ecial to Eventro Heralds.

PITTHURG, Nov. 17, 9 a. m.—The parties interested on both sides of the case of the onwealth against C. D. Bogart, In which James Smith, of Shenandoah, appears as prosecutor on information alleged to have been received from Clara Vates, of Knoxville, and in which the defendant is accused of rape and attempted rape, are here in Smith, "Jack" Toole and Frank Hanna, the Shenandonh people who have been prominently identified with the prosecution of the case, have been on the scene for several days and are confident that a Two men who are under suspicton will be conviction will be secured in the case Superintendent Bogart has been here since last Tuesday and he and his lawyers are equally confident of an acquittal. A delegation of Shenandosh people arrived here last night weary and travel stained.

Superintendent Bogart will be ably represented by counsel at the trial. He has three lawyers of this city, Messrs. Patterson, Marshall and Hunter, and A. W. Schalck, Esq., of Pottsville, engaged. The prosecution has employed a leading Pittsburg lawyer to assist the District Attorney. No leaf that may tend to a conviction will be left unturned and Smith intimates that he has a big eard up his sleeve. He claims to have traced Superintendent Bogart's life from boyhood up to the present time, but Prof. Regart is no disconcerted by the report. He says his life is an open book which who runs may read and be he can face anything the prosecution may attempt to spring upon him unflinchingly. The Superintendent is as firm as ever in his protestations of innocence and does not be tray the slightest fear for the outcome of the serious charges against him.

CASE NOT REACHED.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 17, 8 p. m.-The Bogart case cannot be reached to-day owing to the many others ahead of it on the calendar, but will be called up for trial to-morrow norning. Both sides have been in attendance at ourt all day, ready for trial. Bogart's lawyers are confident of an acmittal on both charges.

Honors to the Republican National Chairman at Cleveland,

HE TALKS OF THE GREAT CONFLICT

His Work Begun Nearly Two Years Ago. Declares That Major McKinley Was Nominated for President Without a Single Promise to Redeem.

CERVELAND Nov. 17.—Chairman M. A. Hanna, of the Republican national committee, was tendered a complimentary banquet last night at the Union club. Invitations were limited to members of the organization, which is the most exclusive in the city. The arrangements were on an elaborate scale, the Heral decorations an elaborate scale, the floral decorations being among the finest ever seen in this city. Colonel Myron T. Herrick presided and acted as toastmaster, and addresses of a complimentary nature were delivered by Judge William B. Saunders, Hon. James H. Hoyt, James R. Garfield and others. Mr. Harma made a happy respons-to these subdivises.

Colonel Herrick, in concluding his ad-"The people of this country dress said: "The propie of this country have passed a great crists. It was a great conflict, a great cause, with a great com mander and a great candidate. The forces which won the victory were marshaled and led by that incomparable leader who

"I have a great feeling of relief tonight. Such a feeling of relief and Joy as I never had before. My friends, this comes very mear to being an anniversary? About two years ago, not quite that long, I began my work of devotion and love to our chief. Two years ago I took from him my in-spiration, and when he laid upon me that confidence which he felt and said to me, 'My friend, I trust you with my future. He also said: 'Mark, there are some things I will not do to be president of the United States, and I leave my honor in your hands.' And from that day, nearly two years ago, began this campaign.

"It was rather quiet at first, what the boys are likely to call a 'still hunt,' but it is true that it had its birthday toarly two years ago. I embarked upon that duty with a full heart for a man whom I loved because I had learned to respect and honor because I had learned to respect and honor him. It was a mission of love, inspired by that notide character which has no peer in the world."

So experience in Potts-wille as stenographer. Two young men who can keep books and write shorthand. No experience necessary the world."

Continuing Mr. Hanna referred to the result of the St. Louis convention, and Shorthand.

"When I took charge of McKinler's honor I swore to my Maker that I would estira It ansullied, and when I returned satisfied with the work his friends had done, I went to Canton and Inid my report at the feet of my cheftain, and I said to him: McKinley, I have not foregotten my trust, and bring it back without a blot and not a single promise to redeem. I think I have a right to feel proud of that, because in the succession of administrations, from Lincoln's time to the ent, there are none that ever enjoyed North Jardin street and it gives excellent Speaking of the campaign Mr. Hanna said

"There were dreary days, days when even the best men in this country lost faith in its government. And why) Because I say the enemy was an unseen one, and the blows it was striking were blows at the very foundation of the government. And they did not know the inner work-ings of our part of the campaign. When I left Chicago to come to Cleveland to vote for my friend, William McKinley, I dawn and I saw the sun rise, and that sentiment of Garfield's came to me, 'God' reigns,' and I felt that the grounds. reigns, and I felt that the government at Washington would live in spite of Bryan
