TO STAND TRIAL FOR MURDER.

Charles O. Kaiser Will Face a Jury on Dec. 7 Next.

NEW BRIDGE, Pa., Nov. 21.—Charles O. Kaiser has been held to answer for the murder of his wife, Emma P. Kaiser, who was shot and instantly killed on a lonely road near Bridgeport on the night of Oct. 25.

The verdict rendered by the jury last evening holds him responsible for her death, and adds that he was aided by unknown persons in a scheme to defraud insurance companies. Kaiser was committed to prison, and Dec. 7 has been fixed for his trial.

When the murder was committed the couple were driving home from Gulf Mills, a village near Bridgeport, where they had been delivering crayon portraits from their store in this city.

Subsequent developments proved that the woman's life had recently been insured in a number of companies for her husband's benefit for an aggregate sum of $10,000 and that the couple had not lived happily together.

The evidence adduced forms a strong circumstantial chain around Kaiser. It is said that, while denying his own guilt, Kaiser has admitted to detectives that he knows the murderer, but will not reveal his identity.

AN IMPORTANT MINE RULE.

Division Superintendent Scott Has Ordered Several Removals.

A STEP TO PROMOTE SAFEGUARDS.

Men Who Cannot Understand and Speak the English Language Cannot Hold Responsible Mine Positions—What Mine Inspector Stein Thinks.

No little interest has been aroused in this district by the announcement that Division Superintendent George Scott, of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Company, has given orders for the discharge of sixteen Hungarians, Poles and Lithuanians who are now engaged as firemen and helpers in the boiler houses of collieries in the vicinity of Mahanoy Plains.

It appears that the action taken by Superintendent Scott is not based upon any prejudice against nationality, but is taken purely as a safeguard against accident.

The instructions given them and disaster frequently follow.

It is said the system of reform will not be restricted to boiler houses, but will be carried to the breakers, big houses, scraper lines, shafts, slopes and planes and all other places where machinery is involved and wherever men are found who are in positions which require them to have a hand in the operation of machinery and they are only able to receive instructions by signs, or through interpreters.

Upon being interviewed by a reporter on the subject to-day Mine Inspector William Stein said: "It has been my experience throughout my inspection district that many foreigners have been killed and maimed on account of being ignorant of the dangers that present themselves, in not being able to fully understand how boilers ought to be treated."

The following program will be rendered at a meeting of the "V" this evening: Singing; prayer; scriptures reading, Miss West; reading, Charles Balfour; "Mrs. Gamble's Lecture on 'Spring Clothing'"; Miss Elizabeth M. Heubner; recitation, Miss Lily Bevan; concert solo, Miss Sallie Rothall.
