SUPT. BOGART WAS READY.

True Story of the Pittsburg Case Postponement.

THE PROSECUTION NURSED DELAY.

The Superintendent and His Lawyers Persistently Urged the Case on and at the Eleventh Hour the Prosecution's Private Counsel Pleaded Illness.

The representative of the HERALD, accompanied by President Price, of the School Board, arrived home from Pittsburg this morning at 9:14. The other members of their party will arrive here this evening, probably at 9 o'clock, having stopped over at Bradford and Johnstown on their way home. Messrs. Toole, Hanna, Reilly, Higgins and Smith will probably reach home to-morrow. They left Pittsburg last night for Philadelphia and will witness the foot ball game there to-morrow between the Pennsylvania and Harvard teams.

The friends of Prof. Bogart, after persistent efforts to bring the case to trial, were greatly disappointed yesterday morning when the announcement was made in open court at Pittsburg that the case would be carried over until the next term of court, which convenes next month and remains in session probably until February. There has been no definite time fixed, but the District Attorney will probably set a day when the case is to be called after consultation with the counsel on both sides. It is not likely to be called, however, before the first or second week in January.

It might be well to make a correction here that appeared in the dispatch received by the HERALD yesterday, wherein it was stated that the case was postponed because of the illness of the Judge. The error was made in transmission in the telegraph office at Pittsburg, and instead of the Judge being sick, it was the attorney for the prosecution, and for that reason, and that alone, was the case postponed, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding. Every statement made in reference to the trial can be fully substantiated. It was not found necessary to pervert the facts, and no attempt was made to do so.

The reasons for the postponement of the trial were truthfully stated in the dispatch published last night, with the correction above noted. The "doctors'" dispatch published in the Coal Street sheet is only in line with the course pursued by the enemies of Prof. Bogart through all the stages of this unfortunate and totally uncalled for prosecution. The truth has been perverted to gain the desired end, but up to the present time unsuccessfully so. The publication of the dispatch in question is only additional evidence of the kind of warfare that has been made against the Superintendent.

The true facts of the postponement can be briefly stated as follows: The case was set for Tuesday morning, at which time the District Attorney assured the counsel for the defense that it would be the first called that morning. Instead, however, it was carried over until Wednesday afternoon without any definite time for the trial being given, notwithstanding the persistent efforts of the counsel for Prof. Bogart in urging the court to proceed. Wednesday afternoon District Attorney Haymaker informed the counsel on both sides that the case would positively be called Thursday morning, and that a full panel would be given from which to select the jury. This announcement was received with much satisfaction by Prof. Bogart and his friends, and they appeared at court next morning promptly on time ready and anxious for trial. This statement is made in contradiction to the "doctors'" dispatch published to the effect that Bogart resorted to technicalities and did not want the trial to proceed. The dispatch in question contains not one truthful statement, outside of the single announcement that the case was postponed. The Coal Street sheet, as is customary, has carelessly deceived its readers.

On Tuesday Lawyer Hunter, in behalf of the defense, made a demand for a full panel, for reasons no doubt well known to the other side. Wednesday afternoon the District Attorney made the announcement that the case would be called Thursday morning, and a full panel would be ready. This was satisfactory to the defense, but subsequent events showed it was not agreeable to the other side, who clearly showed the white feather on Thursday morning, when their lawyer, John Marron, Esq., stated in open court that he was sick and could not go on with the case at that time and did not know when he would be able to proceed. He also stated that if the court insisted upon the trial proceeding he would endeavor to procure another attorney to take his place. These familiar with legal practices knew well what that means, and the District Attorney, in view of the statement of the private counsel for the prosecution, announced that the case would go over until the next term of court.

have accepted the statements of "Me Too" Smith will realize this when the case comes to trial, if they ever allow it to reach that stage. However, the goose that laid the golden egg may be killed before many days pass by.

Prof. Bogart will probably be home to-morrow or the following day. He and his wife were persuaded by their friends at Knoxville to remain over. They both met with a hearty reception at the hands of the people of Knoxville, who firmly believe him innocent of the charges. He will "come back to Shenandoah" without any ifs or buts.

Hazing Students Suspended.
EASTON, Pa., Nov. 20.—The faculty of Lafayette college suspended a number of members of the sophomore class for hazing Henry M. Payne, of South Hill, L. I., also a member of the sophomore class. Those suspended are: Guy Soward of East Southfield, Pa.; Robert L. Shepard of Middletown, N. Y.; George A. Spauler of Philadelphia; Fred O. Bunnell of Honesdale, Pa., and John F. Vallesco of New York city. During the hazing Payne had his whiskers cut off. As a result of the suspensions a number of the students drummed Payne out of town.

Bound and Gagged by Robbers.
WILLIAMSBURG, Pa., Nov. 20.—Nelson Peterson, an old man, living alone in the country near Mt. Jewett, was the victim of a brutal assault by masked robbers Wednesday night. They seized the old man, bound him hand and foot, and then attempted to make him reveal the hiding place of $200 which he was supposed to have about the house. Peterson refused to disclose where the money was, whereupon the thieves threatened to shoot and burn him. Still the old man remained firm, and the intruders, after further abusing him, placed a gag in his mouth and carried him to the attic. He was found there yesterday by a relative, and was in a very weak condition.

Killed His Hunting Companion.
LANCASTER, Pa., Nov. 20.—James Landis, foreman of the tobacco warehouses of H. M. Graybill, at Petersburg, was accidentally killed. He and Adam Zerphy, a neighbor, left their homes on a gunning trip. After going a short distance they separated, and a few minutes later Zerphy saw a rabbit running across the field, and he shot at it. Landis was struck by the shot in the head, and was instantly killed. The upper part of his head was shot off. Zerphy surrendered to the authorities.

DYNAMITE FOR GEN. WEYLER

But It Failed to Affect the Spanish Commander in Cuba.

A NUMBER OF PERSONS WOUNDED

A Train on Which the Captain General Was Supposed to be Traveling Was Blown Up, But the Commander Happened to be Elsewhere.

HAVANA, Nov. 20.—A railroad train was blown up on Wednesday between Punta Brava and Candelaria, in Pinar del Rio. Captain General Weyler was at Candelaria for a short time Wednesday, and it is believed the authors of the explosion supposed the captain general to be on the train which was blown up, but he had left Candelaria several hours before the explosion. The damage to the train was occasioned by the simultaneous explosion of three dynamite bombs, and was accompanied by a terrific detonation. The engine and several cars were derailed and a tremendous column of smoke and dust was raised.

Immediately upon the explosion of the bombs there were several discharges of rifle shots. The engineer, fireman and conductor of the train, six soldiers and several passengers were wounded. The wounded passengers were placed on a relief train and taken back to Candelaria. The train for San Cristobal stopped over night at Managua, and the lines being interrupted returned to Candelaria.

The news of the explosion caused considerable excitement in Havana, as it was known that Captain General Weyler was in that neighborhood and the railroad line was being used for the transportation of troops.

The insurgents have also blown up a culvert on the railroad near Artemisa with dynamite.

Major Sandoval, who was carrying mail from Havana for Captain General Weyler, has arrived safely at Candelaria, in spite of the interruption in communication.

Antonio Reguera, a Cienfuegos planter, who was detected in an attempt to join Maximo Gomez, has died of consumption in prison at Ceuta, Africa, where he was sent on a life sentence.

The official correspondence sent to Madrid yesterday reads as follows: "The revolutionary centers of activity in Pinar del Rio are between Candelaria, Mariel and Bahía Honda. General Weyler is advancing steadily in the hills of that province. A number of prisoners have been taken. They were in a destitute condition. Maceo continues to retreat. He refuses all opportunities to battle."

The press censor has refused to allow any messages to be sent from this city, and unless he relents all news must go via Key West hereafter.

That General Weyler has been asked to resign because of an open rupture with the home government is a positive fact. It is thought that General Pando will succeed him. Weyler has sent word to the palace that he will return at once.

The Hired Witnesses Against Sones.

New York, Nov. 20.—John Duemer, of Philadelphia, fireman on board the steamer Laurada, and Martin Kasperat, a sailor of the same vessel, were witnesses in the United States district court yesterday against Emilio Sones and Captain Charles B. Dickman, accused of engaging in a hostile expedition against the Spanish government in Cuba. The men testified to witnessing the drilling of men on board the Laurada during the voyage to the coast of Cuba. Both admitted on cross-examination that they were and had been for some time past receiving $17 a week from sources in Philadelphia, which they could or would not indicate, for which no service was rendered.

To Contest Kentucky's Election.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 20.—Secretary Gus Richardson, of the state Democratic committee, announces that his party has definitely decided to contest the election of the eleven McKinley electors in Kentucky. The Democrats opposed the election of the foremost McKinley elector, S. H. Kash, who ran 24 votes ahead of W. H. Smith, the leading Bryan elector, who in turn ran ahead of his associates by over 2,000 votes, the other eleven McKinley electors receiving a greater number of votes than the other Bryan electors. The grounds of contest are given as irregularity and fraud in a large number of counties.

Baltimore's Mayor Wins.

ANNAPOLIS, Nov. 21.—The big political fight between the straightened Republicans and the independent Republican mayor of Baltimore, which has been in the courts for nearly a year, was decided by the court of appeals yesterday morning. The decision of the lower court is reversed, and Mayor Hooper wins an every anticipated point. The effect of the decision is to nullify the action of the Baltimore city council in taking from the mayor his appointing power and giving it the city council.

Expelled from the Mormon Church.
SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 20.—Apostle Moses Thatcher has been declared "contumacious," and dropped from the rolls of the Mormon church. Yesterday was the day fixed by the church authorities for the trial of Mr. Thatcher for his failure to take counsel before taking part in political matters a year ago when he was a candidate for United States senator. Thatcher failed to appear. He is still a candidate for the senate.
