

AN OLD ACCIDENT RECALLED.

Township Cases in the Superior Court on Monday.

Interest is manifested in the cases of Cuff and Martin Dixon against the township of Butler, which will come up in the Superior Court at Philadelphia today. The township has appealed judgments for damages rendered in the Common Pleas of this county and suits are pending for the same action, but by other parties who have suffered in the same accident. Suits have been pending since 1888. In April, 1888, Cuff secured a verdict of $983.81. It is upon these facts that the appeals hinge. M. M. J. W. Byon and James B. Kelly, represent Cuff and Dixon; S. H. Marr and W. A. Marr, Esq., appear for the township.

Acts are that on the 8th day of August, a party who had been attending a party at Girardville, started in three double sleighs about the middle of the day, to their homes at Lost Creek. On the west of the closed double carriage in the driver, William Reddy, and Dixon, and inside were Sarah Dixon, Mary Dixon, Honora Dixon, Jane Dixon, and infant son, respectively, said Dixon, (the wife, father, aunt, and infant son, respectively, of said Dixon,) and Mary Cuff, the wife of Cuff. About three-quarters of a mile from the borough of Girardville, the public highway from Girardville to Lost Creek, a branch of the Philadelphia and Pottsville Railroad, near the old Connor colliery crossing is known as the "Connor crossing." When the party were about to cross the railroad crossing some boys were standing on the breaker trestling a crossing, called their attention to a coal car, pushed by an engine, coming from the west. Immediately the sleighs became restive, and the driver, Martin Dixon, who had been sitting in the front of the driver, seized the reins and tried to aid in controlling them. The sleighs were in the middle of the road, dashed in a train, then passing over the crossing were caught by the passing cars, a short distance to the right or left of the carriage and its occupants, but where the track of the sleighs passed within three or four feet of the support of a culm bank, and the sleighs being broken to pieces, those were either instantly killed, or so injured that they died in a short time. Dixon jumped from the carriage in a collision, and escaped injury. The sleighs in dispute in the case are first, in Dixon, one of the plaintiffs, and second, in charge of the carriage, contributing negligence? Second, under the facts of the case it was the duty of the municipal authorities to put an overhead bridge over the cross-

PAIN'S CELERY COMPOUND.

The Best Remedy in the World—It Makes People Well.

There is one true specific for diseases arising from impure blood and a debilitated nervous system, and that is Paine's celery compound, so generally prescribed by physicians. It is probably the most remarkable remedy that the scientific research of this country has produced. Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college, first prescribed what is now known the world over as Paine's celery compound, a positive cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, liver complaint, neuralgia, rheumatism, all nervous diseases and kidney troubles. For the latter Paine's celery compound has succeeded again and again where everything else has failed.

PERSONAL.

Councilman Hand has been confined to the house the past several days through illness.

William E. James, one of Shenandoah's efficient school teachers, left to-day for Philadelphia, where he will undergo another operation.

Mrs. Thomas Downs, of Lansford, is the guest of Chief of Police Tash and family.

Mrs. Hugh Baird, of Brownsville, accompanied by her husband, returned home from Philadelphia last evening, where the former underwent an operation which has greatly benefited her.

Mrs. Thomas Sweeney, Mrs. D. J. Connors and Mrs. Lawrence O'Boyle, of Mahanoy Plains, attended the funeral of Mrs. Martin Mullahey, this morning.

Mrs. Jacob Noll, Sr., and Mrs. Kate Boehm were spending the day among Pottsville acquaintances.

Mrs. Matilda Tempest, of East Coal street, went to Philadelphia this morning to visit a grandchild who is ill.

Miss Maggie Brennan, of South Main street, is spending a few days in Minersville, as the guest of the Misses Bender, on Sunbury street.

William Jefferson visited the county seat to-day in the interest of his pension, which was recently granted him.

Miss Jessie Grant, of West Oak street, has gone to New York to spend several weeks.

Services of Special Interest.

Services of special interest in the M. E. church to-morrow. In the morning the sacrament of the Lord's Supper and Baptism. In the evening the pastor will make a spiritual application of an attractive advertisement, "Rooms to let with Power." A cordial invitation to all who care to worship with us. Seats are free. The ushers are obliging.

Severe Storms Predicted.

In this month of December Prof. Coles, the Kingston weather prophet, who is nearly always right, says we may expect hurricanes, blizzards, earthquakes, cyclones, floods, tornadoes, tidal waves, and great electrical storms in many sections of the country.

Titular Bishop.

Rev. Edward F. Prendergast, vicar general of the Archdiocese of Philadelphia, has been made titular bishop of Sicily and will be auxiliary to Archbishop Ryan. The latter's duties have grown so onerous that he was obliged to ask for an auxiliary and in Father Prendergast he will have an able one. Father Prendergast celebrated his silver jubilee in November, 1890, and he is one of the most learned and most popular clergymen in the diocese.

Died in Philadelphia.

A telegram was received in town at noon to-day announcing the death of a four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James O'Brien, of Philadelphia, former residents of town. The child was a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Connors, of East Centre street.

Will Sell Its Carriage.

FITZSIMMONS AND SHARKEY.

The Bank Again Refuses to Pay Over the $10,000 Prize.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—Thomas Sharkey, who was knocked out by Fitzsimmons on Wednesday night, is still in bed, watched over by three physicians. They say he is improving, but that it will be at least a week before he recovers from the effects of the injury he says he received from Fitzsimmons in the eighth round. At least two of the physicians who have examined Sharkey since the fight do not believe his injury was received from Fitzsimmons, or that it was caused by a blow at all, but the generally accepted belief now is that he was accidentally fouled by Fitzsimmons.

J. L. Lynch, Sharkey's backer, made another attempt to have his certificate of deposit for $10,000 cashed by the Anglo-California bank yesterday. The bank manager told Lynch of the superior court injunction, restraining the bank from cashing the certificate pending the effort of Fitzsimmons to "prove fraud and conspiracy," and declined to pay the money. Lynch threatened to bring suit.

Sharkey has ten days in which to answer the complaint filed by Fitzsimmons, and it is not expected that the legal fight will be hurried. Fitzsimmons is taking matters quietly, and is making engagements for his appearance at various places of entertainment in this city and vicinity.

The pool rooms and bookmakers decided to cash the bets yesterday, and holders of wagers on Sharkey were made happy.

A sensational story is being told in sporting circles concerning an alleged telegram sent east, it is said, by Danny Needham, advising the placing of large amounts on Sharkey, with an intimation that the tip was valuable.
