There are bandits nowadays as well as in the days of old. Business men have to meet what are known as business-bandits. They may not commit violence with knife and pistol, but they resort to all manner of dishonest business methods, and the honest business man must be brave, strong and steady if he would meet and overcome them. The modern business man needs above all other qualifications—good health. Without good health, he may be naturally shrewd, bright and capable, but he will eventually fail. It takes a keen brain and steady nerves to be successful. Impure blood will befog the brightest brain and shake the steadiest nerves.

The greatest known blood-maker and purifier is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It corrects all disorders of the digestion, tones the liver, makes the appetite keen and assimilation perfect. Consequently the blood is plentifully supplied with the elements of nutrition and the body is properly nourished. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption. All good druggists sell it.

H. Gaddis, Esq., of No. 313 S. J. Street, Tacoma, Washington, writes: "I was taken ill in February, 1892, with headache and pain in my back. I called in a doctor and he came three times. He said I was bilious, but I kept getting worse. I took a cough so that I could only sleep when propped up in bed. My lungs hurt me and I got so poor that I was just skin and bone. I thought I was going to die. I tried a bottle of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it did me so much good that I tried another one and it made me strong and well. It saved my life."

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser. A large book of 1,008 pages over 300 illustrations. Every woman should have it. It is full of the information that women should possess. The best medical book ever published. It saves doctor's bills, worry of mind, and, more than all, days, weeks and months of sickness in every household where it finds a place. Whoever wants a copy of this book in strong paper covers may obtain it absolutely FREE by sending 21 one-cent stamps—to pay merely the cost of mailing—to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y. If a binding of cloth is preferred, send 10 cents extra—31 cents in all.

WORST CASE KNOWN!

Dr. G. F. Theel.

George A. L. Connels says under oath (sworn testimonial at Dr. Theel's office): My father suffered from blood poison twenty five years ago; was treated by his family physician and pronounced cured, but the truth is the disease was only suppressed. He married. I was the only living child; looked healthy, but bad company led me to youthful folly. Self-Abuse. When 18 years old I suffered from this evil; was afraid to tell father the "truth." I saved a few dollars and was treated by various cheap advertising specialists without success. In my 20th year I broke out with boils all over my body and neck. Four specialists told father it was scrofula in its worst form and no cure possible. The disease became worse; I was a sight to behold. Five of the best-so-called cream of the medical profession, and two hospital physicians told my father no cure in this world possible. Heart-broken dad confessed to me his sins. I told him to write to a schoolmate of mine in Pottstown to come and see me. When he came and heard my story, he said: "Fools, living here in your city you have the greatest of all specialists, cures the worst cases heard of, as I know he cured Ed. Sheets, of Pottstown, of blood poison, after all others failed, and he cured William Cole, of Reading, of the worst case of debility ever heard of. He cured Mrs. Van Griefel, of Hazleton, of a most horrible case of blood poisoning after suffering 14 years. She had 52 ulcers and was a mass of sores. On these cases papers reported free of charge. I know these three parties and know their sworn testimonials are no lies." I dressed and was driven to Dr. Theel's office, then on Fourth street, and submitted to a thorough examination. He said it was a very bad case, but I have hope. Dr. Theel's examination and treatment were different from all others. He can cure the worst cases. If you doubt it send such a case to him and he will cure it. I am to-day a strong and healthy young man. Go sufferers, lay aside all your prejudices against advertising physicians. You can rest assured that Old Dr. Theel is all that he claims to be—the best of all. Had I a thousand tongues they should be employed in singing the praises of Dr. G. F. Theel. Office hours: 9 to 3; Evgs., 6 to 9; Wed. and Sat. Evgs., 4 to 10; Sun., 9 to 12. Send five 2c. stamps for book "Truth." Best of all for young and old, single or married. The only book describing truthfully errors of youth and all diseases of men and women and Exposing Quacks. No name or address published without consent of party. Strictest secrecy guaranteed to all.

G. A. L. Connels.

REMEMBER, As all natures are different, all diseases and effects of self-abuse and excesses in married life affect each one differently, and that there is no such thing as a specific, compounds, patent medicines or discoveries to cure all such diseases. Each case must be examined and studied separately and treated according to the nature and progress of the disease. When writing please mention this paper.

NEWSPAPERS

Of Pennsylvania on the United States Senatorship, Senators and People.

From the Scranton Truth.

This journal has, for a number of years, been steadfast in its advocacy of the American idea that United States senators should be chosen by direct vote of the people. We believe the present system of choosing senators is un-American, antiquated and at variance with our form of government, as well as with the spirit of our institutions.

More than this, it affords opportunity for barter where there should be none, and is a temptation to the unscrupulous millionaire and the venal legislator.

Nothing tends so much to strengthen the foundations upon which our government rests as the certain knowledge that in all political action the will of the people prevails, and, so far as the United States senate is concerned, this has not been true of it for many a day. It was the theory of the most conservative among the framers of our organic law that the perpetuity of the nation would be best promoted by diminishing the popular voice in so far as the selection of the most important officials was concerned; and so our cumbersome system of electing United States senators came to pass, with the result that the senate, which used to be known as "the most dignified deliberative body in the world," is far removed from popular influence and affected but little by public opinion.

The result has not always been satisfactory. Instead of the dignified, conservative, deliberative body contemplated in the beginning the United States senate has for years been the nest in which various dangerous theories have been hatched. Men who shamelessly bought their way into the United States senate have used their places to promote various schemes of their own when they were supposed to be serving the country. The silver business, of which the country has recently heard something, had its beginning in the United States senate, not as a theory concerning which serious men, anxious to serve the public, had profound convictions, but as a sordid scheme evolved in the minds of senators who had bought their seats and who wanted to use their votes to increase the value of their silver mines.

Every one, in any way familiar with the history of the senate, knows this to be true. The fact was notorious before the recent campaign gave it the semblance of respectability as a national issue; but neither the campaign nor its result can alter the genesis of the silver scheme, nor can the fact be denied that its concoctors were United States senators who bought their way into the senate.

Is the country content with that sort of service all the time? Are the people to see the seats in the senate sold to millionaires without entering a protest? Must we have a Wanamaker as senator because of his wealth? Does the highest qualification for the senatorship dwell in the pocket of the candidate? These are timely questions, now, in view of recent events.

If we are to make this government strong, enduring, imperishable in the fortress of its greatest power, namely in the hearts of the people, we must take leave of some of the old methods in politics.

To assume a civic virtue and cultivate a crime beneath will not suffice. We want neither anarchy nor despotism in this country, and we can avoid them best by seeing to it that the will of the people prevails in the choice of presidents and senators and public officials generally, and that the size of a man's bank account is not his highest recommendation for a great office.

The reproach which has long clung to Pennsylvania with regard to its senatorial "dynasty" should not be perpetuated. We want no "bargain counter" senator from the Keystone state, and we do not say this in the sense of reflecting on Mr. Wanamaker's business, but as a protest against the application of the "bargain counter" idea to the senatorship; as a protest against the carrying out of an idea now uppermost in the mind of every intelligent Pennsylvanian, and uppermost in other minds, to wit, that the election of the Philadelphia merchant would be strong presumptive evidence that he had purchased his seat in the senate as a bargain.

The Truth has no personal feeling against Mr. Wanamaker. It simply meets his declared candidacy for the senatorship with what its conceptions of right and duty are at this time, and it has no hesitation whatever in saying that it believes he is the right man not to elect.

Penrose for Senator.

From the Philadelphia Dispatch.

If the business men, professional men, workingmen, aye, newspaper men, of this state were permitted to express their choice for United States senator between State Senator Boies Penrose and John Wanamaker through the medium of the ballot, the former would be overwhelmingly chosen, and there is not a member of the state senate or legislature that does not know that such is the sentiment existing among their respective constituency. Consequently any member having a vote for United States senator that will go contrary to this feeling and give support to the movement in the interest of Wanamaker will misrepresent his constituency and give color to the suspicion that he is in Harrisburg to represent his own interests instead of those of the people. The censorship of the public press should not be tolerated by the people of Pennsylvania, and no foreign potentate ever exercised such a power more manifestly than the managers of the Wanamaker candidacy are doing for his canvass for United States senator.

In Philadelphia, where the great dailies have been effusive in their eulogies for Penrose and lauding him as the most capable and deserving candidate for United States senator for over a year, are now completely muzzled, since Wanamaker's candidacy has been formally launched, and this is due to no other cause than the censorship which his managers exercise over their advertising columns. During the twelve years that Boies Penrose has occupied a seat in the state legislature he has been distinguished for the superior order of his statesmanship, and looked upon as an ideal legislator. He represents in the community every quality that constitutes a wise, public spirited and honorable public man. He has not only been identified, but has been the most effective champion of every popular reform measure that has passed through the legislature since 1884. He possesses to a marked degree every qualification necessary to make an able representative in the United States senate, possessing firmness of character, experience as a legislator, remarkable ability as a parliamentarian, progressiveness and a thorough knowledge upon public affairs. He is unquestionably the man for the honor, and the choice of the people, and members of the legislature will be wise to realize this fact and act accordingly.

Big Execution Against Baldwin.

TRENTON, Dec. 5.—Execution was issued yesterday in the United States court against Oscar L. Baldwin for $2,302,974.43 on a judgment note held by Frederick Frelinghuysen. The note was obtained by Mr. Frelinghuysen in 1886, when he was made receiver of the Mechanics' National bank at Newark, which institution was wrecked by Baldwin. The collapse of the institution was brought about through Baldwin loaning its funds. Baldwin was arrested and sentenced to ten years in the New Jersey state prison. He was released after serving about one half of his sentence. The present execution was issued in the belief that Baldwin is about to come into possession of an immense fortune, which is said to have been left him by an English relative.

Went to New York to "Do Some Forging."

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Chief of Police Murphy, of Bay City, Mich., has arrived here to take charge of the young forger, Richard Grant Monks, who is to be taken to Michigan. Chief Murphy says Monks and his brother William, aged 16, are both "degenerates." William was arrested on Saturday at the Parker hotel, Chicago. "Richard Monks," said Chief Murphy, "swindled every one, friend and foe alike. Among his victims was F. E. Bradley, of Bay City, who had been his bondsman when the young man was arrested charged with murdering his father." Chief Murphy has a letter written by Richard to his brother in which he said he was going to New York "to do some forging," and expected to make $5,000 at least out of it."

Osgood's Death Confirmed.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—The correspondent of The Herald confirms the death of Major Osgood, the football player, once a student at the University of Pennsylvania. On the second day of the siege of Guaimora, as Major Osgood, under heavy fire from the Spaniards, was training one of his pieces on the fort, a Mauser bullet struck him on the forehead. He uttered the word "Well!" and, bending forward on his cannon, hugged it and breathed his last in behalf of Cuban liberty. The news of his death greatly impressed President Cisneros and the commanding officers, all of whom had great regard for the American officer.

Fiendish Murderer Hanged.

MCLEANSBORO, Ills., Dec. 5.—Fred Behme, who killed his wife and baby boy on Easter Sunday last, was hanged yesterday. The crime for which Behme died was the most fiendish ever committed in southern Illinois. After braining his wife with an ax he then took his 3 year-old child to the barn, put a halter around his neck and hanged him to a rafter. The weight of the child being insufficient to strangle it the murderer pushed the boy by the shoulders until the child's tongue protruded from the mouth and the eyes were forced from their sockets.

The wife of Mr. D. Robinson, a prominent lumberman of Hartwick, N. Y., was sick with rheumatism for five months. In speaking of it, Mr. Robinson says: "Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the only thing that gave her any rest from pain. For the relief of pain it cannot be beat." Many very bad cases of rheumatism have been cured by it. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by Gruhler Bros., druggists.

Tours to California.

California has been most fittingly termed the "Italy of America." All the delicious balm, the cloudless sky, and the rich verdure of the great European peninsula are duplicated in this sunny land of the Pacific. Here nature basks in the sunshine of her own beauty; and here she has established her own sanitarium, where eternal spring inspires everlasting youth. With the snow-mantled peaks of the Sierras upon the one hand, the calm Pacific with its soft breezes upon the other, and a veritable paradise of flowers, fruits and plants between, man can find and needs no lovelier land. To visit such a country is a privilege, a blessing.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company, recognizing the need of a more comfortable and pleasant way of crossing the continent, inaugurated a series of annual tours to California, running a through train of Pullman palace cars from New York to the Pacific Coast, and stopping at the principal points of interest en route. The great popularity of these tours demonstrates the wisdom of the movement.

For the season of 1897 three tours have been arranged to leave New York, Philadelphia, and Pittsburg, January 27, February 24, and March 27.

The first tour will run direct to San Diego via St. Louis and the Santa Fe Route, and return from San Francisco via Salt Lake City, Denver, and Chicago, allowing five weeks in California.

The second tour will run via the Mammoth Cave and New Orleans to San Diego, stopping at the "Crescent City" during the Mardi Gras Carnival. This tour will return via Salt Lake City, Denver, Omaha, and Chicago, allowing four weeks in California.

The third tour will run via Chicago, Denver, and Salt Lake City, allowing passengers to return by regular trains via different routes within nine months.

All of these tours, either going or returning, will pass through the famous Colorado region, Glenwood Springs, Leadville and the Garden of the Gods.

Rates from all points on the Pennsylvania Railroad System east of Pittsburg: First tour, $310; second tour, $350; third tour, $210 round trip, and $150 one way.

For detailed itineraries and other information, apply at ticket agencies, special booking offices, or address George W. Boyd, Assistant General Passenger Agent, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia.

Major C. T. Picton is manager of the State Hotel, at Denison, Texas, which the traveling men say is one of the best hotels in that section. In speaking of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Major Picton says: "I have used it myself and in my family for several years, and take pleasure in saying that I consider it an infallible cure for diarrhoea and dysentery. I always recommend it, and have frequently administered it to my guests in the hotel, and in every case it has proven itself worthy of unqualified endorsement. For sale by Gruhler Bros., druggists.

Died at an Initiation.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 5.—Charles Wetter, of Winthrop, Minn., while undergoing the ceremony of initiation into the mystic shrine at Masonic Temple fell dead. The services were abruptly terminated, and four physicians, including the coroner, were summoned. They decided that death was due to valvular disease of the heart. He was 40 years of age and proprietor of a hotel at Winthrop.

Death of Manager Aronson.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Albert Aaronson, the theatrical manager, died yesterday at his residence in this city. He was one of the Aaronson brothers, under whose management the Casino theater, in this city, achieved its greatest success. Mr. Aaronson had been suffering from lumbago for the last six weeks, but persisted in attending to the business of the Bijou theater.

Accused Legislator Acquitted.

ALBANY, Dec. 5.—Assemblyman Eugene F. Vacheron was last night acquitted of accepting a bribe. George N. Best, who swore he paid $5,000 to an assemblyman in 1895 for the purpose of having the "ice cutting bill" killed, declared that he could not identify the man to whom he paid the money. This knocked the bottom out of the prosecution's case.

Dr. Laflin Charges Conspiracy.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Dr. J. C. Laflin, who was removed from his home to Bellevue hospital some days ago and placed in the insane pavilion for observation, was discharged from that institution. Dr. Laflin said that his commitment was the result of a conspiracy. He emphatically denied the report that he had talked of his wife.

THE PUBLIC DOMAIN.

Secretary Francis' Report Shows How It Is Decreasing.

THE INCREASE OF PENSIONERS.

The Number on the Pension Rolls Greater Than Ever Before, Owing to the Dependent Pension Bill—The Government and the Pacific Railroads.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The annual report of Secretary of the Interior Francis was made public yesterday. It deals with all the affairs of the various branches of the interior department during the past year, and makes a number of important recommendations. It proposes a solution of the vexed problem of the bond aided roads, deals exhaustively with the pension administration, reviews the progress of the Dawes commission negotiations and touches upon various matters of especial significance in the west.

The report shows that the total number of acres of the public domain disposed of up to June 30 last was 946,000,000, leaving public domains still vacant estimated at over 500,000,000 acres, not including the district of Alaska, with an area of over 999,000,000 acres. Since the homestead act was passed May 20, 1862, there have been 162,892,132 acres entered by homestead settlers. Of this almost 103,000,000 acres will all be patented when the legal conditions have been met.

The patents to railroads and wagon roads since the first grant was made reach 85,729,751 acres. There have also been 355,659,572 acres disposed of by pre-emption cash sales, script locations, etc.

There are yet due to railroads and wagon roads under their grants 114,738,639 acres, of which not more than 60 per cent are available for patenting under the conditions of the grants. The total grants of lands to the various states and territories up to March 12 last aggregated 181,868,639 acres, in addition to agricultural college scrip for 7,830,000 acres. The total of all lands segregated from public domain aggregated 946,219,160 acres.

The secretary says if the rate of disposition of the last thirteen years, which is 25,000,000 a year, is continued for thirteen years to come there will be little of the public domain outside of Alaska in possession of the government at the expiration of that time.

The report says no permit to cut timber on public land should be granted for any purpose other than to supply the needs of actual settlers in the neighborhood of the forests where timber is to be cut, and should be accompanied by all possible safeguards.

Secretary Francis urges upon congress the necessity for legislation for the reclamation and disposal of lands within the arid regions.

The total amount paid by the government in pensions and the cost of disbursing the same for the last thirty-one years is $2,034,817,769. This lacks only a little over $356,712,500 of being equal to the high water mark of the interest bearing public debt. The present number of pensioners, which is 970,678, is greater by 4,696 than in 1893, and is greater than ever before. This is due to the death of old soldiers and the continued payment of allowances to their heirs, while the amount paid is decreased through the death of invalid pensioners leaving no dependents.

With regard to the dispute over the Uncompahgre Indian reservation, in Utah, in which valuable deposits of asphaltum have been discovered, Secretary Francis expresses the opinion that the commission which treated with the Indians for the allotment of their lands totally misunderstood the agreement of 1880, by which the Uncompahgres were removed from Colorado. The Indians declined to pay $1.25 an acre for the lands allotted to them because they believed it would come out of their trust fund.

The secretary recommends the appointment of another commission, which can explain to the Indians that the allotted lands can be paid for without depleting their trust fund, and that it have authority to sell or lease the remainder of the lands or negotiate with responsible parties for the working of the deposits in order that the government may be fairly compensated, and to the end that the public may enjoy the benefit of a highly useful gift to nature.

The secretary says he has requested an opinion from the secretary of the treasury as to whether the Central Pacific is in default (the road's representatives claiming it is not), and of the attorney general as to whether, if in default, he is authorized to patent lands granted to bond aided railroads, even when the lands have been sold to bonafide purchasers. It will be noticed here that the secretary, by implication, questions the authority of the concurrent resolution of congress of June 15 last, directing him to continue the issue of patents to bonafide purchasers of lands sold by bond aided railroads.

Regarding the government's claim against bond aided railroads the secretary says: "In my judgment it is much better for the government to accept a lump sum in cash for its claim against these roads, if, by doing so, that claim can be settled and the connection between the government and the only roads it has ever aided by direct subsidy be officially severed."

Bayard Thinks Arbitration Assured.
