himself, But Will Name a Representative.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—But one point—namely of detail and not of principle—remains open between the United States and Great Britain in the settlement of the Venezuela question, and the cablegrams passing between London and Washington give every reason to believe that this point, which has delayed the formal signing of signatures to the arrangement of settlement, will be determined within a day or two.

It relates to the choice of the four judicial members of the court of arbitration, two by this country and two by Great Britain. It has been found that it was no easy task to make the lord chief justice, the solicitor general or other eminent British judicial functionary from his present duties which may take months or years in their execution. For that reason it has been considered wise to settle this matter at the outset.

The arrangement as to King Oscar of Sweden is not open, but is final so far as Mr. Olney and Sir Julian Pauncefote are concerned. The agreement on the king as the chief arbitrator was made under the same circumstances and conditions that always attach to the selection of a ruler of a nation, with the understanding that the king could name another nominal representative to relieve himself of the more laborious duties of that position. In the present case King Oscar was the one upon whom the two countries agreed, and with the usual limitations suggested, they will look to him or such one as he may designate as his representative.

There are two distinct papers in the transaction. The first, and by far the most important one, is in the nature of a solemn agreement between the United States and Great Britain, on the terms by which the boundary question will be settled, and the form of the court of arbitration. It is lacking in the technical characteristics of a treaty, and in form is a final agreement. Then, because the subject matter of the boundary itself lies between Great Britain and Venezuela, a second paper is made necessary. This will be in the form of a treaty, the contracting parties being Great Britain and Venezuela.

Literally, the United States and Great Britain have made an agreement by which the terms of an arbitration treaty between Great Britain and Venezuela are framed. Venezuela retains her attitude as a contracting party to the final treaty. But as the treaty is shaped by the agreement with the United States, the latter nation is the instrumentality by which the full results are accomplished, and the United States names two of the judicial arbitrators.

A PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVE Will Probably be Named by King Oscar in the Venezuelan Arbitration.

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 12.—The exclusive announcements by the Associated Press last Tuesday that King Oscar of Sweden and Norway had been selected as the fifth arbitrator in the Venezuelan dispute has been discussed with the greatest possible interest here as well as in all the European capitals. A representative of the Associated Press yesterday sought to interview King Oscar on the subject, and was received with the greatest courtesy by the highest court officials. His request for an expression of opinion upon the part of the king on the peaceful settlement arrived at between the United States and Great Britain and as to his majesty's willingness to act as the fifth member of the court of arbitration was conveyed to King Oscar, and his majesty sent the correspondent the following message in reply: "The king not having received an official communication regarding the arbitration, he is unable at present to make a statement of the subject."

It was explained that while his majesty has expressed his willingness to the Swedish minister at Washington to act as arbitrator, as proposed, his majesty must receive a formal official request to act before he can give his consent, but there is no doubt he will agree to act. It is further stated that, as in previous cases, for instance when King Humbert of Italy and the president of the Swiss republic consented to act in a similar capacity, the king of Sweden and Norway will appoint a personal representative, who will attend the meetings of the court of arbitration.

Insane Asylum Steward Resigns.

TRENTON, Nov. 12.—Colonel William H. Early has resigned as steward of the state hospital for the insane at Trenton because of differences with Dr. John W. Ward, the medical director. The resignation is to go into effect Dec. 1. Colonel Early was appointed during the administration of Governor Abbott, and recently Republicans have been endeavoring to have him dismissed and his place given to a Republican, in pursuance of the law passed two years ago providing for an equal distribution of the places in the state institutions.

A recent expert report of the extent of the anthracite coal fields in the United States places their contents at 11,921,400,000 tons. The annual production averages 42,000,000 tons, at which rate the supply would last some 285 years.

Cardinal Gibbons in Disfavor at Home.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—According to a private dispatch received here Cardinal Gibbons, as well as Archbishop Ireland, has incurred the displeasure of Rome. The cardinal has always shown himself a staunch friend of Archbishop Ireland, and is known to sympathize with the views of the St. Paul prelate. For this reason, it is alleged, he has become persona non grata at the Vatican. How the cardinal will be disciplined is not a widely known, although it is believed that, being a cardinal, he will not be removed from his see. This much, however, is certain, that it has been decided to impose upon the cardinal a conductor decidedly of the conservative school.

Dropped Dead While Escaping Flame.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Nov. 12.—The large hotel at East Smithport was destroyed by fire yesterday morning. A boarder named White left the lamp burning in his room when he went to work, and an explosion followed. The other boarders made narrow escapes by their night clothes, and Wake Chambers, a son-in-law of Mrs. Sowers, the proprietress, dropped dead as he ran from the burning building. A house adjoining, and a business building, with a barn, were destroyed.

Platt's Election for Senator Assured.

ALBANY, Nov. 12.—There seems to be no doubt that Thomas C. Platt will be elected to succeed David B. Hill in the United States senate at the joint session of the legislature in January. Mr. Platt has not yet formally said that he would be a candidate, but he will be, and his election on the part of the Republicans will be unanimous.

A Street Encounter.

Some excitement was caused on East Centre street last night by an encounter between Deputy Sheriff Roberts and his wife and a Pole whose name was not learned. It seems that while drinking beer in Roberts' saloon the Pole made disparaging remarks about the place and, when an objection was attempted the Pole threw a beer glass at Roberts, but did no damage. Roberts and his wife struck the Pole several times in the face during a subsequent encounter on the sidewalk, but when the police arrived the Pole declined to enter any complaint.

The blaze was extinguished and after a delay of a few minutes the car proceeded to the terminus and back to Mahanoy City operated by one motor. The damage was slight.

SOUGHT IMAGINARY WEALTH

Insane Man at Large on Main Street This Morning.

FRUITLESS DEMANDS AT A BANK.

After Enjoying a Few Days of Liberty James Oliver Goes Back to the Schuylkill Haven Insane Asylum, Where he Spent the Past Fifteen Years.

There was a stir at large on Main street this morning and for a while he had people in a very nervous state. He made a rendezvous in the vicinity of the First National bank and stopped pedestrians passing the place to ask them for assistance in righting his imaginary grievances. The people stopped seen at a glance that the man was deranged and lost no time in getting away from him. The man was James Oliver. He is about 48 years of age. He continually talked about an immense sum of money he had in the First National bank and said the officials refused to give it to him.

Constable Phillips arrested the man and took him before Justice Lawlor. During the hearing, at which the unfortunate man's son appeared, it transpired that Oliver spent the past fifteen years in the insane department of the Schuylkill Haven asylum. Last Wednesday he appeared at the home of his wife and family on West Strawberry alley. The family were surprised by the visit, but the man seemed quite rational they were content. Oliver was not at the house many hours, however, before he again commenced to wander. His mania seemed to increase hourly and at three o'clock this morning he arose from his bed and threatened his wife's life. Upon this statement of the son Oliver was committed to the custody of Constable Phillips, who took Oliver down to the Pottsville jail on the 11:45 Pennsylvania train. Arrangements will be made to have the unfortunate man transferred to the almshouse to-morrow.

The HERALD learned by telephone from the almshouse officials today that Oliver was released last week on parole. He was apparently quite rational at the time and it is believed that the unfavorable effects were brought on again by the return to his old haunts. It is probable that on his return to the institution he will become a permanent inmate barred from parole.
