SPAIN is merely enacting the role of a prize fighter.

WAR with Spain would be a sort of a running fight, and Spain would do the running.

WE are all waiting now to see Major McKinley perform that celebrated Cabinet trick.

GOVERNOR HASTINGS has issued his Thanksgiving proclamation, and it has the right ring. We can all give thanks now.

THERE'S a man named Jones mixed up in that Irish patriot's case in London. Didn't a Jones figure prominently in our affairs only a short time ago?

ALTRUIST says that he wants no office in the gift of men. And this in a few days after being so unmercifully whipped at the polls. His estimate of his vote for Governor of Illinois was about 250,000 wrong.

MR. BRYAN and other popocratic leaders may lower themselves back into private life with assertions that their cause is still alive, and that the fight will be continued, but the free and unlimited coinage of silver received its quietus for all time at the last election.

CONGRESS will meet on the first Monday in December, but it will be the old Congress, not the new one. A Democratic President will be in the White House and a free silver majority will rule the Senate. It is too much to expect that anything of importance can be accomplished. We must wait until the meeting of the new Congress.

WHAT will probably prove one of the most important and interesting meetings ever held by the Jewish people of this country, opened in New York on Sunday, to continue in session during the present week. It is the first convention of the Council of Jewish Women, one of the national societies that has membership in the National Council of Women in the United States. It is proving by the vigor and fine qualities of its work in every direction the great value of council idea, of unions for the common good, on the part of those employed in different lines of service.

MR. BRYAN'S two speeches at Lincoln will not put him very far on the road to the presidency in 1906. The references to Maj. McKinley were not only very unkind in fact, but they were essentially untrue, as the people who voted for Maj. McKinley voted with fully as much freedom, and a great deal better judgment, than those who voted for the Chicago nominee. Mr. Bryan is plainly determined to keep himself and his exploded financial theories in public view, not because he wants to be right so much as because he wants to be president.

THE telegraph Monday chronicled the completion of one of the greatest feats of modern times, the harnessing of Niagara, and turning that immense energy to the use of man. The portion of it which is made to serve man's uses is infinitesimally small compared with what is going to waste, but it produces power that is counted by the power of thousands of horses, and the city of Buffalo 27 miles away now has its street cars propelled by electricity generated at the falls. In a short time it is expected that machinery will be run by its aid and a great saving in coal will be effected. Truly this is a wonderful age.

GOVERNOR HASTINGS has issued his proclamation setting aside Thursday, November 23, as the day fixed by President Cleveland, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer throughout the state. It is to be hoped that a special effort will be made by the people to faithfully observe this day, as our present position and the crisis through which the nation has just passed render it peculiarly fitting that sincere thanks should be returned to our Maker this year for the favors which He has bestowed upon us as a people. The vindication of our form of government, the endorsement of the Constitution, the preservation of our honor and the credit and prosperity, peace and happiness, which are now assured to us, are each deserving of a special and fervent return of thanks.

NOTWITHSTANDING the hard times the annual report of the Commissioner of Immigration shows that 343,367 immigrants landed on our shores, 84,798 more than in the preceding year. Of all this vast army all but 2,796 were permitted to stay. No doubt many of these people will make valuable acquisitions to our population, but we incline to the belief that we would be better off without the majority. The time was when we could not get too many immigrants, but that time is past and the conviction is forcing itself upon leading statesmen that the time has arrived when greater restrictions to keep out the undesirable class of immigrants should be adopted. It is quite possible this question will force itself upon our law makers in the near future as the revival of business now progressing will increase immigration beyond even last year's phenomenal figures.

SUMMING UP the result of the election, it will be seen that the success carried for McKinley, protection, sound money and good government are to be found on the shores of both the Atlantic and the Pacific, south of the Ohio and Potomac, on the shores of all great lakes, on both sides of the Mississippi and the Missouri; have about two-thirds of our total population, own almost three-fourths of our total assessed property, make over five-sevenths of the manufacturing product, employ over nine-tenths of the hands, pay over 90 per cent of the taxes, give more than one-half of the agricultural products, and derive more than two-thirds of the mining of the whole country.

Experience Tells It All. The well-known adage, "Experience is a dear teacher" was never more forcibly exemplified than in the case of diphtheria. Experience has taught those who survive it that it is the most dreaded disease known. Experience has taught us that not a single diphtheria patient ever died where Thompson's Diphtheria Cure was used according to directions. This valuable medicine is sold at Kirlin's drug store at 50 cents a bottle. The reader can well afford to be guided by the fortunate experience of others and keep Thompson's Diphtheria Cure handy in the house all the time.

The Burning Mine. Mine Inspector Edward Brennan and Inspector Stein of Shenandoah, had a conference at the Nelson shop yesterday and the idea abandoned. The inspectors are of the opinion that the blaze can be extinguished by bricking up the gateway into an air tight compartment. By such a process the inspectors think that gas will collect and ensuing explosions followed by huge masses of debris would perhaps smother the blaze. About seventy yards of coal are now on fire and it is confined to the one locality. It will take about nine weeks before the breaker will again start.—Shamokin News.

A Valuable Prescription. Editor Morrison of Worthington, Ind., "Sun," writes: "You have a valuable prescription in Electric Bitters, and I can cheerfully recommend it for Constipation and Sick Headache, and as a general system tonic it has no equal." Mrs. Annie Stehle, 2925 Cottage Grove Ave., Chicago, was all run down, could not eat or digest food, had a backache which never left her and felt tired and weary, but six bottles of Electric Bitters restored her health and renewed her strength. Prices 30 cents and $1.00. Get a bottle at A. Wasley's Drug Store.

Manley Doesn't Want Office. AUGUSTA, Me., Nov. 18.—Regarding the mention of his name as a prospective member of President McKinley's cabinet, Hon. Joseph H. Manley says: "I am not only not a candidate for any office, state or national, elective or appointive, of any nature whatsoever, but that I would not accept any office were it tendered me. My business interests demand and must receive my entire attention."

"Excuse me," observed the man in spectacles, "but I am a surgeon, and that is not where the liver is." "Never your mind where his liver is," asserted the other. "If it was in his big toe or his left ear DeWitt's Little Early-Risers would reach it and shake it for him. On that you can bet your gizzards." C. H. Hagenbuch.

To Be Tried by the Twelve Apostles. SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 18.—Hon. Insisted on Hearing Bryan. SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 18.—Hon. William J. Bryan and his distinguished party of hunters from St. Louis arrived here yesterday. The train was met by an enthusiastic crowd, including many railroad shop men, and before the party could make its way up town Mr. Bryan was compelled to make a short speech in response to the demands of the shop men. The party was finally escorted to the hotel by the crowd, which cheered the Seligman's name at every step. From the hotel balcony Mr. Bryan made another short speech. The party left for Chadwell, where they will be conveyed to the game preserves in Taney county.

A New Industry for Cleveland. CLEVELAND, Nov. 18.—The Cleveland Steel company, of this city, owned by the Rockefeller, is erecting a big crucible steel plant, and will manufacture that article on a large scale. It will be the only concern of the kind in this country, as all crucible steel, which is used for the manufacture of cutlery, fine tools, etc., is now imported from Sweden.

Brutally Tortured by Burglars. CLEVELAND, Nov. 18.—Three burglars broke into the house occupied by 72-year-old John Mirka, a miser. Mirka lives alone, and has been credited with having large sums of money secreted in his house. Upon his refusal to tell the burglars where his money was hidden he was bound, gagged and a lamp flame applied to his feet until the flesh was literally cooked. The old man writhed in agony, but protested he had no money. The burglars then applied the flame to the suffering man's hands, and then to his body, until he finally sank into unconsciousness, in which condition he was found by neighbors.

A Confession of Murder. UKIAH, Cal., Nov. 18.—John Dodge and wife, who are under arrest, charged with the assassination of J. A. H. Mudgett, a well to do rancher, whose charred body was found in the ashes of his cabin near Uval three weeks ago, have made a full confession. Dodge claims that Mudgett accused him of stealing hogs, and threatened his life, forcing him to shoot in self defense. Finding he had killed Mudgett, he rushed home and informed his wife, and the two returned and fired the rancher's cabin, hoping to conceal the crime.

WANAMAKER CONSENTS

Enters the Fight for U. S. Senator at Request of Business Men.

THE SENATORIAL CONTEST OPENS.

Communication from the Philadelphia Branch of the National League of Business Men to the Ex-Postmaster General, and the Latter's Reply.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—The Philadelphia branch of the National League of Business Men held another important meeting yesterday, which undoubtedly will lead to developments that will have great influence in the political affairs of the state in the near future. During the campaign which ended in such a pronounced victory for the cause of sound money organizations of business men all over the country gave assistance that undoubtedly had much to do with the sweeping character of the victory. Of these organizations none was more prominent or more vigorous than the McKinley and Hobart business men's national campaign committee of Philadelphia.

One of the great lessons of the campaign was the utility of the business man in political affairs, and the necessity of his continued interest as a balance of power to guard the interests of government, and to insist upon economical and equitable legislation in the interest of all concerned. This led to the formation last week of the National League of Business Men, and when this was done the McKinley and Hobart campaign committee formed itself into a permanent organization, and was enrolled as the Philadelphia branch of the national organization. Yesterday's meeting was the second in its history, which is now so brief, but which was every indication of being long and eventful.

This membership is thoroughly representative of the business interests of this city. Since that first meeting so well have the objects of the organization been received that the membership has increased rapidly, for there seems to be a well defined idea that the influence exerted during the presidential campaign will continue to be felt during the coming administration of Major McKinley. In other words, the old political lines have been broken to a large extent, because Republicans and Democrats stood shoulder to shoulder in the fight for honest money, in the interest of a sound business policy for the nation, and while no one can accurately estimate the influence this National League of Business Men will exert, the fact that it has the sanction of the president-elect and of his advisors is a strong indication that it will have great power.

The most important business of the first meeting, aside from the organization, was the presentation of the name of John Wanamaker as that of a representative business man who would reflect credit on the state as a member of the United States senate. This was followed by more decisive action at the meeting held yesterday. By a unanimous vote it was decided to request Mr. Wanamaker to become a candidate. For some time past there have been newspaper references to Mr. Wanamaker's candidacy, but they have not had any official basis. It was probably the knowledge of this that led to the action taken. The business men showed themselves to be very much in earnest in the matter, and were pointed in their insistence, as the following correspondence, which is itself tells the story of the meeting, will show:

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 16, 1906. Hon. John Wanamaker, Philadelphia, Pa.

DEAR SIR—At a meeting of the executive committee of the Philadelphia branch of the National League of Business Men, held this day, it was, upon motion, decided to inform you of the unanimous adoption of the following preamble and resolutions:

Whereas, The vast business and manufacturing interests of the state of Pennsylvania should be represented in the United States senate by a man of high character, experience and knowledge of public affairs; and

Whereas, The city of Philadelphia, the citadel of Republicanism, is by common consent, entitled to the next United States senatorship; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we present, as a candidate eminently fitted to fill the exalted position of United States senator, the Hon. John Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, ex-postmaster general of the United States.

Resolved, That we use all honorable means to promote his election, and request the business men of Pennsylvania to unite in the effort to have our vast interests placed in charge of a man who will be their true representative.

Resolved, That, as the election will take place within two months, our executive committee be instructed to take charge of this movement and immediately commence with the sending of copies of this resolution to all parts of the state to promote the election of Hon. John Wanamaker as United States senator for the state of Pennsylvania.

It gives us great pleasure to fulfill this duty, and to enclose, at the same time, a copy of the declaration of principles upon which the National League of Business Men is founded.

Hoping to receive an early and favorable reply, and assuring you of our earnest support, we remain,

Very respectfully yours,

Rudolph Blankenburg, chairman, Howard B. French, William Sellers, Justus C. Strawbridge, Thomas Dixon, William T. Tilden, John G. Croton, James Pollock, Charles B. Adams, James Butterworth, John H. Converse, James Deak, Jr., Charles H. Harding, Theodore Justice, Mahlon N. Kline, Frank D. LaLanne, Lucius S. Landreth, Thomas Leaming, Leo Loeb, William H. Lucas, Frank L. New, Frank B. Hoopes and William W. Supple—Executive Committee.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17, 1906. Messrs. Rudolph Blankenburg, chairman, Howard B. French, William Sellers, Justus C. Strawbridge and others, Philadelphia, Pa.:

GENTLEMEN—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your favor of yesterday advising me of the action of the executive committee of the National League of Business Men in naming me as a candidate for the United States senate. Most heartily do I subscribe to the declaration of principles upon which your organization is founded, and in compliance with your request I consent to be a candidate for the high office in question, and submit myself to the favorable consideration of the representatives of the people in the general assembly of this commonwealth.

Very respectfully yours,

JOHN WANAMAKER.

Now that Mr. Wanamaker is formally in the field, the Business Men's League will inaugurate an active campaign in his behalf, supplementing the very thorough and effective work already done throughout the state by the ex-postmaster general's political friends, among whom are some of the shrewdest organizers known to Pennsylvania politics.

The light in the window after midnight but too frequently tells the old, old story of the awful tortures of approaching motherhood for some ill-prepared woman. All too often death lurks on the doorstep. This is a story that would seldom be told if women would but properly prepare themselves for the duties of motherhood. If a woman will take the right care of the organs that make motherhood possible, approaching maternity will have no fears for her. Nature intended that all women should bear children, and did not mean that this duty should be a cruel torture. Woman's own ignorance and neglect have made it so.

All weakness and disease of woman's reproductive organism are cured by Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly upon these organs. It makes them strong and healthy. It prepares them for approaching maternity. It makes the discomforts of the expectant period. It makes baby's coming easy and comparatively painless, and insures the health of the child. All good druggists sell it.

"I have had three miscarriages," writes Mrs. J. L. Shaffer, of Ney, Sully Co., S. Dakota. "Last Spring I received one of your Memorandum Books in which I found your Favorite Prescription recommended to prevent it. I took eleven bottles of it and have a bright boy five months old, which I owe to God and your medicine."

What woman does not wish to make her family cares as light as possible, consistent with her family's well-being? The greatest care of all is the fear of sickness. It is a common saying amongst conscientious mothers: "As long as the children are well, I don't mind anything else." For these mothers Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser would prove "The shadow of a great rock in a weary land." This book of 1,008 pages, profusely illustrated, gives plain talks and kindly sensible medical advice. It is peculiarly valuable for mothers of young daughters. More than a half a million copies of this book have been sold for $1.50 each. Now there is an enormous edition to be given away. Send 21 cent stamps to cover cost of mailing, only for a copy in paper cover. For cloth binding, send 21 cent stamps. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.
